NOTIFICATION

Subject: Submission of rent demand statements

No. T.M./626.—17th July 1957.—In terms of the instructions issued by the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, New Delhi, the Central Public Work Divisional/Estate Officers are required to issue the rent demand statements (in form 48 of the C. P. W. A. Code) in triplicate in all cases, that is in the case of both gazetted and non-gazetted Central Government servants. Two copies of such demand statements are required to be attached with the pay/establishment bills by the Treasury Officers/other Disbursing Officers the third copy being returned by them to the Divisional/Estate Officer concerned after recording thereon a certificate to the effect that recovery has been made and the emoluments are correct. Under this arrangement two copies of the rent demand statements in respect of the Central Government servants under the audit control of this office are required to be attached with the pay/esablishment bills, so that one copy thereof with the requisite certificate recorded thereon may be passed on by this office to the Audit Officer of the Divisional/State Officers, viz., the Accountant-General, Central Revenues. It has, however, been noticed that only one copy (instead of two) of the rent demand statements is received in this office at present.

2. All Disbursing Officers of the Central Government under the audit control of this office and all Treasury Officers in West Bengal are, therefore, requested to ensure that two copies of the rent demand statements are invariably sent to this office along with the relevant bills in future.

3. The gazetted Central Government servants drawing pay from this office are also requested to attach all the three copies of the rent demand statements (received by them from the Divisional/Estate Officers) with their pay bills submitted to this office for payment.

AWARD

This reference made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under order No. 5306-I.R./D/4L-44/56, dated 12th December, 1956, relates to the discharge of Shri Kushal Singh, a Salesman of Messrs. Walford Transport Ltd.

The issue as contained in the schedule to the order of reference is as follows:—

Whether the discharge of Shri Kushal Singh was justified? To what relief is he entitled?

The contention of the Union is that Shri Kushal Singh was discharged with effect from 1st February 1956 because of his Union activities. The said discharge is an instance of unfair labour practice. It was made in violation of the principles of natural justice. So reinstatement with back wages or in the alternative, compensation with retrenchment relief has been claimed.

In reply, the Company stated that Shri Kushal Singh had to be discharged as it was found uneconomical to keep him in service. It was noticed for some time past that the volume of sales introduced by him fell far below the standard. He was warned to improve his sale standard. But the warning had no effect. So another notice was given to him thereafter drawing his attention in this respect. Yet he did not and could not improve his sale performance. So at last the Company had no other alternative but to discharge him. In the circumstances the discharge of Shri Kushal Singh was justified.

The Company has raised two legal objections also. The first objection is that it is not an industrial dispute but an individual dispute. The second objection is that Shri Kushal Singh was not a workman as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Hence it is contended on behalf of the Company that the reference is bad in law and that the Tribunal is not competent to decide the same. As the legal objections which the Company has pressed relate to the jurisdiction of the Tribunal to decide the present dispute, the Tribunal finds itself bound to record its findings on the said objections. If, as a matter of fact, it be found that it is an individual dispute and that Shri Kushal Singh was not a workman, the dispute under reference ceases to be an industrial dispute. In such event Shri Kushal Singh, the employee concerned, cannot get the aid or benefit of the Act nor can the Tribunal proceed to adjudicate the issue framed in this case, despite the reference made by the Government.

Now I take up the legal objections, one by one, and record my findings with reasons thereon.

As stated already the first objection which the Company pressed, is that it is an individual dispute between the employer on the one hand and one of the employees in question on the other. Learned Advocate for the Company drew my attention to the order of reference in this respect. He has argued that the fact of representation of the employee concerned by the Union which has been mentioned in the order of reference cannot have the effect of converting the present dispute which was fundamentally an individual dispute into an industrial dispute. It means only that the Union represented the employee just to help him in conducting the case before the Tribunal. It does not indicate or prove that the Union has espoused the cause of the employee as its own and has identified itself totally with this employee. The Union, on the other hand, contends that it in the present case had expoused the cause of the employee long before the date of reference. So, even the dispute was originally an individual dispute, it became later on converted into an industrial dispute by the intervention of the Union. I have given my most anxious consideration to the contentions put forward by both parties. Considering the matter in all its bearing and going into evidence I am of the view that long before the reference the Union had espoused and taken up the cause of the employee and fought against the Company. Annexure E, dated 19th May 1955, to the written statement of the Company shows that Shri W. Hassan, the General Secretary of the Union addressed a letter to the General Manager of this Company regarding the discharge of Shri Kushal Singh and requested him to reinstate Shri Kushal Singh immediately and pay him his dues. Annexure E1 is the reply of the Manager to the General Secretary on 21st May 1956. Shri Hassan, the General Secretary, has also deposed before the Tribunal. He is P. W. 3. He has stated in his evidence that Shri Kushal Singh is a member of the Union and that the Union had taken up his cause. Thus it is abundantly clear that it is not a case of mere representation by the Union but it is a case of the Union making the cause of this Salesman as its own against the Company. In this case it cannot be considered to be a case of individual dispute. What was originally an individual dispute was converted into an industrial dispute by the intervention of Union which took up and espoused the cause of the employee, Shri Kushal Singh. Learned Advocate for the Company has voiced an argument that unless it can be shown that all the workmen, or at least the bulk of workmen of this concern had identified themselves with the cause of Shri Kushal Singh, it cannot be an industrial dispute. But I am unable to accept this proposition of law in view of the recent decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case of Central Province Transport Services Limited, Nagpur, versus Raghunath Gopal Patwardhan, reported in the (1956-57) 11 F. J. R. at page 298. Their Lordships have observed "Notwithstanding that the definition of 'industrial dispute' in section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, is wide enough to cover a dispute between an employer and single employee the scheme of the Act appears to contemplate that the machinery provided therein should be set in motion to settle only disputes which involve the rights of workmen as a class and that a dispute touching the individual rights of a workman is not intended to be the subject of adjudication under the Act when the same has not been taken up by the Union or a number of workmen". The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of newspapers Limited versus The Industrial Tribunal, U. P., and others, has confirmed the above observations and the said decision is reported in (1957-58) 12 F.J.R. at page 129. From those decisions it is clear that though "individual dispute" may not come under the definition of "industrial dispute", still such dispute cannot be ousted from the scope of the definition of the "industrial dispute" if the Union or a number of workmen take up that dispute. As in the present case before me the Union has espoused the cause of the employee concerned, the dispute was no longer an individual dispute and it became an industrial dispute. The first legal objection pressed by the Company therefore fails.

The next objection as urged on behalf of the Company is that the employee concerned, Shri Kushal Singh, was not a workman within the meaning of section 2(s) of Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which runs as follows:—

"Workman means any person employed (including an apprentice) in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled manual or clerical work for hire or reward.........................".

Before entering into the merits of this objection I am to dispose of a point raised on behalf of the Union. Learned Counsel appearing on behalf of the Union has argued before that the above definition of workmen has been amended completely and redrafted by the Industrial Disputes (Amendment and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1956, and that the present case is to be decided on the basis of new definition of "workmen" because the section containing such definition of workmen came into force from 29th August 1956, which was long before the present reference. By the said Act, section 2(s) has been substituted as follows:—

Workmen means any person (including an apprentice) employed in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled manual, supervisory, technical or clerical work for hire or reward.......................

I have given my best consideration to this argument of the learned Counsel for the Company, but I am unable to accept it. In my view, it is not a correct proposition of law. It is a fact, no doubt, that the present reference was made to the Tribunal by the Government on 12th December 1956, that is long after the new definition of workmen as made by the Industrial Disputes (Amendment and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1956, came into force. But in the present case the employee concerned was admittedly discharged by this Company on 31st January 1955. In the circumstances he is to be governed by the law as it stood on that date. Furthermore, he was not in the employment of the Company when the new definition of workmen came into force or when the reference was made to the Tribunal by the Government. He ceased to be an employee of the Company then. Therefore, he cannot take advantage of the law which came into force subsequently unless it was made retrospective. Shri Kushal Singh is not accordingly entitled to get the benefit of new definition of workmen as made by the Amending Act of 1956. My view, therefore, is that the question whether Shri Kushal Singh was a workman or not should be decided in the light of section 2(s) of the Act as it stood before the amendment and substitution as made by the Industrial Disputes (Amendment and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1956.

Shri Kushal Singh was appointed as a Salesman of this Company and was getting basic pay of Rs. 250 plus Rs. 50 D.A. and 1 per cent. commission on sales effected by him. He was also allowed car allowance of Rs. 100 per month. It has been repeatedly held that in deciding whether a particular employee is a workman or not designation does not matter and is not of great moment. What is of importance is the nature of his duties. So the relevant question is whether he performed clerical or manual work so as to place him under category of "workman" under the Act. The approach should therefore be not from the angle of testing whether the employee is an officer but from that of examining the duties to be performed by the employee and deciding whether they are in the main clerical or manual This is ultimately a question of fact At best it is one of mixed facts and law. Now let me approach the question from the standpoint of the duties of this employee. I shall now discuss the nature of duties of Shri Kushal Singh which has emerged from the evidence. Shri Kushal Singh himself deposed in the case, and he is P.W 1. Another Salesman of this concern has been examined by the Union. He is P.W. 2, K. P. Chakravarty. P. W. 1 Shri Kushal Singh has said "my principal duty as Salesman was to contact customers, convince them and also to induce them to buy the vehicles, P. W. 2 K. P. Chakravarty has deposed "the principal duty of a Salesman is to come in contact with customer and convince him and also to induce him to purchase car". Thus it is manifestly clear that the principal duty of the Salesman including that of Shri Kushal Singh was to come in contact with the customers and convince and induce them to purchase vehicles. As Salesman his main duty was to push on the sale of the vehicles. In my view that was the major part of work of Shri Kushal Singh as a Salesman. It required initiative and display of intelligence. Shri Kushal Singh has stated, no doubt, in his evidence that the nature of duties was both manual and clerical. As he was required to write down orders of the customers and calculate particulars regarding sales of the vehicles he had to do clerical work. As he was required to give demonstration of the vehicles to intending customers and to show the machineries of the vehicles and explain how they worked his work was manual. P. W. 2 Shri K. P. Chakravarty another Salesman of this concern has also deposed on the same line. From the evidence it appears that writing down of the orders of the customers meant only filling up printed Contract Form like Ext. B. Such filling up the Contract Form was rather insignificant and ancillary to the main duties which a Salesman had to do. It has transpired from the evidence that out of 24 Contract Forms executed by Shri Kushal Singh in 1955, 22 Contract Forms are not in his handwriting. So practically Shri Kushal Singh had no clerical work to do while employed as a Salesman. If as a Salesman he was required to give demonstration of the vehicles to the intending customers and explain the machineries to them it cannot be said that he had to do mainly manual work. It was a part of his duties as a Salesman. If he had to do anything by his own hands by way of testing or demonstrating, it cannot be said to be manual work.

The Tribunal therefore holds that Shri Kushal Singh was not a workman within the meaning of the Act. So second legal objection raised on behalf of the Company succeeds.

In the result the Tribunal comes to the conclusion that Shri Kushal Singh cannot be considered to be a workman within the meaning of the Act. The nature of his duties in the main was neither clerical nor manual. That being so, the present dispute between parties does not fall within the ambit of the expression "industrial dispute" as defined in section 2(k) of the Act. Accordingly, the employee is not entitled to invoke the aid of the Act nor has the Tribunal jurisdiction to adjudicate on the issue referred to it. In this view of the matter it is not necessary for the Tribunal to enter into the merits of the case or to express any opinion regarding the discharge of Shri Kushal Singh.

The Government of West Bengal in the Department of Labour by order No. 1330-I.R./IR/11L-30/57, dated 25th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Henry S. Clark and Company, 19 Barrackpore Trunk Road, P.O. Belghoria, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by the Henry S. Clark Workers' Union, Belghoria, 24-Parganas, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule

Are the workmen named below entitled to be reinstated?—

(i) Rameswar.

(ii) Rampher.

(iii) Jagadamba.

(iv) Gobardhan.

AWARD

The case of the Union in short is that the Company Messrs. Henry S. Clark, a manufacturer of pharmaceutical and fine chemicals, dismissed these four workmen on account of their Trade Union activities without assigning any reason, enquiry or justification whatsoever as the Union placed a charter of demands before the Company in October 1956. This dismissal, it is urged, is therefore unjustified and an unfair labour practice. So reinstatement is sought on their behalf.

The Company traverses the material allegations in the written statement of the Union and contends that three of them namely, Rameswar, Rampher and Jagadamba were unskilled labour and taken in temporarily as mere learners on the basis of "no work, no pay". The Company did not get the expected business in 1956 and so these dismissed workers were not needed and they were discharged as surplus. So far as Gobardhan is concerned, he, however, was taken in permanently as a gardener and the Company is ready and agreeable to re-employ him. The other three dismissed workers are not entitled to reinstatement and their prayer should be rejected.

DECISION

This Company was started in September 1951 and there is nothing to show that it is a very big business. There is no dispute that these three dismissed workmen excepting Gobardhan are unskilled labour and they were temporarily employed as mere learners on the basis of "no work, no pay". There is also no dispute that all of them except Gobardhan were discharged on 1st November 1956 and none of them did put in service for more than a year. Rameswar was employed on 7th August 1956, Rampher employed on 18th June 1956 and Jagadumba employed on 26th May 1956 and all of them were discharged on 1st November 1956. So none of them worked for a year. So it is clear that the provision of section 25F of Industrial Disputes Act is not attracted in this case.

It is a prima facie right of the Management to determine its labour force and the Management would be the best judge to determine who would become surplus on the ground of rationalisation, economic or other reasons on which retrenchment can be sustained and if the Management acting in a bona fide manner effects the retrenchment, the Court should not interfere with the retrenchment which the Management may effect. At the same time, it should not be lost sight of that victimisation or unfair labour practice in effecting retrenchment would be instances of improper motive, such retrenchment the Court must scrutinize with great care. If the Court comes to the finding that any retrenchment is actuated by unfair motives on the part of the Company, the Court must interefere. This is the law as laid down in the case of Viswamitra Press reported in 1952 L.A.C., pages 20-33. In the instant case, the Company's evidence is that in the year 1955 they got a stable order from the Ceylon Government worth Rs. 83,000 and these workmen had to be employed and the Company expected a similar business in the year 1956, but their expectations were not fulfilled. So these workmen were not needed and the Company had to retrench them as surplus. I have no reason to disbelieve the evidence of the Superintendent in this behalf. As against this evidence there is nothing on the side of the Union to enable me to hold that the Company really needed the services of these workmen for due performance of the volume of work in the factory. Mere oral testimony of one or two workmen does not convince the Court that they were retrenched mala fide. The Company in effecting the retrenchment, it appears, acted within their limits and there is nothing to show that they were actuated by any mala fide or improper extraneous considerations. These workmen were employed temporarily as mere learners and so the Company did not transgress the limits of their rights in discharging these workmen as they were not needed for the purpose of this Company in the year 1956.

The Union has made another attempt to show that within a few days of the dismissal of these workmen, the Company employed one Salamat. The evidence of the Superintendent, O.P.W. (1), is that they employ casual workers as and when necessary but these workmen did not turn up for re-employment. So the action of the Company is not open to much criticism for their not employing these dismissed workmen.

As regards the plea of the Union that these workmen were discharged on account of their Trode Union activities, there is not the necessary cogent evidence to establish it. Of course, a charter of demands was presented to the Company which was settled on 14th November 1956 as per Ext. A, evidencing the fixation of pay-scale and laying down some rules for confirmation, etc. I am not satisfied of the contention on behalf of the Union that these workmen were dismissed for their Trade Union activities. Therefore, the Union has failed in making out a prima facie case for reinstatement of these three workmen, namely, Rameswar, Rampher and Jagadamba. It is therefore found that these workmen cannot be reinstated.

So far as Gobardhan is concerned, he, however, stands on a different footing. The evidence of the Superintendent is that Gobardhan was employed as a gardener permanently on 6th March 1956 and he was not at all discharged and that the Company is ready and agreeable even now to take him in provided he agrees to work as a gardener. On behalf of the Union an attempt has been made to show that Gobardhan was also taken in as an unskilled labour along with the other three dismissed workmen but the evidence of Gobardhan's own countryman O.P.W. 2, who brought him from his native village, negatives the case of Gobardhan. Accepting the testimony of O.P.W. 2, I find that Gobardhan was employed permanently as a gardener and that he was not discharged by the Company, but he made a common cause with the other three workmen who were dismissed. It is therefore open to Gobardhan to report himself for duty to the Company on any day within the period mentioned below whereupon the Company will re-employ him as stated before the Court by the Superintendent in his evidence.

To sum up, the three workmen, namely, Rameswar, Rampher and Jagadamba are not entitle to be reinstated and they are not entitled to any relief. The Company will offer to employ Gobardhan by issuing a notice to him within a month of the publication of this award. If he does not report for duty within a week of the receipt of the letter of the Company, he forfeits his claim to reinstatement.

This is my award.

The Government of West Bengal in the Department of Labour by order No. 1126-I.R./IR/11L-81/57, dated 11th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Majestic Talkies, 13/1 Wellesley Street, Calcutta-13, and their workman represented by the Bengal Motion Pictures Employees' Union, 53 Creek Row, Calcutta, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule.

(1) Whether the termination of service of Shri Kailash Ram by the Management is justified?

(2) What relief is he entitled to?

AWARD

The case of the Union is as follows:—

Shri Kailash Ram was employed as a gate-keeper in the Majestic Talkies and was suddenly discharged on 15th October 1956 without any notice, reason, enquiry or justification. This is a case of victimisation for his Trade Union activities and an unfair labour practice and opposed to the principles of social and natural justice. The Union therefore seeks his reinstatement with full back wages.

The Company denies the material allegations in the written statement of the Union and contends that this dismissed workman was employed on a temporary basis on the 11th March 1955 and was retrenched on 15th October 1956 as he proved surplus to the requirements of the Company. The Company opposes the workman's prayer for reinstatement but admits liabilities for notice-pay and compensation as provided for in section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act.

DECISION

The point for decision is whether the termination of service of this workman is justified. On behalf of the Union much stress has been laid upon the unfair labour practice resorted to by the Company for the workman's taking up the cause of the other members of the staff as the Management was not granting them usual leave, increment and bonus, etc. In other words, the Union means to say that his espousal of the cause of the aggrieved workman of the Talkies alienated the sympathy of the Management which therefore sacked him in order to put a stop to their activities. But beyond the evidence of this workman there is no convincing evidence on his side to establish the Union's contention that this was a case of victimisation as contended on their behalf. The evidence on record rather establishes the contention of the Company that he was discharged as he proved surplus. For the Management the evidence is that including this dismissed workman there were 10 gate-keepers who are quite adequate to the needs of the Talkies. Admittedly there are 884 seats for the audience in the whole House but the parties did not agree in their evidence as to the number of gate-keepers and pointers in the whole House. According to the Union there are 2 gate-keepers and 2 pointers in the 1st class, there is one gate in the 2nd class which is kept closed, there is one gate in the 3rd class and for that there are one gate-keeper and one pointer. There is a pointer for the 2nd class gate. There are 4 classes in the upper storey in which there are one gate-keeper and one pointer. Thus according to the evidence of the Union there are 4 gate-keepers and 5 pointers. According to the evidence of the Manager there are one gate-keeper and 2 pointmen in the 1st class. For the Balcony there is one gate-keeper and 2 pointmen. Thus the evidence on the side of the Union is different from that of the side of the Company as to the number of existing gate-keepers in the House but the Manager is definite in another portion of his evidence that there are now 9 gate-keepers of whom 2 ordinarily remain on leave and 7 gate-keepers are sufficient. On the other hand, the evidence of the workman is that there were 10 gate-keepers while he was in service and it is said that at some previous time there were even 14 gate-keepers according to the evidence of the P.W. (2) Abdul Khaleq, but having regard to the gates in the whole House numbering 4 or 5, I think, the present number of 9 gate-keepers seems to be quite adequate as urged on behalf of the Company. The contention on behalf of the Union is that this workman was not at all surplus and that by reason of the retrenchment the workload on the existing gate-keepers increased. In order to prove this, the Union produced a photograph, Ext. 4, to show that one Mahendra (Darwan) was on one occasion found checking the tickets of the audience. This might be a solitary instance and from this it cannot be generalised that the Company always utilise the services of the gate-keepers for other purposes. The Union next made an attempt to show that the action of the Company was a mala fide one and that is all the more so because the Company after discharging this workman employed another gate-keeper named Chandeswar who is much junior to him. So the Company departed from the principle "last come, first go" and the Union insisted on reinstatement of the present workman.

Now, I come to the point of law. It will be useful in this connexion to refer to the American Law on the subject. Under the American Law, rights and practices of the Management recognised as Management's functions exerciseable by the Company without prior approval of the Union have been classified as (1) methods of plant operation, (2) subcontracting of work, (3) determination of supervisory force, (4) plant discipline, (5) overtime work, (6) incentive wage plans, (7) job content and job evaluation, and (8) determination of employee competence (vide Management Function Under Collective Bargaining by the Ludwig Teller, pages 34-49). The Management has a right to discharge employees for a cause. The views of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India on the same subject will appear discussed in the case of Viswamitra Press reported in 1952 L.A.C., pages 20-33, and may be quoted as follows:—

"It is the prima facie right of the Management to determine its labour force and the Management would be the best judge to determine the number of workmen who would become surplus on the ground of rationalisation, economy or other reasons on which retrenchment can be sustained. Where in effecting the retrenchment, the Management acts in a bona fide manner the number retrenched by it ought to be accepted. It is not possible or desirable to give an exhaustive list of the cases that would be covered by the second class. The increase of workload on the workmen retained would be an instance of extraneous consideration. Similarly, victimisation or unfair labour practice in effecting retrenchment, would be instances of improper motive. When the Management is influenced by extraneous considerations or improper motives, the Tribunal must scrutinise the matter with great circumspection and must confine the number of retrenchment strictly within the limits of actual requirement. In such cases, the Management must justify by evidence the extent of the retrenchment.

If the first question is answered in favour of the Management and the extent of the retrenchment determined in accordance with the principles indicated above, the next question would be the personnel who would fall under the axe. Here the rule is well-established. Other things being equal, 'the last come must first go'. If that rule has been departed from, the Management must justify the departure and the last question for consideration would be the measure of compensation to be given to persons whose retrenchment is upheld by the Tribunal."

The same principles have been enunciated by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Sudarsan Banerji and others vs. McLeod & Co. reported in 1953 L.A.C., pages 702-711. In this case also the learned Judges reiterated the principle that the authority charged with the duty of giving permission would also have to consider the question whether the rule of "last come, first go" has been followed in the proposed retrenchment and if departed from, whether the evidence so led would prima facie support the case of departure from that rule. Bearing these principles in mind I proceed to discuss the facts in this case. According to the Management the number of 9 gate-keepers is sufficient, and as the Management has prima facie rightly exercised this right in the labour force, I do not think the Court will be justified in interfering with their decision. So the first question is answered in favour of the Management. The next question is on which personnel should the axe fall. On behalf of the Union an attempt has been made to show that one Chandeswar who joined the service in June-July 1956 was employed after this workman was retrenched but this allegation is negetived by the evidence of P.W. (4) Md. Ibrahim. His evidence is that Chandeswar was in service for about 4 or 5 years and then he left the job for some time and rejoined in June or July 1956. So it is not a fact as urged by the Union that he was junior to the dismissed workman who was employed only on 11th March 1955. Thus it is established that the Management has not departed from the principle of "last come, first go". This workman is the juniormost and reasonably the axe fell on him. If the Union could prove that the rule of "last come, first go" was departed from, it was upon the Management to justify the departure but in this case the principle has not been departed from.

Next, I take up the question of relief. As admitted by the Company the workman is entitled to one month's notice-pay and one month's pay as retrenchment benefit under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. He put in 19½ months' service roughly from 11th March 1955 to 15th October 1956 and so he is entitled to one month's pay as compensation. Thus he is found entitled to 2 months' full pay at the rate of Rs. 45 per mensem, i.e., Rs. 90 plus back wages, if any. The Company must pay Rs. 90 plus back wages, if any, to the workman within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messers. Eastern Metallizing Co., Ltd., 2 Royal Exchange Place, Calcutta-1, and one of their workmen Shri Ram Daresh Singh, represented by the Motor Transport Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, referred under G. For the Company: Shri S. Sri Krishnan.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1151-I.R./IR/11L-407/57, dated 12th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Eastern Metallizing Co., Ltd., 2 Royal Exchange Place, Calcutta-1, and one of their workmen, Shri Ram Daresh Singh, represented by the Motor Transport Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court, for adjudication.

Schedule

Whether the dismissal of Shri Ram Daresh Singh, driver, has been justified? What relief by way of compensation and or reinstatement he is entitled to?

AWARD

The case of the Union is that this driver Ram Daresh Singh was summarily dismissed without any charge-sheet or enquiry on 23rd April 1956. This dismissal is arbitrary, unjustified and an unfair labour practice. The Union therefore seeks his reinstatement together with back wages.

The case of the Company is that he took an advance of Rs. 300 from the Managing Director while he went home on receiving the news of his mother's illness.

DECISION

The Union examined the driver alone. The driver stated in his deposition that he was summarily dismissed without any charge-sheet or anything of the kind. No. enquiry was held. He has further denied to have received an advance from the Managing Director of a sum of Rs. 300 as alleged on behalf of the Company. The evidence of the driver is practically unchallenged. It therefore establishes the case of the Union. On the other hand, there is no evidence adduced on behalf of the Company. As regards the advance of Rs. 300, it is stated in the written statement of the Company that this amount was advanced by the Managing Director himself. There is no receipt in token of the advance. The Managing Director does not come to prove the advance.

At the prayer of the Company to secure the presence of the Managing Director in order to give a denial to the plea of the driver that he did not really take an advance of Rs. 300, an opportunity was given to the Company to produce the Managing Director and another date was fixed for hearing but on this date (5th July 1957) also the Managing Director did not appear. So the plea of advance to the workman fails.

In the circumstances, I must find that the dismissal of the driver has been quite unjustified and mala fide without any semblance of enquiry. Therefore such a dismissal is indeed nothing short of unfair labour practice and the driver seems to have been dismissed without any reason whatsoever. So in law and equity, this order of dimissal is illegal and the driver must be reinstated. The back wages, if any, will be paid by the Company, who will also reinstate the driver in his former job within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

No. 2695-I.R./IR/11L-38/57.—24th July 1957.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1321-I.R./IR/11L-38/57, dated the 25th April 1957, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Tulsi Charan Das, 50 Battala Street, Calcutta-20, and one of their workmen, Shri Rajani Kanta Kayal, represented by the Calcutta Goldsmithy and Jewellery Workers' Union, 16/17 College Street (Room No. 49), Calcutta-12, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Dispute Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court;

ANNEXURE

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1321-I.R./IR/11L-38/57, dated 25th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Tulsi Charan Das, 50 Battala Street, Calcutta-20, and one of their workmen, Shri Rajani Kanta Kayal, represented by the Calcutta Goldsmithy and Jewellery Workers' Union, 16/17 College Street (Room No. 49), Calcutta-12, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule.

Is the discharge of Shri Rajani Kanta Kayal justified? To what relief is he entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union is as follows;

This workman was employed for about 8 years under the Company Messrs. Tulsi Charan Das, but was dismissed on 6th June 1953 without assigning any reason. This workman along with others formed a Union which enraged the Company and they were dismissed for their Trade Union activities without any justification or reason whatsoever. The Union contends that the dismissal of the workman is unjustified, illegal, mala fide and an unfair labour practice. The Union therefore seeks his reinstatement with back wages.

The Company contends that this is an individual dispute as his cause was not espoused by any workers or the Union, that the allegations in the written statement of the Union are false. In fact this workman worked only for 2 years and took his arrears of wages on the 19th Jaistha, 1363 B.S. and gave up his job voluntarily as he started a grocery at his native village. The workman is not entitled to reinstatement or any other relief.

DECISION.

The Company runs a jewellery business in the premises No. 50, Battala Street, Calcutta-20. It is common ground that this workman Rajani Kayal was employed under this Company for some time. The parties are, however, in dispute as to the actual length of service of this workman under the Company. It is the case of the Company that this workman was employed under it roughly for 2 years from Baisakh, 1361 B. S. up to Jaistha, 1363 B. S. and even during this period he was absent for 5 months and odd and that his wages were Rs. 2 per diem. On the other hand, it is urged on behalf of the workman that he had put in about 8 years' service and that at a monthly pay of Rs. 90 all told. On the disputed points, namely, (1) length of service and (2) his monthly wages, I shall state my findings later on.

The main point for consideration is whether the discharge of this workman is justified. On this head the case of the Company is that the workman voluntarily gave up his job as he started a grocery at his native village and that he intimated his desire to this effect to the Proprietor O. P. W. 1. This plea of the Company does not, however, stand scrutiny. Assuming that the workman voluntarily left the job it is difficult to believe that he would again raise a controversy over it and take up the matter even with the Labour Commissioner. If he had given up the job voluntarily the ordinary course of conduct for him would be that he would not agitate this matter and rest contented with his grocery at home. It is also significant in this connection to notice that the Union addressed a letter Ext. 1 to the Labour Commissioner on 12th July 1956 complaining that the workman was not given any work on and from 6th June 1956 and this discharge was stigmatised as motivated, unjustified and illegal and in that letter there was also a demand for compensation for the period of his forced unemployment. The Company did not reply to this letter to the Labour Commissioner. Virtually, the Company accepted this position and did not raise any voice of protest against the case of the Union. If the allegations in this letter were not true we would expect that the Company would have certainly protested against these allegations and come forward with the plea now set up that the workman voluntarily gave up his job for his grocery at his native village. I am therefore unable to accept the plea of voluntary resignation of the workman from this job and my finding is that as the workman admittedly absented himself from his duty for about 5 or 6 months during the period from 1361 to 1363 B.S., he obviously incurred the displeasure of the Company which therefore discharged him. And there is another cause for his discharge which is his enlistment as a member of the Calcutta Goldsmithy Jewellery Workers' Union. The Company further raised a point that this is an individual dispute as the workman enlisted himself as a member of the Union subsequent to his discharge. P. W. 2, Hem Ranjan Das, the General Secretary of the Union, deposed in favour of the workman and his evidence goes unchallenged. Therefore the point that this is an individual dispute is not substantiated by the Company and fails. As regards this discharge, my finding is that the discharge of this workman is without any justification or reason whatsoever.

The next question is what should be the workman's relief. The workman himself has stated before the Court that he does not seek reinstatement. All that he insists on is his back wages for the 5 months since his discharge.

Now I come to the question of monthly wages. The Company states that he used to be paid at the rate of Rs. 2 per diem, and the payment was made weekly and that he served only for 2 years. The version of the workman, however, is different. His case is that he worked for about 8 years, and his pay was Rs. 90 per month. The Company produced Khatas (Exts. A1-3) from 1361 B.S. and has not produced Khatas for any period prior to 1361 B.S. The Union urges that if he would have produced Khatas for years prior to 1361 B.S., they would have revealed his name as one of the employees, and the case of the workman proved. I am convinced that the Company did not produce the Khatas for the previous period just to suppress the actual year of the commencement of his service, and if they were produced they would have supported the case of the workman. As stated in Ext. A, I find that the workman was not given any work on and from 6th June 1956.

As regards his wages, the statement on behalf of the Company that his pay was Rs. 2 per diem does not deserve credence. I accept the statement of the workman that his pay was Rs. 90 per month up to Kartic, 1362 B.S. as stated in Ext. 1. The Company, however, has shown that on one occasion Rs. 27-12 was paid to the workman on 2nd June 1956 including his overtime wages. This seems to be nothing short of a device on the part of the Company to show that this workman used to be paid weekly and for this his long absence for 6 months from his duty is responsible. The Company cannot obviously like a man who chooses to be absent from duty for so long a time. Be that as it may, the workman is certainly entitled to some compensation for this unjustified discharge of his service. It would not be correct to say that this is a case of retrenchment as defined in section 2(oo) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It would be retrenchment under the Act only if a workman who was surplus was discharged but there is no such case here. The worker cannot therefore claim any retrenchment compensation under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act as laid down in the recent Barsi Light Railway Co., Ltd., vs. K. N. Joglekar and others, reported in 1957 Supreme Court Appeals, page 57. The workman is still entitled to payment of compensation as equitable relief and that, in my opinion, would be equivalent to his 2 months' pay, i.e., Rs. 180. In the circumstances my finding is that the discharge of the workman is unjustified, and the workman is entitled to an equitable relief equivalent to 2 months' pay, i.e., Rs. 90 plus 90, total Rs. 180 and not to reinstatement. The Company must pay this amount of Rs. 180 to the workman within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Bengal Corporation Limited, 14 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, and their employee Shri Samar Chatterjee, 10 Becharam Chatterjee Road, Behala, Calcutta-34. (Case No. VIII-223 of 1955.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri P. R. Mookherjee, M.A., LL.B.

For the employee: None.

This reference was made by Government order No. 3386Dis./D/11L-255/55, dated Calcutta, the 26th July 1955, for adjudication of the issue which is in the following terms in the order of reference:—

Is the Company justified in debarring Shri Samar Chatterjee from attending his duty with effect from 7th February 1955? To what relief is he entitled?

The case made out by Shri Samar Chatterjee, who, I may mention, was carrying on a fight against the employer unaided by any other member of the establishment or by any Trade Union, is that he had fallen ill on the 20th of January 1955. On the day following he applied for leave through post for a fortnight. He reported for duty on the 5th of February and produced a medical certificate. At the time of payment of wages, he was offered his salary minus the proportionate amount for the period of his absence. He refused to accept the salary as offered and was then informed that his services were dispensed with from the 7th of February 1955. Having failed to induce the Management to change its decision Shri Samar Chatterjee sought redress through the machinery of the law provided by the Industrial Disputes Act.

The Company's case is that Shri Samar Chatterjee was not a workman within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, as he had not perform any manual or clerical work. On the merits the Company's case is that he had absented himself from office from the 17th of January and on the 21st he had sent a post-card applying for 14 days' leave on the ground of illness. Since then, he did not report for duty and had relinquished the post of his own accord.

A question of law arose in consequence of which an additional issue was framed in the following terms:—

Issue No. 2: Is this an industrial dispute?

Issue No. 2: Taking up issue No. 2 for decision, I came to the finding on the authority of two decisions of the Calcutta High Court reported in 55 C.W.N., page 256 and 51 C.W.N., page 169, and a decision of the Supreme Court reported in 1953, 1, L.L.J., page 195, that an individual dispute is not an industrial dispute but it may be converted into an industrial dispute, if it is taken up by his fellow workers or by any Trade Union of which he is a member. As in the present case the employee did not secure the assistance of his co-workers and did not also find any support from any Trade Union, this Tribunal held that the individual dispute was not transmuted into an industrial dispute. Hence the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to adjudicate on the point referred. I had also referred to the case reported in 1955, 2, L.L.J., page 541, in which an Appellate Tribunal made it clear that the Full Bench decision in the Swadeshi Mills Case that an individual dispute is an industrial dispute being covered by the language used in section 2(k) of the Act, was not applicable to the case of a discharged or dismissed employee whose cause has not been espoused by other employees or any Trade Union. The award made by me was set aside on appeal. Their Lordships of the Appellate Tribunal held that the Supreme Court did not make a "declaration of the law in such clear terms as can lead to a definite conclusion either way". Their Lordships preferred to follow the Full Bench decision in Swadeshi Mills case and sent back the case on remand for disposal according to law on the merits after considering other legal objections raised in the pleading. Opportunity was to be given to the parties to adduce documentary and oral evidences, if any.

The case being taken up the employee was found absent. The lawyer representing him also did not appear. The Tribunal heard the lawyer for the Company.

The situation has been complicated by reason of a recent decision of the Calcutta High Court to which the attention of their Lordships of the Appellate Tribunal was not directed. In the case of Bengal Club Limited versus Santi Ranjan Samaddar reported in 60 C.W.N., page 856, his Lordship Sinha J. has held, after an exhaustive review of all the reported cases, that where an individual workman is dismissed and the dismissal is not objected to by any Union of workmen or a majority of his fellow workers, that is an individual dispute between the employer and an individual workman and is not an industrial dispute. As already pointed out Shri Samar Chatterjee is fighting his own battle on his own resources. Neither any Union nor other workmen of the Company have rallied to his support. The law laid down by his Lordship Sinha J. applies squarely to the facts of this case. In the case reported in 1955, 2, L.L.J., page 202, his Lordship the Chief Justice of the Bombay High Court made the following observation:

> "Every Tribunal in any State is subject to the judicial supervision of the State High Court. If any Labour Legislation comes up for interpretation before the High Court of the State, that interpretation must be accepted by the Tribunal as the correct interpretation".

Their Lordships of the Appellate Tribunal did not make any pronouncement as to whether this observation is binding or not. If it is, this Tribunal must accept the interpretation of section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act, made in the recent decision of the Calcutta High Court, notwithstanding the view taken by the Appellate Tribunal which must necessarily be subordinated to the interpretation made by the State High Court. This Tribunal owes allegiance to the Appellate Tribunal and has got to carry out its directions. Between conflicting loyalties the Tribunal was on the horns of a dilemma. Fortunately there have since been two decisions of the Supreme Court on this identical point which give clear guidance. In the case reported in 1957, 1, L.L.J., page 29, their Lordships of the Supreme Court delivered judgment enshrining the view propounded in the earlier Supreme Court decision. It may be said that their Lordships in clear terms guarded themselves against making any final pronouncement. Even then, the view expressed carries considerable weight. There is next the case reported in XII, F. J. R., Part VI, page 129, in which their Lordships have laid down the law that a dispute touching the individual rights of a workman was not intended to be subject of an adjudication under the Act, when the same has not been taken up by the Union or a number of workmen. Their Lordships pointed out that where the appropriate Government had referred a dispute on the assumption that a dispute exists between the "employer and his workmen", but the points of dispute in the reference comprised the wrongful termination of the service of only one workman, whose case was not taken up by any Union of the workers of the establishment in which he was employed, nor by any Union of workmen employed in similar or allied trades but by a Trade Union with which he had no connection whatsoever, the reference was bad. An individual dispute accordingly cannot mature into an industrial dispute even if a Trade Union with which the workman concerned had no connection takes up his cause. In the present case, there is no Union in the picture. In the Appellate award, it was observed that in view of the divergence of opinion, it was desirable that disposal of the appeal should be postponed till the point was set at rest by the Hon'ble Supreme Court before which this point had been raised. Their Lordships did not, however, postpone the hearing awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court. As thereafter the decision of the Supreme Court has been available this Tribunal is now free to dispose of the case in the light flashed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court. The view taken by their Lordships of the Supreme Court is that this sort of dispute does not attain the status of an industrial dispute. This interpretation is binding on all Tribunals, primary and appellate. Hence, I come to the conclusion that I am free to decide according to the law as declared by their Lordships. I hold that this is an individual dispute to which the Industrial Disputes Act cannot be applied. This Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate on the issue referred by the Government

Imperial Engineering Works, Ltd., 122 Belilious Road, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Imperial Engineering Mazdoor Union, 33/1 Hat Lane, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 592Dis./D/12L-5/52, dated the 23rd February 1953, for adjudication.

3. The matters of dispute as stated in the schedule to the order of reference are as follows:

(i) Wages and Dearness Allowance.

(ii) Leave and holidays.

(iii) Service Book and Leave Card.

DECISION

Issue No. 1: Messrs. Imperial Engineering Works, Ltd. (hereafter called the Company) is one of the small engineering concerns having workshop at 122 Belilious Road, Howrah. It employs about 25 workmen. Imperial Engineering Mazdoor Union (hereafter called the Union) on behalf of the workmen submitted a charter of demands making various demands. Most of them were considered by the Government to be unreasonable (vide Annexure A to the written statement of the Company) and as there could be no settlement regarding the rest, these were referred to for adjudication. Under this head the Union claims that minimum wages of the workers of the unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled categories should be fixed according to the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal of 1948 and D.A. should be fixed for them according to the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal of 1950. The Company resists the claims mainly on the ground that it has no capacity to bear any additional burden.

Under the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal of 1948 minimum wages of unskilled worker was fixed at Rs. 30 per month or Rs. 1-2-6 per day; and of semi-skilled worker at Rs. 35 per month or Rs. 1-5-6 per day, in the case of daily-rated workers. No minimum basic pay was, however, fixed for the skilled workers. Regarding minimum basic wages there can be no dispute that the worker must have it irrespective of the capacity of the industry or of his employer to pay. The capacity to pay is relevant only in respect of upper limit as also D.A. The principles of fixation of minimum wages have been discussed and settled in Buckingham & Carnatick Mills Co., Ltd., vs. the Workers of the Company (vide 1952 L.A.C., 490). It has been held that the floor level of wages of an industrial worker must be such as would enable him to maintain 3 consumption units including himself in a state of efficiency with provision for education, and medical expenses of children. This is the minimum which the worker must have irrespective of the capacity of the industry or of his employer to pay. The Major Engineering Tribunal fixed the minimum wages of the unskilled and semi-skilled worker having regard to those factors, and I find no reason why the said minimum wages should not be extended to this concern. The Major Engineering Tribunal comprised big engineering firms as well as small both in the city of Calcutta and Howrah. The Adjudicators fixed the aforesaid minimums and with due consideration of all relevant factors. So, unless a special case is made out the Company cannot be exempted from adopting the said minimums. The fact that the Company is small, cannot be accepted as a ground for such exemption. No doubt it appears that since the Government of India introduced uniform prices for all controlled categories of steel and pig iron at all rail head destinations in the country, these small engineering concerns of Howrah have been hard hit due to said policy of equalisation of price of pig iron and steel as also due to acute scarcity of raw materials, but none-the-less in the matter of minimum basic wages the claim of the workmen must have priority and other considerations cannot come. Similarly, if other small concerns of Howrah pay wages beyond the minimum as fixed, this would afford no justification for not falling in line with the minimum basic wages fixed. The claim of the union for minimum basic wages for unskilled and semi-skilled worker according to the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal of 1948 must so prevail and I fix the minimum accordingly.

As to the minimum basic wages of the skilled workers, it has already been noted that this was not fixed under the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal and I also find no special circumstances to do otherwise in his case. Ext. B is a chart about the wages and D.A. which are being paid to the existing workmen of this concern. From the chart it appears that of the unskilled category two workmen Shri Purna Chandra Shaw and Sheikh Gafur are being paid wages at the rate of Re. 1 per day. As they are daily-rated workers, their wages are raised to Rs. 1-2-6 per day. Besides D.W. 1 Shri Hrishikesh Neogi who is Director-cum-Manager of the Company, admitted in cross-examination that workmen Shri Gopal Chandra Patra and Shri Sambhu Nath Kundu, worked in Landris Machine while workman Abdul Mabud was a Fitter. In the chart Ext. B, they were described as unskilled. Having regard to the nature of the work as admitted, they would apparently come to the category of semi-skilled worker. It, however, appears that except Gopal Chandra Patra the other two namely, Sambhu Nath Kundu and Abdul Mabud are receiving wages more than the minimum of semi-skilled category. Regarding Gopal Chandra Patra who has been receiving wages less than the minimum of semi-skilled category is, his wages is raised to Rs. 1-5-6 per day in place of Rs. 1-3 at present. No other workman, it appears, is getting less than the minimum of his category.

Regarding D.A., the First Major Engineering Tribunal of 1948 fixed it on the cost of living index at 310 as follows:—

Pay range.	Dearness allowance.
	Rs.
Up to Rs. 50	25
From Rs. 51 to Rs. 100	35
From Rs. 101 to Rs. 150	40
From Rs. 151 to Rs. 200	45
Rs. 201 and above	50

Thereafter the Major Engineering Tribunal of 1950 fixed D.A. on the basis of cost of living index roughly at 340 as follows:—

Basic pay range.	Dearness allowance.
	Rs.
Up to Rs. 50	31
From Rs. 51 to Rs. 100	42
From Rs. 101 to Rs. 150	48
From Rs. 151 to Rs. 200	54
From Rs. 201 upwards	60

The workmen of this concern are being paid D.A. at the uniform rate of Rs. 28 per month, except workmen Purna Chandra Shaw and Sheikh Gafur who are being paid at the rate of Rs. 25 per month. The Union demands D.A. according to the award of the Second Engineering Tribunal of 1950. The Company pleads that it is unable to bear additional burden. It has already been noted that the capacity to pay is a relevant consideration in the matter of fixation of D.A. The audited balance-sheets for the years 1359, 1360 and 1361 B.S. (Exts. A series) have been filed to show that the financial position of the Company is anything but satisfactory. Besides the evidence shows that the Company in addition to wages and D.A. has been paying bonus of varying amounts for some years past. P.W. 1 Abdul Hamid a workman in the concern admitted that workers are being paid bonus at the time of Puja. He further admitted that he received 15 days' wages as bonus once and on another occasion 5 days' wages as bonus, both in 1956, besides an extra payment of Rs. 12. As the workmen in addition received house and as the financial condition of the Company is not good, I think the demand of the Union for increment of D.A., according to the award of the Second Major Engineering Tribunal of 1950, cannot be sustained. But I find no justification for discrimination in this respect so far workmen Purna Chandra Shaw and Sheikh Gafur are concerned. The Company is directed to pay D.A. to them at the rate of Rs. 28 per month like others.

Issue No. 2: The Company grants statutory leave according to the Factories Act. Besides, it grants 9 Festival holidays. The Union demands casual leave with pay as also leave for 6 or 5 days as granted to the workmen under the award of Second Major Engineering Tribunal in continuation of the annual leave under section 79 of the Factories Act or otherwise, and one more Festival holiday. The Company resists the claim.

As the concern is a small one and as cost of production will otherwise go up, making it further difficult to compete, I think claim for casual leave with pay and for 6 or 5 days other leave as granted under award of 1950, should not be allowed. The workmen may, however, get casual leave for 7 days without pay.

Regarding Festival holiday, I think the concern should fall in line with the award of Major Engineering Tribunal of 1950. The number of Festival holidays is accordingly increased to 10.

Issue No. 3: The Company maintains service book and it is agreeable to give inspection of the same as and when required by the workmen. So, the workmen can have no grievance on this score.

Regarding leave card, the Company does not follow the provisions of rule 67 of West Bengal Factories Rules, 1949. The excuse for not doing this is said to be that it would entail additional expenditure which the Company cannot afford to bear in its present financial position. When the provisions of rule 87 are mandatory, the Management has no option than to follow it, and provide leave card in Form No. 15 enjoined therein. The said rule 87 has been made under the provisions of sections 83 and 112 of the Factories Act. The Management so has no option than to follow the provisions of the rules. The Company is accordingly directed to provide each worker with a leave book or card in Form No. 15.

It is awarded accordingly.

(Case No. 160 of 1956 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For the Company: Shri N. K. Mukherjee, Advocate.

For the workmen: Shri Tanmoy Basu, Pleader.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by a group of workers employed in the Anna Art Press (Private), Limited. The grievance giving rise to the present complaint is that during the pendency of a reference proceeding the Management raised the weekly working hours from 42½ to 48 hours. One of the conditions of service was thus altered without the leave of the Tribunal.

In reply, the employer advanced the case that work was being conducted previously in two shifts. The second shift had to be closed down. Due to the abolition of the second shift the Press had to get extra work done by the employees during the busy season in the months of October to December every year. Notice was accordingly issued that the working hours would be 48 hours a week at ordinary rate of wages and for overtime in excess of 48 hours up to 54 hours wages at double rate would be paid. The workers refused to submit to this alteration and thus caused embarassment to the Management as it could not discharge its obligation to fulfil contracts within the periods fixed. According to the Management, the change did not contravene section 33 of the Act and the complaint made by the employees is misconceived.

DECISION

According to the evidence given by the P.W. 1 wages at 1½ rates used to be paid previously for work done in excess of 42½ hours. If anybody worked for an extra hour he used to get wages for 1½ hours. But according to the notice Ext. A henceforth up to a maximum of 48 hours per week the workers were to get single rate. This amounted to a far-reaching alteration in one of the conditions of service. It may be pointed out at the outset that section 33 forbids alteration of conditions of service to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in the dispute. The application made in this case is defective in so far as nothing has been alleged as to the change being prejudicial to the workmen. The bare statement appears in the application that the working hours have been raised from 42½ to 48 hours per week. That this alteration affects the workmen prejudicially in regard to their emoluments or otherwise has not been specifically pleaded. In his evidence P.W. 1 has explained how their interests are jeopardized. The Manager Mr. Hallen has admitted that previously anyone working beyond 42½ hours in a week used to be paid at the rate of 1½ hours' wages for one hour's work. "We used to pay" to quote his words "for one hour's work wages for 1½ hours if he worked beyond 42½ hours in a week. If an employee worked in a single shift and if we wanted his services for extra work we used to pay for 1½ hours for one hour's work." In cross-examination he stated that if a person worked for 48 hours he would have got 1½ rates for the extra 5½ hours. But according to the notice Ext. A up to 48 hours the wages would be paid at ordinary rate. This change did affect the workers prejudicially as the rate was reduced. The rate of wages is certainly one of the conditions of service. The alteration is ex-facie in derogation of section 33. The employees are however doomed to suffer tantalisation as there is a legal obstacle. The notice was issued on the 24th of September 1956. The change was to be effective from the 1st of October 1956. The amendment of Industrial Disputes Act of 1947, as made by the Act of 1956, effected substantial change in section 33. The new section came into force on the 1st of September 1956. Sub-section 1 of the new Act which is applicable here provides that no employer shall alter the condition of service to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in the dispute pending before a Conciliation Officer, a Board, or before a Labour Court or Tribunal or National Tribunal in regard to any matter connected with the dispute. From the record of the reference proceedings it appears that the points for adjudication were:—

(1) Minimum Wages and scale of pay for different categories of workers.

(2) Casual Leave.

(3) Puja Bonus.

(4) Retiring Benefit.

(5) Are the dismissals of the following workers justified? What relief are they entitled to?—

(a) Jane Alam.

(b) Md. Hossain.

(c) Md. Sarif.

The question of working hours or rate of wages for extra work was not of the points in dispute. The point now agitated not being within the ambit of the dispute no ban can be held to have been imposed upon the powers of the Management to make alterations in regard to condition, which were not pending decision of the Tribunal. In this view I hold that the present complaint is not maintainable and must fail. As there is no case that these workers are protected persons, sub-section 3 of section 33 need not be considered. The application is in these circumstances rejected.

In the case of every company :—

(i) on the first rupees five lakhs of net wealth	Nil exceeds the amount calculated at the rate of 1.5 per cent. on the value of the shares included in his net wealth.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The object of this Bill is to impose an annual tax on the net weath of individuals, Hindu undivided families and companies. The proposed tax is an important constituent of an integrated tax structure which Government have been aiming at for some time. With Income-tax, Estate Duty and a tax on Capital gains already in existence and with the addition of the Wealth-tax and a tax on large personal expenditures (separately being proposed) the direct taxes will form a composite system made up of complementary elements. Apart from the fact that a composite tax system of this type helpes to satisfy the criterion of the ability to pay, it is consistent with the avowed goal of the attainment of a socialistic pattern of society.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

This Bill proposes a levy of tax with effect from 1st April, 1957 on the net wealth of individuals, Hindu undivided families and companies. This is a new tax but the procedure for assessment and collection of this new tax is very much allied to that of taxes on income. It is, therefore, proposed that for the time being wealth-tax be administered by the Income-tax Department and that no separate administrative machinery should be set up. The existing pressure of work on the Income-tax Department is, however, already quite heavy. This pressure is likely to increase further on account of the proposed lowering of the minimum taxable limits. It will, therefore, be necessary to expand adequately the staff at various levels of the departmental cadres.

The increase of personnel, along with incidental expenses of administration, including payment of remuneration to valuers of immovable properties is estimated to cost Rs. 40 lakhs ultimately. Actual recruitment of staff will, however, be made as and when it is found really necessary.

Capital expenditure will be in respect of construction of office and residential accommodation. Such expenditure when incurred will form part of the requirements of the Income-tax staff.

Burdwan.—No. P.H./3623/W-55/56.—2nd August 1957.—In pursuance of rule 8 of the rules for the preparation, publication and execution of projects for water supply, drainage or sewerage by municipal authorities, it is hereby notified for general information that the Water Supply Remodelling Scheme of the Burdwan Municipality in the district of Burdwan has been approved by Government and the particulars of the scheme are as follows:—

1. (a) General description of the scheme.—The present scheme has been drawn up in the lines of sketch project prepared in the year 1948 to cater for an ultimate population of 120,000 and the total supply has been estimated as 2,140,000 g.p.d. for the present which can be raised to 3,210,000 g.p.d. by increasing the pumping hours from 12 to 18 hours a day and thereby the average supply can be improved from 21.4 g.p.c.d. for lac population to 27 g.p.c.d. for the ultimate population of 120,000 in the sketch project. It was contemplated to supply at 20 g.p.c.d. to an ultimate population of 90,000 for the central conjested part of the town whereas for the rest 30,000 persons, it was proposed to supply at an average rate of 10 g.p.c.d. But in the detailed project, however, considering importance of the town and more so after the present electrification of Railways up to Burdwan it is expected that Burdwan town will grow in all directions and sewerage will be an absolute necessity for the safe disposal of town waste. Consequently the detailed project has contemplated to supply at an average rate of 21.4 g.p.c.d. for the present population of the town.

The whole municipal town has been subdivided into four convenient zones for equitable water supply in each part of town of which Zones I, II, and III are being supplied from tube-wells whereas Zone IV will be supplied from the existing waterworks through the existing elevated Reservoir.

(b) An estimate of the cost of carrying it out.—Rs. 18,27,650.

(c) An estimate of the cost of maintaining it.—Rs. 1,33,154.

(d) The source from which the cost will be met.—

(i) Capital cost—

		Rs.
Government grant	...	12,18,433
Loan from Government	...	6,09,217

(ii) Maintenance cost—By imposition of water rates by the Municipality.

(e) The amount of the loan, if any, required for the scheme, the annual instalments by which such loan will be repayable, and the number of years required to repay it.—The loan will be repaid in 30 annual equated instalments. Amount to be paid including principal and interest at 4 per cent. per annum.

(f) When several local authorities are concerned, the distribution of loan between those authorities.—Nil.

2. (a) The total annual charge to be incurred by reason of water supply and to be met by water rate.—Rs. 1,33,154.

(b) The percentage of such water rate on the annual value of the holdings:—

(i) Percentage of water rate on the annual value of holdings with water connection is 6 per cent.

(ii) The same on the annual value of holdings without water connection is 4½ per cent.

(c) The average incidence of such water rate per head of the population.—Rs. 1-5 only per head of population.

The scheme will be taken into consideration on or after the 6th September 1957 and any objection or suggestion with regard thereto, which may be received by the undersigned on or before that date, will be duly considered.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of interpretation of the award published under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4730 Dis. D/7L-12(A)/55, dated the 30th September 1955, under rule 20A of the Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

DECISION

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, dated 12th July 1954, read with addendum No. 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 21st July 1954 and its corrigendum No. 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 26th August 1954, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 Jute Mills mentioned in the list attached to the said order, dated 12th July 1954, read with the said addendum, dated 21st July 1954 and corrigendum No. 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 26th August 1954, and their workmen represented by six Unions, viz.—

(1) National Union of Jute Workers,

(2) Jute Workers' Federation,

(3) Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union,

(4) Bengal Provincial Chatkal Mazdoor Union,

(5) Paschim Banga Chatkal Mazdoor Federation, and

(6) Howrah Zilla Chatkal Mazdoor Union,

in regard to matters specified in a schedule mentioned in the order of reference to an Industrial Tribunal consisting of Shri M. C. Banerji, District Judge (Retd.), as Chairman and Shri S. C. Mukherji, District Judge, as Member, for adjudication. This Tribunal shall be referred to hereinafter as the Third Jute Textile Tribunal. The award of the Tribunal in respect of the proceedings on that order of reference which shall be mentioned hereinafter as the Third Jute Textile Tribunal Award was made on 20th September 1955 and was published under notification No. 4730Dis./D/7L-12(A)/55, dated 30th September 1955, in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

As some questions arose as to the interpretation of the award mentioned above, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 648Dis./D/7L-20/56, dated 17th February 1956, referred, under rule 20A of the Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1947, the following questions which had arisen as to the interpretation of the said award to this Tribunal for decision.

Questions

(1) Whether all the workmen of the Jute Textile Industry other than mistries, clerks and durwans are entitled to increase in basic wages by Rs. 8-10-9 per month in terms of the award published under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4730Dis./D/7L-12(A)/55, dated the 30th September 1955, made by the Tribunal referred to in the said order.

(2) Whether the mistries, including the oilers, in the Jute Textile Industry are entitled to a nett increase of Rs. 3-12-9 in their total wages per month in terms of the aforesaid award.

(3) Whether all the durwans in the Jute Textile Industry are entitled to increase in basic wages by Rs. 8 per month in terms of the said award.

Notices were issued on the parties to the award and written statements were filed by (1) Jute Workers' Federation, (2) The Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union, (3) The National Union of Jute Workers and (4) The Bengal Provincial Chatkal Mazdoor Union out of the six Unions of workmen, who were parties to the Jute Textile Tribunal Award and by the Indian Jute Mills Association and Victoria Jute Products Co., out of the employers who were parties in the award. The parties abovementioned, except the National Union of Jute Workers, filed written statements suggesting answers to the questions referred for decision to the Tribunal. The National Union of Jute Workers questioned the jurisdiction of the Government in making the order of reference for interpretation of the award as it had done, under rule 20A of the Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1947, and also the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to make an interpretation of the said Jute Textile Tribunal Award on the basis of the order of reference. The Indian Jute Mills Association representing the majority of the employers involved in the Jute Textile Tribunal Award abovementioned, however, opposed this claim in bar raised by the National Union of Jute Workers, besides suggesting answers to the questions referred and these two parties were heard in a preliminary proceeding on the question of jurisdiction of the Tribunal to entertain the reference made by the Government. It is necessary to mention here that an appeal was preferred by some of the parties to the aforesaid award to the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India at Calcutta and the decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal was made by judgment delivered on 31st May 1956. By this judgment, the award of the Jute Textile Tribunal was modified in part.

The preliminary objection as to the jurisdiction of the Tribunal in making interpretation as raised by the National Union of Jute Workers was heard and an interim order was made on 18th March 1957, to the effect that this Tribunal had jurisdiction to entertain the order of reference by the Government and the Tribunal was bound to make an interpretation of the award of the Third Jute Textile Tribunal as modified by the decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India in obedience to the order of reference under rule 20A of the Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:—

For the Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union:

Shri Indrajit Gupta.

For the Jute Workers' Federation:

Shri Phani Ghosh.

For the Bengal Provincial Chatkal Mazdoor Union:

Shri Shyam Chakrabarty.

For Howrah Zilla Chatkal Mazdoor Union:

Shri Narayan Das Gupta, and Shri Shib Nath Banerji.

For the I.J.M.A. representing the Employers:

Shri K. B. Basu, Counsel,
Shri R. M. Sen Gupta, Labour Adviser,
Shri R. L. Moitra, Deputy Labour Adviser, and Sm. P. Mitra, Labour Officer.

For the Bhuturia Jute Mills:

Shri P. R. Mukherji, Advocate.

The parties who appeared and suggested answers to the questions referred for interpretation were heard and the questions are considered below.

Question No. 1: The award of the Third Jute Textile Tribunal on the decision fixing the basic wages of the manual workers that has given rise to the question at issue is as follows: "We, therefore, decide and award that for a 48-hour week, the lowest paid worker shall get a basic wage of Rs. 34.67 or Rs. 34-10-9 and a dearness allowance of Rs. 32.50 or Rs. 32-8 per month. The total wage for the lowest paid worker will, therefore, be Rs. 67.17 or Rs. 67-2-9 per month. The result is that there will be an increase of Rs. 3.80 or about Rs. 3-12-9 per month for all categories of manual workers all along the scale. Consequent on the fixation of the basic wage of the lowest paid worker at Rs. 34-10-9 per month, every worker in the industry except the clerks, mistries and durwans will have his basic wage raised by Rs. 8.67 or Rs. 8-10-9 per month to maintain the existing differentials. The dearness allowance shall be the same, i.e., Rs. 32.50 or Rs. 32-8 per month for all categories of workers including the clerks, mistries and durwans. As a consequence, the standardised wages mentioned in Appendix VI of the First Award will undergo a change. The new standardised wages will appear in Appeidix VIII of this award. The figures in Appendix VIII have been arrived at in the same way as detailed in paragraph 6(2) of the First Award, i.e., by adding Rs. 8.67 to the old basic wage in Appendix VI of the First Award and then by pursuing a process of rounding off, so as to make each figures correspond to a rate expressed in annas and whole pies per hour. We have arrived at figures of rupees with decimal fractions which may be converted into rupees, annas and pies. We award that subject to the directions in regard to basic wages of the manual workers in the Prabartak Jute Mills and some other minor mills mentioned hereafter, the scheme of basic wages mentioned in Appendix VIII shall be applicable to all workers concerned in all other Jute Mills involved in this reference except the clerks, mistries and durwans." (pages 54-55) * * * "Consequent on a revision of the standardised wages as mentioned in Appendix VIII of this award, a revision of the piece-rates mentioned in Appendix V of the First Award has also become necessary" (page 57) * * * "The standardised wages mentioned in Appendix VIII for these piece-rated workers mean that the piece-rated workers working with diligence and efficiency and maintaining the average standard of production does earn not less than the standard of basic wages which we have indicated in the Appendix" (page 57). * * * "The result is that the piece-rated workers will get the new basic wages as constructed and mentioned in Appendix VIII of this award and the piece-rates as mentioned in Appendix V of the First Award have to be revised so as to yield the wages as mentioned in Appendix VIII. The new standard piece-rates have been constructed on the same considerations as were made in the First Award in Issue No. 4 and the rates have been revised so as to correspond to the new basic wages indicated in Appendix VIII. The new standardised piece-rates will appear in Appendix IX of this award" (page 58).

On the above statement of the Tribunal, the contentions of the Unions are as follows:—

The Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union states that the employer refused to grant to all categories of workmen the full extent of the increment in wages which it was clearly the intention of the Tribunal to grant to the said workmen, that the employers refused to accept in the right spirit the Tribunal's direction that the existing wage differentials should be preserved intact in the interests of industrial peace. It is further stated that the term "differentials" must be taken to mean the actually existing differentials immediately prior to implementation of the Tribunal's award and there should be no distrubance whatsoever of the status quo in respect of such differentials. It is stated that unless the above stated principles are accepted, the very purpose of the award will be defeated, viz., to effect a uniform and general upward revision of the wages by increments to the extent of Rs. 8 in the case of clerks and durwans and Rs. 8-10-9 in the case of all other workmen, save and except the Weaving Line Sardars. The Union also raised the case of Weaving Line Sardar and it is pressed that the differentials between the wages of a Line Sardar and the wages of the weavers cannot be maintained simply by directing their wages to be increased by Rs. 8-10-9. It is stated that the answers to all the three questions referred to the Tribunal should be in the affirmative.

The Jute Workers' Federation, in its written statement, states on question No. 1 that there is a clear direction that not only the basic wages of the lowest paid workers shall be raised by Rs. 8-10-9, but the wages of all categories of manual workers shall be raised by Rs. 8-10-9 all along the scale. It has been further directed that the wages of all categories of workmen will be raised by Rs. 8-10-9 to maintain the existing differentials. So, Rs. 8.67 shall always be added to the existing wage of the workers and the minimum will never go beyond what is prescribed in Appendix VIII of the award. The present practice of the Companies in implementing the award is to integrate Rs. 4-14 of dearness allowance per month to basic wages and add Rs. 3.80 or anything less, that is necessary to make up the figure in Appendix VIII. This is wrong interpretation of the award.

The Bengal Provincial Chatkal Mazdoor Union, in its written statement, states that all the workmen of the Jute Textile Industry other than mistries, clerks and durwans are entitled to increase in basic wage by Rs. 8-10-9 per month in terms of the award.

The Indian Jute Mills Association, in its written statement, states that where the existing basic wages were lower than the standardised wages in the award, such wages should be raised up to the level fixed by the Tribunal. Standardisation involves not only raising of wages but lowering of wages, so that all wages should be co-ordinated and paid on the same basis so that all units in one industry may pay a uniform wage.

On a careful consideration of the matter, it appears that the Tribunal awarded that for a 48-hour week, the lowest paid worker shall get a basic wage of Rs. 34.67 and a dearness allowance of Rs. 32.5 per month. The result is that there will be a nett increase of Rs. 3.80 per month for the lowest paid worker. The Tribunal then decided that as a consequence every worker in the industry except the clerks, mistries and durwans, whose cases are separately dealt with, will have his basic wage raised by Rs. 8.67 per month to maintain the existing differentials, for which reason the standardised wages mentioned in Appendix VI of the First Award will undergo a change. The new standardised wages with the necessary increases appear in Appendix VIII of the Third Award. The final direction of the Tribunal is that subject to the directions in regard to basic wages of the manual workers in the Prabartak Jute Mills and similar other minor mills mentioned in the award, the scheme of basic wages mentioned in Appendix VIII shall be applicable to all workers concerned in all other Jute Mills involved in this reference except clerks, mistries and durwans. As to the piece-rated workers, the direction was that the piece-rated workers will get the new basic wages as constructed and mentioned in Appendix VIII of the Third Award and the piece-rates as mentioned in Appendix V of the Third Award have to be revised so as to yield the wages as mentioned in Appendix VIII of the Third Award. The new standardised piece-rates appear in Appendix IX of the Third Award.

It is clear that the Tribunal while increasing the wages of the workers to the new rates of wages only considered the standardised basic wage rates mentioned in Appendix VI of the First Award and the statement that as a consequence of the increase granted to the lowest paid workers every worker in the industry except the clerks, mistries and durwans will have his basic wage raised by Rs. 8.67 per month to maintain the existing differentials only relate to the wages as mentioned in Appendix VI. The observations as to increase of wages—whether time-rates or piece-rates—relate to the existing standardised wages in Appendix VI and Appendix V of the First Award and the increase spoken of has been allowed to form the new wage structure as mentioned in Appendices VIII and IX of the Third Award. The new wages as finally awarded with the increases allowed have been shown in Appendices VIII and IX of the Third Award. The observations of the Tribunal that the increase of Rs. 8.67 should be allowed to all workmen to maintain the existing differentials cannot be read without the context of the wages mentioned in Appendix VI of the First Award. The Tribunal never mentioned what was to happen in the case of the worker who was getting higher wages than the standardised rates mentioned in Appendix VI of the First Award and the observations in the award as to the increase of Rs. 8.67 all along the scale to maintain the differentials cannot be taken to attach to any such wages which were different from the rates mentioned in Appendix VI of the First Award. It cannot, therefore, be accepted that the term "differentials" must be taken to mean actual existing differentials prior to the implementation of the Tribunal's award as claimed by the Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union. The claim of the Jute Workers' Federation that Rs. 8.67 shall always be added to the existing wages of the workers and the wages will never go below what is prescribed in the Appendix VIII of the present award, is not justified on a reading of the award. A similar claim of the Bengal Provincial Chatkal Mazdoor Union is also equally incorrect. The claim of the Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union as to the wage of Line Sardar is incompetent, as this claim was rejected by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal (1956 L.A.C., 719 at 784).

The answer to the question is that all the workmen of the Jute Textile Industry other than mistries, clerks and durwans are entitled to an increase in basic wages by Rs. 8-10-9 per month in terms of the award so as to reach the standardised wages as mentioned in Appendix VIII and Appendix IX of the award. They are not entitled to the increments mentioned in the award if they do not claim the standardised wages as mentioned in Appendix VIII and Appendix IX.

The Third Jute Award follows the general plan of the previous two awards. At page 86, the Third Award states as follows:—

> "This is the third of the Major Jute Textile Industry Tribunals appointed by the Government of West Bengal to adjudicate on the wage structure and other terms of employment and conditions of service in the Jute Textile Industry in West Bengal since August 1947. We have found it proper to accept the basic structure of the two previous awards, and have advanced a step further in the progress of the wage towards a living wage. The three awards make a consistent whole and present a complete picture of the terms of employment and conditions of service in the Jute Textile Industry in West Bengal."

This award follows the general pattern of the First and the Second Awards. The Third Award is silent as to how the wages that are above the standardised wages formulated in Appendix VIII are to be dealt with. The First Award at page 28 states on the point as follows:—

> "We agree generally with the principle enunciated in these observations, and we have decided that no reduction in respect of the existing scales of wages should be allowed to take place by virtue of the scheme of standardisation which we have set forth in Appendix VI under the present issue."

The clear direction was that the existing wages which were above the standardised rates shall not be reduced. As all the three awards follow the same general basic structure and together present a complete picture of the terms of employment and conditions of service in the Jute Textile Industry in West Bengal, it should be understood that the intention of the award is that no reduction in the existing scales of wages should take place by virtue of the scheme of standardisation as set forth in Appendix VIII of the award. This decision of the First Tribunal helps to clear the question as to how the existing wages above the newly constructed standardised rates should be dealt with and clarifies such disputes raised in regard to all the three questions dealt with this decision.

Question No. 2: As to the wages of the mistries and oilers, the directions of the Tribunal are as follows:—

> "Considering the fact that the dearness allowance is being reduced and that the manual workers have been allowed some increment in their basic wages, it is decided that the wage rates of the mistries of all categories as mentioned in Appendix IV of the Second Award, should be increased by 8 pies per hour." * * * "The new standardised basic wage rates for the mistries will appear in Appendix X of this Award" (page 68).

The Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union, as has been mentioned above, claims that the question should be answered in the affirmative and that mistries including oilers in the Jute Industry should be entitled to a nett increase of Rs. 3.80 in the total wages per month in terms of the aforesaid award.

The Jute Workers' Federation states that 8 pies per hour works at Rs. 8-10-9 per month. If the dearness allowance of Rs. 4-14 per month is taken from it, then every mistry and oiler will be entitled to an increase of Rs. 3-12-9 in the basic wage. The standardised basic wage for the mistries has been separately given in Appendix X of the Third Award. Here too Appendix X has been prepared by adding 8 pies per hour on the rates fixed by the Second Award. The award has never suggested that by adding 8 pies per hour if the total exceeds the rates prescribed in Appendix X of the Third Award then the excess should not be paid. Appendix X has only prescribed the minimum and every mistry and oiler is entitled to an increment of Rs. 3-12-9 per month on the top of what he was getting after the operation of the Second Award and an integration of the dearness allowance of Rs. 4-14 per month in basic rate. The employers have conveniently interpreted that nobody should be paid in excess of what is prescribed in Appendix X.

The Bengal Provincial Chatkal Mazdoor Union states, in its written statement, that the mistries and oilers are entitled to a nett increase of Rs. 3-12-9 in terms of the Third Award.

The Indian Jute Mills Association, in its written statement, states that the observation of the Tribunal at page 68 shows that the intention of the Tribunal was to increase the basic wages of the mistries including the oilers mentioned in Appendix IV of the Second Award by 8 pies per hour and the revised standardised wage appears in Appendix X of the Third Award. Accordingly, any mistry or oiler who was getting less wages than what was fixed in the Third Award should be brought up to the standard and where any mistry or oiler was already getting a wage higher than what was stipulated in Appendix IV of the Second Award, the question of giving him a further increase beyond the newly laid down standard rates in Appendix X of the Third Award does not arise.

On a careful reading of the award on the point, it appears that the Tribunal increased the wage rates of the mistries of all categories as mentioned in Appendix IV of the Second Award by 8 pies per hour and arrived at the new standardised basic rates of the mistries as shown in Appendix X of the Third Award. There is no question of paying a nett increase of Rs. 3-12-9 to all mistries, irrespective of the wage he was actually getting according to the directions of the award. The directions of the award clearly show that the new standardised basic wages for the mistries have been mentioned in Appendix X of this Award and the mistries can claim the increase if they claim the basic wages prescribed in Appendix X of the award and not otherwise. Question No. 2 is, therefore, answered accordingly.

Question No. 3: The Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India modified the award of the Third Jute Textile Tribunal regarding the wages of three categories of workers, viz. jamadars, havildars and durwans by fixing their wages at Rs. 73.67, Rs. 58.67 and Rs. 44.67, respectively. The Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal further directed that in case where the existing wages are higher than the awarded wage, the direction of a flat increment of Rs. 8.67 shall not apply (1956 L.A.C., 719 at 773). The observations of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal appears as follows:—

"The Third Tribunal which maintained the conditions laid down in the Second Award, instead of giving a detailed direction in the award, only made a reference to the conditions laid down in the Second Award in these words:

'We award that the basic wages of jamadars, havildars and durwans should be increased by Rs. 8 per month under existing conditions as laid down in the Second Award.'

These words appear to have given rise to a good deal of controversies. The employers who pay higher wages to the members of the watch and ward staff have not given any increment. The workers have made a grievance of this. The Tribunal clearly intended to retain in full the conditions laid down in the Second Award and we are definitely of the opinion that the said conditions are consistent with equity, justice and good conscience. There should not be any compulsion on the goodness and generosity of the employers to be more generous. To remove the confusion, the conditions are incorporated in the present decision of ours. We affirm the award on this point and direct that where the existing wages for these 3 categories of workmen are higher than the scales awarded, those existing higher scales shall be maintained, and where time-scale grades are in existence, such time-scale grades shall be maintained on similar lines. In case where the existing wages are higher than those awarded, the direction of a flat increment of Rs. 8.67 shall not apply. Subject to the modifications as aforesaid, the award on this point is affirmed."

The flat increment of Rs. 8 to the wages of the jamadars, havildars and durwans as was allowed by the Third Award has been modified to Rs. 8.67 by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal. The controversy that has been raised here that the flat increment of Rs, 8, or Rs. 8.67, as allowed by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal, should be available to all jamadars, havildars and durwans, irrespective of their existing wages has been set at rest by the decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal where it has been stated that in case where the existing wages are higher than what is awarded, the directions of a flat increment of Rs. 8.67 shall not apply. The learned spokesman for the Jute Workers' Federation stated that this observation of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal shows that the flat increment was not applied where the existing wage was actually higher than the awarded wage and not where it was slightly lower than the awarded wage, but higher than the wage as prescribed by the Second Award. This contention is not supported by the statement of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal as mentioned above. It is clearly stated that the Tribunal clearly intended to retain in full conditions laid down in the Second Award and the said conditions are consistent with equity, justice and good conscience. There should not be any compulsion on the goodness and generosity of the employers to be more generous. To remove the confusion, the conditions as stated above were incorporated in the decision.

The answer to the question is that all durwans in the Jute Textile Industry are entitled to an increase of Rs. 8.67, as allowed by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India so as to reach the standardised wages of Rs. 73.67 for jamadars, Rs. 58.67 for havildars and Rs. 44.67 for durwans.

They are not entitled to the increment mentioned by the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal if they do not claim the standardised rates fixed by that Tribunal.

For G.E.C. Staff & Workers' Union: Shri Nikhil Ranjan Roy, Advocate, and Shri Jugol Kishore Paul, Secretary of the Union.

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 800-I.R./IR/10L-21/57, dated Calcutta, the 9th March 1957, referred the above dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The reference was received by this Tribunal on 8th April 1957. Before this the present dispute was referred to the First Industrial Tribunal by G.O. No. 4755Dis./D/10L-87/55, dated the 3rd October 1955. The parties duly filed written statements before the Tribunal. The dispute remained pending before the First Tribunal till 15th March 1957. At this stage the reference was withdrawn from the First Tribunal and referred to this Tribunal. On receipt of reference by this Tribunal fresh notices were served on the parties and they adopted the written statements already filed before the First Industrial Tribunal. This Tribunal took up the case for hearing on 3rd June 1957 and the evidence was closed on 15th June 1957. Arguments were heard on 2nd July 1957 and 3rd July 1957 and the award was reserved.

The issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand as follows:—

(1) Whether the dismissal of the undernoted workmen was justified? What relief are they entitled to?

(i) Probodh Kumar Das, (ii) Ranjit Kumar Roy, (iii) Brojo Kishore Dutta, (iv) S. M. Munshi, (v) Rangalal Naskar, (vi) Ramen Paul, (vii) Abdul Gaffur, (viii) P. C. Chandra and (ix) Tarendra Nath Bose.

(2) Whether the workmen are entitled to any bonus for 1954-55? What should be the quantum of bonus?

(3) Whether, in case of emergency, the up-country workmen should get leave without wages? What should be the period of this leave? Whether the benefits of ten days' block closure with pay during the Pujas, which has been discontinued, should be restored?

(4) Whether the existing rates of wages and dearness allowance are in accordance with the Major Engineering Tribunal Awards? In what way they should be improved? What should be the revised grades and scales?

(5) Whether the present system of granting annual increment is fair? In what way it should be improved?

(6) In what way the existing Standing Orders of the Company should be revised?

AWARD

In the present case the workmen are represented by two Unions, viz., Paharpur Works Employees' Union (hereinafter called the Employees' Union) and G.E.C. Staff & Workers' Union (hereinafter called Workers' Union). Regarding Issue No. 1 which is in respect of dismissal of nine workers, the G.E.C. Staff & Workers' Union refrained from making any comment. But the Paharpur Works Employees' Union took up the cause of those nine workmen. This Union contends inter alia that the dismissal of these nine workmen was illegal, improper, and mala fide and carried with ulterior motive. Five of them are members of the Executive Committee of the Union or Executive Committee and the remaining four are active members of the Union. The Employees' Union claims that they should be reinstated with compensation. Regarding the Issues Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 the demands of both the Unions are one and the same. The Unions contend that the workmen of the Company had all along been enjoying annual customary bonus at the rate of one month's basic wages payable in the month of July-August every year irrespective of profit and loss. The workers got such bonus till the year 1953 but the Company arbitrarily stopped payment of this bonus. Besides this annual customary bonus, the workmen are entitled to get profit bonus as the Company is earning considerable profits every year. So the Unions have claimed both customary bonus and profit-sharing bonus for the year 1954-55, for the workmen of this Company. The Unions further contend that in this Company there are many workers who hail from up-country and the short holidays available from time to time cannot be properly utilised by them as they cannot go to their native villages during these holidays. So they require leave with pay for a month or so in a year for the purpose of going to their villages in cases of emergency. The Unions therefore demand that in cases of emergency up-country workmen shall be allowed such leave. Then again, the workmen in this Company have been enjoying the benefit of block closure of 10 days with pay during the Pujas without any condition attached thereto in respect of attendance. But in 1954 all on a sudden and without any notice whatsoever the Company refused to grant this benefit to the workers. The Unions claim that this benefit of block closure of 10 days with pay at the time of Puja is a right and condition of service and as such should be restored. The Unions urge that though the rates of basic wages and dearness allowance now existing in this Company are in accordance with the Major Engineering Tribunal Awards, they require revision as there has been a material change in the circumstances. It is high time that the rates of wages of different categories should be improved. The Unions further contend that this Company has a scheme of granting annual increment to workmen but it is neither scientific nor based on equity. The increment depends upon the whims of the Management. The Union accordingly demanded scientific grades and scales with annual increments. Regarding the existing Standing Orders of the Company, the grievance of the Employees' Union is that on many points the said Standing Orders stand against the rights and privileges guaranteed by the Indian Constitution and as such they require drastic revision.

In reply, the Company contends that the dismissal of nine workmen as mentioned in the Issue No. 1 of the order of reference was bona fide and for good cause and that they were found guilty of gross misconduct according to the Standing Orders of the Company. The principles of natural justice were strictly followed and the Company was not actuated by any extraneous consideration in terminating their services. The Company emphatically denies that there was any victimisation of the workers for their Union activities. Regarding bonus, it is the contention of the Company that bonus that was paid was ex-gratia payment and never a condition of service nor did it acquire the status of customary bonus. In view of severe loss during the year 1954-55, the Company did not and could not make any ex-gratia payment. The trading results of the Company for the year 1954-55 do not justify the claim of the workmen for any share as bonus. After meeting all the prior charges there is no available surplus to distribute among the workers. The Company in consideration of the interests of industry is compelled to discourage long leave without wages to its workmen as it affects the proper working of the factory and hampered production. Still it grants leave without pay to its workmen in emergency cases. Such emergency cases depend upon several facts and circumstances and should be left to the discretion of the Management. The Company says that the benefit of block closure is still being continued. So the question of restoration does not arise. Regarding the existing rates of wages and dearness allowance, the Company contends that it was a party to two Major Engineering Tribunal Awards of 1948 and 1950 and the Company has fully implemented directions of the said two awards. In matter of wages and dearness allowance, the Company follows the said two awards. So there is no scope for any improvement in this respect. The Company says that though it has not got any scheme of automatic annual increment the existing system of granting increment to its workmen is fair, as such increments are granted after periodical review of their work, performance, conduct and attendance. Lastly, the Company has submitted that in view of its financial position it is unable to bear any additional burden for introduction of any grade system or time-scale of wages.

Regarding the Standing Orders, the Company wants to say that they are in accordance with other Engineering concerns in neighbourhood and need no revision or modification in any respect.

Issue No. 1

Out of these nine workers who have been dismissed they may be divided into several groups. In the first group come the workers Probodh Kumar Das and Ranjit Kumar Roy. It is said that on 2nd May 1955 they along with some other workmen collected themselves at the factory gate just after the closing hours, used abusive language against the personnel and Security Officers of the Company and threatened to assault them. For this they were charge--sheeted. They submitted their replies to the charges. After this the Management held enquiries with reference to the charge-sheets and as a result of the said enquiries the Management found them guilty of gross misconduct warranting dismissal. Accordingly, the Company by letters, dated 7th May 1955 and 16th May 1955, dismissed them from their services. The workers Brojo Kishore Dutta, S. M. Munshi and Rangalal Naskar come within the second group. There is common charge-sheet against each of them. The workmen without giving any proper notice decided to go on a token strike on 9th May 1955, but some of the workers who are loyal and were against such strike had decided to attend to their duties in the factory on that date. The charges against these three workers were that they on 9th May 1955 were found indulging in various acts subversive of discipline on the way leading to the factory from Brace Bridge Station and that they along with others unlawfullly restrained the loyal workers from going to the factory by obstructing them by use of threats and intimidation till they were rescued by other employees or by the police on duty. It is further alleged that they actually assaulted one such workman Shri Amitava Roy. These three workers received the charge-sheets and sent replies. Enquiries were duly held and as a result of such enquiries the Management came to clear findings that the three workmen concerned were involved therein and as such they were guilty of misconduct. So they were dismissed by the Company's letters, dated 17th May 1955 and 19th May 1955.

Regarding the worker Shri Ramen Paul, the charge is that on 3rd June 1955 he was asked by the Management to attend to some urgent work at Indian Patent Stone Company but he refused to obey this lawful and reasonable order. Further charge against him is that when he was called by the Personnel Officer in his office and the Personnel Officer was enquiring into the incident in presence of other officers he used abusive language against the Management and was insubordinate to the officers of the Company who were present. So he was charge-sheeted and he submitted his reply. Thereafter an enquiry followed and the charges against him were proved. So he was found guilty of misconduct and dismissed.

Regarding the worker Shri P. C. Chandra, the Management noticed that for some time past he was deliberately slowing down production. So on 16th June 1955 he was charge-sheeted for wilfully slowing down in the performance of his work as a reason of which his output had been low. He replied to the charge-sheet. Thereafter the Company held proper enquiry and in that enquiry he was found guilty of the charge. So the Company dismissed him from service by its letter, dated 22nd June 1955.

Regarding remaining two workers, Tarendra Nath Bose and Abdul Gaffur, it is stated that they had gone on leave but they overstayed the leave allowed to them even after due notices were given to them. Accordingly, they rendered themselves liable to dismissal according to the provisions of the Company's Standing Orders.

The workers concerned contended that they were not guilty of the charges levelled against them. Shri Rangalal Naskar, Shri S. M. Munshi and Shri Brojo Kishore Dutta stated that they were not present at the place where the incident took place as they were at their respective houses at that time, and did not come out and that the witnesses who spoke against them were members of the rival Union and also in league with the Company and have falsely implicated them as they were active members of the Employees' Union. Similar is the version of the workers Shri Probodh Kumar Das and Ranjit Kumar Roy. They too stated that they were not present at the place as they had gone home immediately after the closing of the factory. The Company's case is that they were found guilty after proper enquiry of the charges made against them and that what they did amounted to serious misconduct and their dismissal was proper. The case of Shri Ramen Paul was that he was unwell and had no licence also and that for these reasons which were duly communicated to the Management he did not and could not go to do the work in the Indian Patent Stone Company. He denied having used abusive and obscene language to the Personnel Officer. The worker Shri P. C. Chandra denied that he was slowing down production. The Management also made proper enquiries regarding their cases and were satisfied that they were guilty of the charges. As the offence committed by them was serious misconduct they were dismissed. The workers Abdul Gaffur and Tarendra Nath Bose wanted to say that they did not overstay leave inasmuch as they sent applications extending their leave. But this version was not accepted by the Company. So these two workers rendered themselves liable to dismissal according to the provisions of the Company's Standing Orders.

In approaching the question as to whether the dismissal of these nine workmen was justified or not we have to keep in view the principles laid down in the Buckingham & Carnatic case (1952, I.A.C., page 490); that is to say, that an Industrial Tribunal should not sit in appeal over the decision of the Management in the matter of termination of service of employees unless—

(a) there was want of bona fides on the part of the Management; or

(b) that there was victimisation or unfair labour practice or violation of the principles of natural justice; or

(c) there was basic error on the facts; or

(d) there was perverse finding on the materials available to the Management.

Undue interference by a Tribunal with the administration and Management is not encouraged. It is of course open to the Tribunal to examine the findings of the Management on the allegation of misconduct to assure itself that there is evidence to support the finding and that the decision of the Management is possible in view of the facts before it. In such cases the Tribunal should refrain from substituting its own judgment for the judgment of the Management, as in such matters the Tribunal does not act like a court of appeal but rather as a supervisory body.

Bearing in mind the principles enunciated above let me now decide the cases of each of these nine workers. All the workers except the workers Shri P. C. Chandra and Shri Abdul Gaffur have been examined by the Union. Shri P. C. Chandra and Abdul Gaffur did not come either to depose or to defend their cases before the Tribunal. The Company has examined its officers and also some of the workers who saw the incidents complained of. Besides the oral evidence, both parties have produced documentary evidence. The Company produced the papers of the enquiries. I have carefully examined the evidence, both oral and documentary and I am satisfied that the principles of natural justice were strictly followed and that there was no violation in this respect. The papers produced and proved by the Company got to show unmistakably that the full and detailed enquiries were made in which witnesses were examined in presence of the workers concerned. The workers duly received the charge-sheets and had sufficient opportunities of knowing the charges against them. They also submitted explanations. In face of all these it is futile for the Union to contend that the principles of natural justice were violated.

Regarding the charges levelled against the workers Ranjit Kumar Roy and Probodh Kumar Das, it has been satisfactorily proved by the evidence of O.P.W. 3 Mr. T. R. Dailey, the Security Officer and O.P.W. 4 Shri Puran Bahadur Sarma, a Watchman of the factory. O.P.W. 3 Mr. T. R. Dailey has proved the complaint [Ext. I(1)] which he made immediately after the occurrence. In this complaint the names of these two workers were given. It is clearly stated there that these two workers shouted "Maro Salo Ko" when the car of Mr. Sarker, Personnel Officer, left the factory and after this these two workers turned towards Mr. Dailey who was standing inside the factory near the narrow gate and said "we will split your head then you will know". Mr. Dailey has also deposed on the same line before the Tribunal. He has definitely said that he recognised these two workers. He has also stated the reasons for knowing their names. His evidence is that as Shri P. K. Das and Ranjit Kumar Roy were charge-sheeted on several occasions and these charge-sheets were served through him as Security Officer he had the occasion to know their names. I do not see sufficient reason to disbelieve his testimony. The demeanour of this witness showed that he was making a true statement and not implicating these two workers on account of any instigation. O.P.W. 4 Puran Bahadur Sarma, a Watchman of the factory, has deposed also that on 2nd May 1955 after the closing of the factory while he was standing near the factory gate the Personnel Officer was going out in his car and that as soon as that car came out of the factory and took a turn, these two workers who were standing beneath a tree outside the factory shouted "Maro Salo Ko". He has further stated that as soon as the car took speed these two workers came back to the place and seeing the Security Officer standing near the gate of the factory, they abused him filthily and asked him to come out. He has definitely said that these two workers were known to him from before and he knows the names of many workers, though not all, as he has been in the factory for the last 12 years. I have been impressed that O.P.W. 4 was telling the truth. He is definite that these two workers shouted. In the circumstances the Management was quite justified in coming to the conclusion that these two workers were guilty of serious misconduct and that such conduct amounted to dismissal. It cannot be said that their dismissal was effected by way of victimisation or unfair labour practice. Nor can it be said that there was want of bona fides on the part of the Management or that there was basic error on facts. The finding of the Management on the materials available was not certainly perverse. I would rather say that the decision of the Management was not only a possible view on the evidence before it but it was the reasonable and rational view. Hence the decision of the Management must be respected and upheld. No Company can afford to tolerate such insubordination and insolence on the part of workers. The Tribunal holds that the dismissal of Shri Probodh Kumar Das and Shri Ranjit Kumar Roy is justified. They are therefore entitled to no relief.

Next I would take up the case of three workmen Shri Brojo Kishore Dutta, S. M. Munshi and Rangalal Naskar. I have already stated that the charge against each of them is common. The point for consideration is whether they were involved in the incident that took place on 9th May 1955. In other words, it is to be decided whether these three workrs on that date were found indulging in acts subversive of discipline on the way leading to the factory from Brace Bridge Station and unlawfully restrained the loyal workers from going to the factory by threats and intimidation. The workers decided to stage a token strike on 9th May 1955. The Company has adduced evidence that these three workers were involved in the incident that took place on 9th May 1955 and obstructed the loyal workers from coming to the factory on duty on that date by using threats and intimidation and assaulting one such workman, Shri Amitava Roy. These three workers have also deposed before the Tribunal. They gave a denial in toto. Their version is that as there was to be a strike on 9th May 1955, they did not come out of their houses where they remained whole day. On a consideration of the entire evidence I am of the view that these three workers were involved in the incident that took place on 9th May 1955 and that they along with others actually obstructed a number of loyal workers who were coming to duty on that day by threats and intimidation. I am not prepared to believe that they remained at their houses on that date and did not stir out. No reliance can be placed on their uncorroborated testimony. They took the plea of alibi. It was open to them to prove this plea by examining some of their neighbours and inmates of their houses. But they have not minded to examine any such witness. So in the face of overwhelming documentary and oral evidence as furnished by the Company it is extremely difficult to accept their version that they remained inside their houses on that date and did not come out. It has transpired that these three workers were the members of the Executive Committee of the Union which had decided to stage a token strike on 9th May 1955. So it was quite likely that these three workers, members as they were of the Executive Committee of the Union, would exert their best to make the token strike successful. In the circumstances it can be hardly believed that on the date of strike they would remain dumb and mute and prefer to stay in their houses without taking any active part for making the strike successful. This aspect of the matter cannot be overlooked. In my view this rather throws light on the truth. I have no doubt or hesitation in saying that their statements that they were in their houses on that date and did not come out are absolutely false. Now let me turn to the evidence as led by the Company. Exhibits H(1) and I(1) are the written complaints of O.P.W. 1 and O.P.W. 2 Shri Amitava Roy and Tarapada Ganguly which were made immediately after the incident. In Ext. H(1) it is clearly stated that these three workers actually obstructed the loyal workers who were coming to duty on 9th May 1955, and assaulted Amitava Roy, one of such workers. In Ext. I(1) mention is also made that these three workers obstructed and assaulted the loyal workers who were coming to the factory on duty on that date. Shri Amitava Roy and Tarapada Ganguly have also deposed before the Tribunal. They are two of the loyal workers who wanted to come to the factory on that date for work. O.P.W. 1 Shri Amitava Roy has stated clearly that these three workers were involved in the incident that took place on 9th May 1955. He has further stated that what is stated in his written complaint is true. O.P.W. 2 Shri Tarapada Ganguly has deposed on oath that on 9th May 1955 while he was coming to the factory, he was obstructed by these three workers and others. Besides the evidence, there is also the evidence led in the enquiry before the domestic tribunal. The Tribunal is entitled to take into consideration the evidence on the strength of which the domestic tribunal came to the conclusion that these three workers were guilty. From that evidence also it is abundantly clear that these three workers were not only involved in the incident that took place on 9th May 1955 but took prominent part in it. In my opinion the charges levelled against these three workers have been satisfactorily proved. Their conduct was highly subversive of discipline and did amount to misconduct. Investigating carefully, I am of the view that the Company proceeded against these three workers because they were considered to have taken a prominent part in the incident. The criterion was prominance in the occurrence and not prominance in the Union. It is therefore decided that the dismissal of these three workers was justified and proper. In my estimation the Company was not actuated by any ulterior motive or extraneous consideration. It cannot be said that their dismissal was effected by way of victimisation or unfair labour practice. Therefore the decision of the Management must be upheld as it was a reasonable one. I am not prepared to agree with the Union that these three workmen were dismissed because of their Union activities. The finding of the Management cannot be said to be perverse or wrong. So the dismissal of these three workers is also upheld. That being so, they are not entitled to any relief whatsoever.

Next I would take up the case of the worker Ramen Paul. From the materials placed before the Tribunal it appears that on 3rd June 1955 he was asked to attend to some urgent work at Indian Patent Stone Company but he refused to obey that reasonable order and for this he was charge-sheeted. He gave explanation that he was unwell and had no licence and as such he was unable to go there. But it is contended by the Company that this plea was an afterthought, inasmuch as he did not tell any such thing when he was asked to go there. In support of this the Company has examined O.P.W. 5 Shri Tara Prasanna Chakraborty who is employed in the Repairing Shop of the Company. He has deposed that being asked by the General Manager he asked Sakawat Ali, Head Mistry, to depute two persons to Messrs. Indian Patent Stone for work but later he came to know that two men selected by Sakawat Ali for the purpose had refused to go outside for work and that Ramen Paul was one of them. O.P.W. 5 reported the matter to the General Manager and Mr. Spencer, the latter along with O.P.W. 5, then went to Ramen Paul and asked him to go to the Indian Patent Stone for work but he refused still to go there. O.P.W. 5 has made a positive statement that Ramen Paul did not say then that he was unable to go because he was unwell and had no licence. I have also looked into the papers of enquiry. In the enquiry Shri Ramen Paul was present and put questions to the witnesses examined by the Company. Shri Tara Prasanna Chakraborty, Sakawat Ali and Mr. Spencer were examined in the said enquiry and also cross-examined by Shri Ramen Paul. In this connexion I cannot but reproduce below what was said by Mr. Spencer in the enquiry and what was also stated by him in reply to questions put by Shri Ramen Paul. "Tara Prasanna Chakraborty of the Repair Shop came to me on the morning of the 3rd June and stated that Ramen Paul has refused to obey instructions to go to Indian Patent Stone Co. I went to the Repair Shop and told T. P. Chakraborty and Sakawat Ali to give him the instructions again in front of me which they did. Ramen Paul's reply was 'Ham Nahi Jayagha'. I told him he must go and do that job. To this he replied once again in the same loud truculent voice 'Thum bahar jao.

Ham Nahi Jayagha'. I reported the matter to P. Sircar, Personnel Officer. There was no reason given for his refusal".

"Questions put to Mr. Spencer by Shri Ramen Paul: 'What did you ask me to do?' Answer: 'I asked you to obey the instructions given to you.' Question: 'Did I tell you that I was indisposed?' Answer: 'No. Never. This is the first time that I have heard that and saw for the first time in the written explanation to the charge-sheet.' Question: 'Did I tell you about the licence?' Answer: 'No. The question of licence did not arise'."

The Tribunal is impressed by the evidence of Shri T. P. Chakraborty and convinced that Ramen Paul wilfully and deliberately refused to obey the reasonable order issued to him and that the plea put forward by him was an afterthought. Shri Ramen Paul was further charged for having used abusive and indecent language against the Management when he was called in the office by the Personnel Officer regarding the incident that happened on the morning in the Repairing Shop. O.P.W. 6 Shri A. K. Choudhury, Planning Engineer, has deposed before the Tribunal that Ramen Paul used slang and abusive language towards Mr. Sircar, Personnel Officer. The papers of enquiry produced by the Company before the Tribunal prove unmistabably that Ramen Paul did use abusive and indecent language against the Management and also refused to give answer to the questions put by the Personnel Officer when he was making enquiry about the incident in question. What Shri Ramen Paul said and did was indeed reprehensible. No Company can afford to keep in its employ such a worker who is so insubordinate and arrogant and who dares to disobey lawful order of the Management. Such acts of insubordination on the part of a worker undoubtedly undermine discipline and deserve ruthless condemnation. The conduct of Shri Ramen Paul was subversive of discipline and amounted to gross misconduct and the Company was perfectly justified in dismissing him from its employ. He adopted an attitude unbecoming an employee of the Company. He misconducted himself in such a manner as to merit the extreme penalty of dismissal. He might be the Vice-President of the Union but this fact did not place him above the law. Even in spite of his occupying that august position he did not cease to be a worker of the Company. He ought to have realised that he was first and foremost an employee of the Company and owed a duty to it. In the result it is decided that thte Management came to a bona fide conclusion in dismissing him as continuing such a workman in its employ was detrimental to discipline and dangerous in the interests of the Company. Hence his dismissal is held to be justified and he is not entitled to any relief.

Regarding Shri P. C. Chandra, the Company has examined the Manager under whom he was working. He is Mr. Noble, O.P.W. 7. The Company has also produced documentary evidence. From the evidence it is crystal clear that this worker was very slow in the performance of his work and as a result of which his output of production had been very low. The record of production of Shri P. C. Chandra, Ext. Q(1) and the Graph, Ext. R(1), prepared by the Company for clarifying the matter point to the clear direction that Shri P. C. Chandra was putting much less production in comparison with the other workers doing the same job and working on the same machine. He was given several warnings before for his low production and go-slow tactics. Yet he did not improve. So at last he was charge-sheeted for deliberately slowing down production. In my view the charge against him has been fully proved. No Company can keep a worker who systematically gives low production and adopts go-slow policy. It appears that Shri P. C. Chandra was incorrigible as previous warnings issued against him by the Company had no effect. It was suggested on behalf of the Union that the action of the Management in respect of Shri P. C. Chandra was hasty and he was removed at a time when the Company was going to fix standardised rate of production of each worker. But Mr. Noble, the Production Engineer of the Company, has emphatically denied this suggestion in his cross-examination. The Tribunal therefore holds that Shri P. C. Chandra was dismissed on justifiable ground. So the order of his dismissal must be upheld and he is entitled to no relief. It may be mentioned in this connexion that Shri P. C. Chandra did not appear before the Tribunal either to depose or to defend his case. This is a circumstance which indicates that he is no more interested in his order of dismissal.

Now I would take up the case of remaining two workers Shri Tarendra Nath Bose and Abdul Gaffur. Both of them were dismissed as they overstayed the leave granted to them and accordingly they rendered themselves liable to dismissal, according to the provisions of the Company's certified Standing Orders. A copy of the Standing Orders has been produced by the Company and it is Ext. Y(1). It appears from clauses (j) and (k) of section II of the Standing Orders, that a workman absent beyond the period of leave originally granted or subsequently extended, shall be liable to loose his lien on his appointment unless—

(i) he returns within eight days on the expiry of the sanctinoed leave, and

(ii) explains to the satisfaction of the Management his inability to resume duty immediately on expiry of leave.

Any workman failing to report for duty within eigth days of the expiry of his leave shall be treated as having left the service of the Company of his own accord, with effect from the date he was due to return to work.

Regarding Shri Abdul Gaffur it appears from the materials that he was granted nine days' leave with effect from 22nd February 1955 and was due to resume work on 4th March 1955 but he failed to do so. So he was asked by the Company in its letter, dated 5th March 1955, to report for duty on 11th March 1955 failing which he was informed that he would be deemed to have left the Company's service of his own accord as per section H(k) of the Standing Orders of the Company. He did not report for duty on 11th March 1955. Thereafter the Company again in its letter, dated 18th March 1955, asked him to report for duty on or before 24th March 1955. So he was deemed to have left the Company's service of his own accord and his name was accordingly struck off from the Company's register. He was duly informed of this fact by the Company's letter, dated 26th March 1955. In view of the facts stated above there cannot be any doubt that Shri Abdul Gaffur rendered himself liable to dismissal according to the provisions of the Standing Orders. Though he overstayed leave still the Management gave him sufficient chances and opportunities for resuming his duties. But he did not avail of the same. He not only overstayed the leave but also did not report to duty even after extension which was given to him by the Company. It has been argued by the Union that as Abdul Gaffur came on 31st March 1955 and prayed for reinstatement expressing apology and gave also an undertaking, the Company should have permitted him to resume his duty. But it must be remembered that at a time when he came and gave undertaking he was already dismissed and his name was struck off from the register. In the circumstances it was not possible for the Company to accede to the request of Abdul Gaffur. Furthermore, Abdul Gaffur did not appear before the Tribunal to defend his case. In my view having regard to the facts and circumstances as stated above the Management was perfectly justified in not taking him in. He is not entitled to any relief from the Tribunal.

Regarding Shri Tarendra Nath Bose, it appears that he had been absenting from work without leave or notice since 23rd June 1954. But the Company received a letter from him requesting a fortnight's leave for his wife's illness. The Company granted him that leave. This leave expired on 6th July 1954. But Shri Tarendra Nath Bose continued to be absent from work. On 9th July 1954 a letter requesting extension of leave for a fortnight more was received. The Company by its letter, dated 12th July 1954, replied that no further extension could be granted and he was directed to join on receipt of that letter. He received that letter on 14th July 1954 but he appeared on 22nd July 1954 for joining his duty. He was not allowed to resume his duty on that date as he did not submit explanation for absence from work till 22nd July 1954. Accordingly, his name was struck off from the register. In my view the case of Shri Tarendra Nath Bose rather stands on a different footing and deserves sympathetic consideration. He should have resumed his duty on 14th July 1954 as directed by the Company in its letter, dated 12th July 1954. But the facts remains that he came to join actually on 22nd July 1954. He did admittedly join within eigth days of the expiry of the sanctioned leave subsequently extended. For this according to the provisions of the Standing Orders of the Company he is deemed to have lost his lien on his appointment. But it has transpired from his evidence that he was prevented from resuming his duty before 22nd July 1954 for serious illness of his wife. His wife had an attack of Typhoid and her condition became bad. A certificate granted by the Doctor who treated his wife during the illness was also produced before the Tribunal after his evidence was taken. The Tribunal is prepared to believe that he could not come to the factory for resuming his duty before 22nd July 1954 on account of his wife's illness. The Company should have taken a sympathetic view as regards his case. After giving my careful and anxious consideration I am of the view that Shri Tarendra Nath Bose should be allowed to resume his duty in the factory of this Company. Accordingly, it is ordered that he be allowed to join his old post in the factory and that he must report himself for duty in the factory within seven days from the date of the publication of this award in the Calcutta Gazette. But his appointment will be considered to be a new appointment without continuity of his past services in this Company. He will, however, get wages at the rate which he was drawing at the time when his name was struck off from the roll. He will also get no compensation for the period of his forced unemployment till his resumption of duty in the factory of this Company. This issue is decided accordingly.

This issue relates to bonus. The Unions had claimed bonus—customary and profit bonus—for the year 1954-55. It is the contention of the Unions that the workmen of this Company used to get every year customary bonus equivalent to one month's basic wages payable in the month of July-August irrespective of profit and loss, but the Company arbitrarily stopped payment of this bonus. Regarding profit bonus, the Unions contend that this Company has been earning huge profits every year and therefore the employees are entitled to get profit bonus as well. But this demand has been resisted by the Company. Regarding the Union's claim for profit bonus, the Company contends that it should be rejected inasmuch as the Company sustained heavy loss during the year 1954-55 and there was no available surplus to distribute amongst the workers. As regards the claim for customary bonus, it is urged by the Company it made ex-gratia payments to their employees for some years past but such payments did not acquire the status of customary bonus nor were these payments made out of any implied agreement.

Before entering into the merits of this issue I would like to dispose of a point that has arisen in connection with the decision of this issue. It is urged on behalf of the Unions that G.E.C. Company of India (Manufacturing) Limited and G.E.C. (India) Limited are to be treated as one concern for the purpose of bonus. But the G.E.C. Company of India (Manufacturing) Limited contends that they are two separate concerns. The Unions produced before the Tribunal an award of the Industrial Tribunal, Madras, and also the decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India in respect of that award. It is a fact no doubt that the Industrial Tribunal, Madras, while deciding issue No. (1) in that case which was as follows: Whether the G.E.C. of India Limited and the G.E.C. (Manufacturing) Limited are to be treated as separate concern or one concern for the purpose of bonus, observed that on this point the Management did not press its contention and has agreed to treat both the Company as one concern and accordingly this issue is found against the Management. But I may point out that the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India while hearing the appeal against this award and decision of the Industrial Tribunal, Madras, has observed that the issue No. (1) as framed by the Industrial Tribunal and his finding on the same have been strongly objected to on behalf of the Management. The Labour Appellate Tribunal held that this finding of the Industrial Tribunal was uncalled for and did not arise in the circumstances of the case, and the question as to whether the two concerns were separate Companies or formed one unit should remain open. So in view of this decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India the decision of the Industrial Tribunal, Madras, is of no assistance to the Union. This Tribunal has to decide whether the G.E.C. of India (Manufacturing) Limited and G.E.C. (India) Limited are to be treated as separate concerns or one concern for the purpose of bonus. The G.E.C. (Manufacturing) Co., Ltd., contends that is a separate concern. O.P.W. 8 Shri A. K. Bose who is the Accountant of G.E.C. (Manufacturing) Co. has deposed in this case. He has deposed on oath that G.E.C. of (India) Limited and G.E.C. of India (Manufacturing) Limited are two different Companies and they are separate entities. He has further stated that the certificates of Registration of Articles of Association are also separate and separate balance-sheets are prepared for two Companies. In the face of such positive evidence of the Accountant the Unions could not produce any such tangible evidence from which it can be held or inferred that what was deposed to by the Accountant was not the actual state of things. G.E.C. of India (Manufacturing), Ltd. might be a subsidiary concern of the G.E.C. of India, Ltd., but this does not necessarily meant that the two Companies are to be treated as one concern.

In the result I hold that the G.E.C. of India Ltd. and G.E.C. of India (Manufacturing) Ltd. are two separate concerns and separate entities. That being so, the Tribunal in the present case will be concerned only with the financial position of the G.E.C. of India (Manufacturing) Ltd.

I shall take up the question of profit bonus first. The claim for such bonus arises on the general principle that labour and capital should share the surplus left after meeting necessary and prior charges. All the Tribunals now follow in this respect the well-established principles laid down by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in its Full Bench decision in the case of Mill Owners' Association, Bombay, versus Rashtriya Mill Mazdoor Sangha, Bombay (1950), 2 F.J.R. (107). It has been clearly laid down in the above case that the claim for bonus is to arise if there is any surplus profit left after making provision for prior charges and fair return on paid up capital and on reserve employed as working capital. The financial year of this Company is from April to March. In the present case the claim for bonus is for the year 1954-55. That being so, we are to consider the financial position of this Company for the year ending 31st March 1955. The Company has produced the audited balance sheet and profit and loss account for the year ending 31st March 1955. The Company claimed that the said document should be dealt with as confidential under section 21 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Hence I cannot include in this award figures that can be got from the said document. But it is patent thereform that this Company suffered loss over 3 lakhs during the year 1954-55. O.P.W. 8 Shri A. K. Bose, Accountant of the Company, has also stated so in his evidence. The balance sheet produced by the Company must be presumed to be correct unless the contrary is shown by definite evidence. In the present case the Unions could not show anything that the balance sheet was not correct. Thus it is crystal clear that for the year 1954-55 there remained no available surplus but on the contrary the Company suffered huge loss in its business in that year. Hence the claim of the Unions for profit bonus for the year 1954-55 is untenable and cannot be sustained. It is accordingly rejected.

Now I would take up the claim of customary bonus as put forward by the Unions. The leading case in this respect is Mahalaxmi Cotton Mill's case (1952-53, F.J.R., 248) and this is a decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal of India. It is the contention of the Unions that the employees of this Company have been paid bonus equivalent to one month's basic wages for good many years irrespective of profit and loss and that this leads to an inference of an implied grant as a term of employment and definitely excludes the hypothesis that payments have been made out of bounty. The Unions contend further that such payments made for a number of years had acquired the status of customary bonus. The Unions took their stand on the authority of the Mahalaxmi Cotton Mill's case and the entire claim is based, what the Tribunal finds, on the observation as made by their Lordships in the aforesaid case.

The case of the Company, as I understood it is that these payments were made ex-gratia, and only as a gesture of goodwill and that these payments were not made out of an implied agreement nor did they acquire the status of a customary bonus. The learned representative of the Company has argued that no claim for a customary bonus could be founded in law or equity and no claim of bonus could be made except on the basis of prosperity of the concern. In support of this several decisions including the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the Muir Mill's case (1955 L.A.C., page 1) were cited. But it is to be remembered that in case of customary bonus the liability depends exclusively on the express or the implied contract under which a claim thereto arises. It was pointed out in the case of Mahalaxmi Cotton Mill that the right to Puja bonus is not based on the general principle that Labour and capital should share the surplus left over after meeting the necessary and proper charges but, on the other hand, it rests on agreement which may be either express or implied. In the Mahalaxmi Cotton Mill's case their Lordships further observe "where such agreement is not express, past practice may lead to an inference of implied agreement. But for implying an agreement the practice must be unbroken and for a sufficiently long period to exclude the hypothesis that payments had been made out of bounty. The fact that the payments had been made even in a year of loss would be an important factor on the question as to whether the payments were mere acts of bounty or an obligation on the part of the employers".

Now let me consider the evidence on record. O.P.W. 5 Shri Arun Kumar Bose is the Accountant of this concern. He has been in service since 1944 and took charge of the Accounts Department of this concern in 1948.

He was constrained to admit in his cross-examination that bonus was paid to the workers since 1944. It however appears from his evidence (vide examination-in-chief) that since 1948-49 this concern has been paying to its workers bonus equivalent to one month's basic pay. He deposed that though 1950-51 was a year of loss to the Company yet it paid bonus at that rate to the workers in order to maintain good labour relation. It has further come out from his evidence that in the financial year 1953-54 there was also loss of this concern but still the Company on the basis of an agreement made with the workers paid bonus equivalent to 21 days' basic wages. But he wanted to say that such payments were all made ex-gratia. In this connexion I am constrained to say that save and except the payment that was made for the financial year 1953-54 on the basis of an agreement (in respect of which I shall say presently) no positive evidence is forthcoming from the side of the Company that payments for all these years were made ex-gratia and accepted as such by the employees. The Company could have produced cogent documentary evidence to show this. But the stubborn fact remains that the Company could not and did not produce such evidence. In the circumstances it can very well be presumed that the payments were not made ex-gratia as alleged. The payment for the financial year 1953-54 was no doubt made on the basis of an agreement. Exhibit T(1) is the copy of that agreement which is described as memorandum of settlement. It appears from this document that Paharpur Engineering Employees' Union raised a demand claiming one month's basic wage as annual customary bonus for the year 1953-54 from the Company and sought intervention of the Labour Directorate. The parties attended joint conference in the Labour Directorate and the dispute relating to the claim for bonus payable in the year 1953-54 was settled on the terms that each workman would get a gratuitous sum equivalent to 21 days' basic wages in respect of the fact that the Company had suffered heavy loss. It was also agreed that payment of bonus by the Company even in a year of loss should not be taken as precedent of future years, or in other words it would not confer on the workmen a right that bonus thus paid was a customary bonus. The Company took its stand on this document and wanted to defeat the claim of the workers for customary bonus. But I may say straightway that this agreement cannot stand in the way. This agreement was made by the Company and a section of workers represented by Paharpore Engineering Employees' Union. But other workers who are members of the other Union, that is, G.E.C. Staff & Workers' Union were not parties to that agreement. An agreement by a section of workers only, when it is known that others were not parties to it, would not bind the workers [vide 1952 (1), L.L.J., page 493]. An agreement should not be the basis of an award when it is known that other workmen are not parties to this. So the agreement Ext. T(1) is of no help or assistance to the Company. The Unions, on the other hand, have produced a very important document. It is Ext. 16. It is a notice dated 29th September 1953, issued by the Company. Paragraph 2 of this notice is relevant for our purpose. It is clearly stated there that the customary annual bonus of one month's basic pay has already been paid in July of that year. This notice was issued by no less person than the General Manager who is indeed a very responsible officer of the Company. There is no ambiguity or vagueness in the recital. Mention is made of customary annual bonus equivalent to one month's basic pay in this notice in clear and unequivocal terms. It is an admission coming from the side of the Company that customary annual bonus equivalent to one month's basic pay was being paid to the workers. I must say that this admission is fatal to the Company.

The payment of bonus for an unbroken period of 10 years from 1944 even in years of loss coupled with the admission of the Company as stated above leads to the inference of an implied agreement of a customary bonus equivalent to one month's basic wage or pay payable to the workers of this concern in the month of July-August every year. Finally, the learned representative of the Company has argued that a period of 10 years is not long enough for pronouncing an opinion that the practice to pay bonus has been for a reasonably long period. I am fully aware that in common law according to the maxims of jurisprudence a custom has to be ancient and invariable before it can be said to acquire the force of law. I am afraid we cannot import rigidly those maxims of common law regarding antiquity into industrial law which is yet in the formative stage. The separate existence of this Company dates from 1948 or so and before this it was a part of the G.E.C. (India) Ltd. But still we have got from the evidence of the Accountant (O.P.W. 5) that such bonus was paid to the workers from 1944. It would be absurd for us to insist that the custom of paying bonus in this concern should be ancient or even older than 1944. I feel inclined to the view that in industrial matters a custom need not be insisted upon to be ancient, and need only be sufficiently old according to the circumstances of the case. Their Lordships of the Labour Appellate Tribunal of India in the case of Mahalaxmi Cotton Mill observed also that it was not possible to say, in general terms, what should be the length of the period. In the present case the employer concerned started giving bonus and continued it from 1944 right up to 1953-54, even though in some years the Company suffered loss. During all this period the employees could well have been led to believe by regular payments of bonus that payment of annual bonus in this concern was customary. For the reasons stated above I hold that the workers of this concern are entitled to claim bonus as a customary right. Accordingly, I award customary bonus equivalent to one month's basic wage or pay for the year 1954-55 to the workers of this Company. Such payment must be made within a month from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette. The workmen shall get no other bonus for the year in question. This issue I decide thus.

Issue No. 3

This issue is divided into two parts. Regarding the point whether in cases of emergency the up-country workmen should get leave without wages, I am satisfied from the evidence that the Company grants such leave to the up-country workmen. Granting of such leave is discretionary on the part of the Management. Certainly it should be left to the discretion of the Management. It is not possible nor is it desirable to make hard and fast rule. It being purely management function, the Management shall decide the question of emergency as well as the period of leave for the year for the up-country workmen in cases of emergency. Exhibit X(1) series are few applications for leave without pay made by several up-country workmen. They go to show that the Management duly considered those applications and allowed such leave to the workers as was considered reasonable and proper in the circumstances. It cannot be said that the Management exercised their discretion in this respect arbitrarily or capriciously. I would rather say that the Management showed proper and reasonable attitude in the matter of dealing with those leave applications. Hence the Tribunal is not disposed either to fix the period of such leave for the up-country workmen or to say anything regarding the emergency of such leave. It is left to the discretion of the Management.

Regarding Block Closure, it is manifestly clear from the evidence as adduced by the Company (vide Exts. U and V series) that the benefits of such Block Closure are still being continued and the said have not been discontinued. The grievance of the Unions on this score is that a condition is attached by the Company to this Block Closure in respect of attendance. But in my view this grievance is devoid of merit and substance. Under this system of Block Closure the workmen get 10 days' leave with pay during the Pujas. So attendance of any worker who wants to get benefit of such Block Closure is a relevant and important factor for consideration by the Management. The Management cannot possibly extend benefits of such Block Closure to workers who actually attended the factory for a few days in a year. Therefore, the Management is perfectly justified in attaching a condition in respect of attendance to the system of Block Closure. So no question of restoration of benefits of 10 days' Block Closure with pay during the Pujas arises. This issue is thus disposed of.

Issue Nos. 4 and 5

These two issues are taken up together. The existing rates of wages and dearness allowance of the employees of this concern are admittedly in accordance with the Major Engineering Tribunal awards of 1948 and 1950. Though this Company has not got any scheme of automatic annual increment the existing system of granting increment to its workers is fair as such increments are granted after periodical review of their performance, conduct and attendance. The Unions contend that the existing rates of wages and dearness allowance and the present system of granting annual increment are not fair and should be improved. Having regard to the issues as formulated for adjudication a duty is cast no doubt on the Tribunal to say in what way the existing rates of wages and dearness allowance and the present system of granting annual increment should be improved. But I refrain from entering into these big questions in the present case for the reasons stated below. Recently a Major Engineering Tribunal has been constituted by the Government of West Bengal, and issue of grades, rates and scales of pay as well as the issue of dearness allowance, i.e., the issue of wages in entirety and the matters incidental thereto, are before that Tribunal to which all Engineering firms employing 250 persons including the present Company are parties. Having regard to fundamental scheme of wage fixation when the wage and the matters incidental thereto of the Engineering concerns are going to be determined on industry-cum-region basis by a Omnibus Tribunal, it is fair that such matters as covered by these two issues should not be determined unitwise in a stray case like the present one. Such determination may bring discontent and introduce complications without any satisfactory solution. Furthermore, revision of wage and scales of pay on the lines suggested by the Unions will have serious repercussions on the other similar concerns in the locality. All this should be avoided at present. As the said Major Engineering Tribunal is going to standardize very soon the wages of the workers employed in the Engineering concerns, I think that these two issues should not be decided by this Tribunal. The workers have waited so long and they can very well wait for a few months more. So in the present context of matters the issues 4 and 5 are left open in the present case.

Issue No. 6

This issue relates to the revision of Standing Orders. The Employees' Union contends that existing Standing Orders of the Company required drastic revision. In the language of the Union the said Standing Orders contain several slave clauses and on many points stand against the rights and privileges guaranteed by our Constitution. So the Union has drawn up amendment, modifications and suggestions of improvement to the existing Standing Orders of the Company in its supplementary written statement filed on 20th June 1956 and they are given in Annexure 1 of that written statement. The Company, on the other hand, has urged that the existing Standing Orders are in accordance with the other Engineering concerns in neighbourhood and need no revision or modification in any respect. Learned representative of the Company has argued before me that the Standing Orders have been certified by Certifying Officer and that as there was no appeal against that order of the Certifying Officer it is now too late for the Union to contend that the Standing Orders require revision and modification. Learned representative of the Company went to the length of saying even that the Tribunal had no power or jurisdiction to revise and modify the Standing Orders certified by the Certifying Officer. I may say at once that this contention is devoid of any merit or substance. The Industrial Employees (Standing Orders) Act itself shows that the Certifying Officer or the Appellate Authority under the Act, does not adjudicate upon the fairness or reasonableness of any Standing Orders. Nor it is their function to do so. This can be done only by an Industrial Tribunal. The Tribunal possesses unlimited power in this respect. As the Standing Orders define the conditions of service, they are within the jurisdiction of the Tribunal. It can frame them, as also amend or alter the existing rules of Standing Orders. That being so, it can revise Standing Orders and allow reasonable modification of the same, if he thinks necessary.

Now let me revert to the point and see whether the existing Standing Orders warrant any revision or modification in any respect. A copy of the printed Standing Orders of this Company has been produced before the Tribunal and it is Ext. Y(1). I have carefully gone through the same. I have also perused and considered, item by item, the amendments, modifications, and suggestions of improvement to the same as suggested by the Employees' Union in Annexure 1 to the additional written statement, filed by this Union on 20th June 1956. My considered view is that the Standing Orders do not warrant revision or modification on such a large scale as suggested by the Union, but they require revision and modification on some points only. The nature and extent of modification and revision of some of the clauses of the existing Standing Orders which the Tribunal is going to make are stated below:

Clause (2) of section A is modified and the following words are added to that clause:

> "such notices are to be given in major Indian languages and copies of the same should be sent to the registered Trade Unions of which the employees or workers are members."

The contents of the clause (e) of section B are deleted and substituted as follows:

> "workmen shall mean persons employed by the Company as laid down in the Industrial Disputes Act."

The contents of sub-clause (1) of clause (b) of section C is deleted and it is substituted as follows:—

> "All termination of employment of all categories of workmen shall be covered by Industrial Disputes Act."

Sub-clause (2) of clause (b) of section C is also deleted as unnecessary in view of above amendment of sub-clause (1).

Clause 7 of section E is deleted.

In clause (2) of section G the words "and earnings" are added after the words "a decrease in rate of pay" in the fifth line of the said clause.

In the same clause the words "or status" are added after the words "condition of service" in the sixth line.

The words "if he so desires" appearing in the last line of clause (f) of section II are deleted.

All the words beginning with "compensation in" in 8th line and ending with "December" in the last line of sub-clause (a) of clause 2 of section I are deleted and in their places the following words are substituted:

"All cases of such involuntary unemployment shall be guided by the provisions of the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Act."

In the second paragraph of the concluding portions the words "be told verbally in presence of a witness the time at which" appearing in third and fourth lines of the last page of the Standing Orders are deleted and the following words are substituted there:

"be informed in writing of the time and place of".

The Company is directed to take immediate steps for including in the Standing Orders the revision and modification as made above, so that they might be given effect to.

This is my award in the present case.

Taken at my dictation and corrected by me.

And whereas the said First Labour Court has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Pravati Textiles Ltd., Sodepur, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Panihati Cotton Textile Workers' Union, Nilgunge Road, P. O. Agarpara, 24-Parganas, referred under G. O. No. 1278I.R./IR/8L-15/57, dated the 23rd April 1957. (Case No. VIII-C 26/57.)

BEFORE THE FIRST LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI N. C. CHATTERJEE, Judge, First Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri Nanda Dulal Sreemani.

For the Company: None.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1278I.R./IR/8L-15/57, dated the 23rd April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Pravati Textiles Limited, Sodepur, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by the Panihati Cotton Textile Workers' Union, Nilgunge Road, P. O. Agarpara, 24-Parganas, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule

Whether the termination of services of (a) Jaymangal, (b) Munshilal, and (c) Krishna Bahadur is justified? To what delief are they entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union is that the Company Messrs. Pravati Textile Mills is a silk manufacturing concern under which these 3 dismissed workmen were working as Darwans. One of the dismissed darwans Jaymangal was granted leave for 90 days with effect from 10th May 1956 but on his return on 9th August 1956 he was not permitted to resume his duty. Two other workmen, namely, Munshilal and Krishna Bahadur, were not allowed to work since 11th August 1956 as the key was taken away from them. These 3 workmen have thus been wrongfully dismissed without assigning any reason or justification. The Union therefore seeks their reinstatement with back wages.

In this case the Company did not put in any written statement on the fixed date 5th June 1957, nor on any subsequent dates 11th June 1957, 18th June 1957, 25th June 1957 and 3rd July 1957. So on 3rd July 1957 by its orders the Court fixed 12th July 1957 for hearing. Therefore the Company did neither put in any written statement, nor turn up at the time of hearing to contest this reference.

DECISION

The only point for consideration is whether the services of these workmen were wrongfully terminated.

The Union has examined these 3 workmen. Their evidence establishes their case in the written statement. Prima facie there is absolutely no reason or justification for terminating their services. These 3 workmen have deposed uniformly that they were asked to sign application forms for fresh admission into service which they refused to do because they were old servants and if they did so they would have been denied the benefits of their past services. Obviously for this attitude which cannot be described as unreasonable or unjustified, the Company did not allow them to work further and thus virtually discharged them from their services. It is evident that Jaymangal put in about 9 years' service, Munshilal and Krishna Bahadur put in about 14 years' and 5 years' service respectively. There is nothing to show that these workmen committed any misconduct or offence to merit the dismissal. In the circumstances, reinstatement is the normal relief which cannot justly be denied to them. I therefore find that this is a very fit case for reinstatement.

As regards their claim for back wages, I consider it fit and proper to allow three months' back wages to Munshilal who has put in a longer period of service and one month's back wages to the other 2 workmen. Munshilal will therefore get three months' pay, i.e., Rs. 150, and Jaymangal and Krishna will each get one month's pay, i.e., Rs. 44 and 50 respectively. The Company will reinstate them within a month of the publication of this award and also pay up the aforesaid amounts to them within the same period.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Nemchand Meghraj, 123 Khengrapatty Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Rangkal Mazdoor Congress, 35-B Wellington Street, Calcutta. (Case No. VIII—46 of 1957.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. N. GAN, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Panchanan Bhattacherjee.

For the Company: Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate.

The following issues in the industrial dispute between Messrs. Nemchand Meghraj (hereinafter referred to as the Company), 123 Khengrapatty Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Rangkal Mazdoor Congress, 35-B Wellington Street, Calcutta, were referred to this Tribunal for adjudication by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 478-I.R./IR/11L-12/57, dated the 12th February 1957.

Both parties filed their written statements in the case.

Issue

(1) Minimum wages.

(2) Dearness allowance.

(3) Permanency of workmen.

(4) Festival Holidays.

FINDINGS

Issue Nos. 1 and 2: Issue Nos. 1 and 2 are taken up together. The Union's case is that due to the change in circumstances, since the last settlement, dated 10th June 1949, the minimum wages and dearness allowance should be revised. The minimum scale of pay for unskilled workers shall be Rs. 40 to Rs. 70 per month with annual increment at Rs. 3. Dearness allowance shall be at the flat rate of Rs. 30 per month. The Company resists these demands on the ground that both the existing wages and dearness allowance were adequate and that there was no change in circumstances justifying their claim within such a short time, and that the financial condition does not permit any upward revision at the moment. It also pleaded that since the settlement, dated 10th June 1949, was not terminated by a notice under section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, the issue should not be adjudicated.

Both parties did not adduce any oral evidence. Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate for the Company, relied upon the Ext. A, the settlement in question and Exts. B and B1, Income Tax Assessment Order for two years and Pay Register (Ext. C) and contended that the issues should not be reopened for fresh adjudication till the agreement, which is binding on the parties, was not lawfully terminated by a valid notice under section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The agreement, dated 10th June 1949, was made in the presence of the Conciliation Officer. It appears from paragraph 16 that the terms of this agreement was binding on both parties for one year only, i.e., from the date (31st May 1949) of its execution. The agreement, therefore, was meant to be binding on the parties till 31st May 1950.

According to section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, such settlement was binding only up to that date, i.e., for such period as was agreed upon by the parties. The question of its continuation beyond a period of six months, therefore, would not arise in this case. Neither it is required to be terminated by a notice under section 19(2) which is applicable in a case where no period was specially mentioned in the agreement. Therefore, that objection fails.

That there has been change in the circumstances is apparent from the record. It is common knowledge that cost of living has gone up since the date of the last settlement. It is more so in the last few months. The cost of living index in April 1949 and April of this year is shown below:

1949	Working class	362.5
1957	Working class	383.1.

A glance at this figure shows that there has been an overall increase of at least 20 points over that of 1949, and that 7 years cannot be said to be a short time for considering a case for revision. Apparently, the basic needs of a worker are now more than what they were in 1949 and which could not be fully met out of the existing pay and dearness allowance. Shri Panchanan Bhattacherjee, for the Union, contended that the demands on the income of a worker are more than what the said index figures suppose to indicate and that it is high time for both the basic minimum wages which are, undoubtedly, less than those prevailing in comparable industries and the dearness allowance which is equally inadequate should be raised to Rs. 40 and Rs. 30 per month as in the demand. Shri N. M. Das Gupta wanted to make an additional point at the time of argument when he said that the workers are paid more than Rs. 29 + Rs. 2 = Rs. 31 per month as stated in the written statement. In fact, they were paid initially Rs. 31 + Rs. 10 = Rs. 41 per month. This was entirely a new case which was not stated in the written statement. I am unable to accept this contention not only on this ground but also on the ground that there is hardly any acceptable evidence to establish that fact. Shri Das Gupta also pleaded that the Company is a proprietory concern in which the proprietor himself works as any other employee and earns very little profit as would be evident from the Income Tax Assessment Order for the two years 1955-56 and 1956-57 (Exts. B and B1). The pay register (Ext. C) is not of much help on this point. It appears from Exts. B and B1 that the Company produced its account books, with profit and loss accounts, before the Income Tax Officer, and that the net profit in 1956-57 was more than double of the previous year. It further shows that the Income Tax Officer did not completely rely upon the accounts shown to him. In any case, in the last two years, the Company made profits out of the business, and there was nothing to show that it was unable to pay any increase on account of minimum wages and dearness allowance. That contention, therefore, fails.

Shri N. M. Das Gupta contended that this reference concerned five employees only, who were employed in the Company's shop at 123 Khengrapatty Street, Calcutta, and it did not concern the employees who were employed in the Company's workshop situated at a different place. The workshop, where the five other employees were employed, is at 140 Old China Bazar Street, within the same locality. Shri Das Gupta's contention was that since the reference has omitted to mention the address of the workshop, it should be taken to concern those employees who were employed in the shop at 123 Khengrapatty Street. Shri Panchanan Bhattacherjee, however, contended that the reference was not limited to cases of employees who were employed in the shop only, but also to the employees who were employed in the workshop. At his request, I consulted the Labour Commissioner's file. There is nothing found either in that file or in the charter of demands (Ext. 1) or in the order of reference itself, by which it can be reasonably construed that the reference was meant for cases of employees of the shop, and not for those who were employed in the workshop. There is no word of limitation used in the order of reference, and the dispute is between the Company and its workmen represented by the present Union. I think the dispute relates to cases of all the employees of this Company.

The minimum basic wages now paid to the employees compare favourably with the wages paid in such other big industries as textile and engineering industries in the locality. However, no case had been made out for increasing the said wages to Rs. 40 as in the demand. A rise in the cost of living furnishes a good case for considering upward revision of dearness allowance. In the present case, a rise in the cost of living index to the extent of about 20 points since the last settlement has been shown by the Union. A total neutralisation cannot be allowed. I think an increase in the dearness allowance at the flat rate of Rs. 5 per month will meet the ends of justice at present. The additional cost on this score is likely not to exceed six hundred rupees a year. The Company, although it is a small proprietory concern, will be in a position to bear this additional financial burden. The increased dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 20 + Rs. 5 = Rs. 25 per month should be paid with effect from April 1957.

I am told that at present there is no employee in the service of this Company who is paid on piece-rate, if any, basis. Nevertheless, the aforesaid increase in the dearness allowance shall be available to the piece-raters to the extent of Rs. 5 per month under the award. The issues are accordingly answered.

Issue No. 3: At present all the employees are permanent. So, directly, no question of permanency arises just now. But both parties agreed that a provision to the following effect should be made for future guidance. "Probationers should be made permanent on completion of six months' approved service; all temporary workers should be made permanent on completion of one year's approved service." I answer this issue accordingly.

Issue No. 4: The Union demanded 14 days' festival holidays in the written statement. This was reduced to 10 days at the time of hearing. The Company did not concede any portion of this demand alleging that it allows 45 days' paid holidays to each worker in a year (30 days' privilege leave and 15 days' casual leave which included festival holidays). Accordingly, I do not see any reason why the employees in such a small concern should be allowed an additional 10 festival holidays in a year. This demand is refused.

This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. East India Trading Corporation Ltd., Town Hall Para, P. O. BEFORE THE FIRST LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI N. C. CHATTERJEE, Judge, First Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Union: The worker himself.

For the Company: Shri S. K. Bhanja Choudhury, Labour Adviser.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1135-I.R./IR/4L-15/57, dated 11th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. East India Trading Corporation Ltd., Town Hall Para, P. O. Burdwan (C/o. Shri Dilip Ghosh), and their workman Shri Bimalendu Dey represented by the Burdwan Zilla Motor Karmachari Samity, C/o. District Congress Office, P. O. Burdwan, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule

Whether the discharge of conductor Shri Bimalendu Dey was justified? To what relief including reinstatement is he entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union on behalf of the workman is that he was employed as a conductor under the Company Messrs. East India Trading Corporation Ltd., carrying on transport business by motor buses under the district of Burdwan. The Union alleged that Bimalendu Dey was discharged on account of his Union activities. This is a case of victimisation, pure and simple, and an unfair labour practice. Shri Bimalendu was drawing a pay of Rs. 90 per month and his pay to the extent of Rs. 110 is in arrears. The Union therefore seeks his reinstatement together with his arrears of pay.

The Company appeared on 6th May 1957 and went on applying for adjournments to put in written statement on several dates and ultimately put in a petition of compromise on 26th June 1957.

I have gone through the petition of compromise filed in this case and the terms thereof appear to be fair and reasonable and may be given effect to. There is no outstanding dispute between the parties. The reference may therefore be disposed of in terms of the petition of compromise which forms a part of the award.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, filed by Shri Hiralal Yadab, a workman of Messrs. National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., 5 Rustomji Parsi Raad, Calcutta-2, represented by National Carbon Mazdur Union, 1 Joy Bhattacharya Lane, Calcutta-3, against the aforesaid Company in connection with the case which was referred to this Tribunal under G. O. No. 1691Dis./D/10L-42(A)/56, dated Calcutta, the 25th April 1956. (Case No. 154 of 1956, under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the Company: Mr. J. K. Shafer.

For the workman: Shri Hiralal Yadav.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by Hiralal Yadav, an employee of Messrs. National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., who was placed under suspension on 13th July 1956 pending enquiry into his conduct and permission of the Tribunal to mete out punishment by dismissal. As a reference proceeding was pending at the time the applicant moved this application alleging contravention of section 33. He has not been paid his wages since the date of suspension. There is a further, grievance that he has not been paid advance bonus which the Company has paid to other workers.

The Company opposed the application on the ground that the worker had refused to carry out legitimate orders of the Company and all persuasions to induce him to take up a reasonable attitude having failed he was suspended on 13th July 1956 pending enquiry and final decision. As a reference proceeding was then pending the Company contemplated applying for permission of that Tribunal to award him punishment. Pending the enquiry and permission of the Tribunal he was suspended and was not to draw any wages for the period. The action taken was not punishment within the purview of section 33 and hence the application is untenable. The Company denied payment of advance bonus. It submitted that the question of bonus was under adjudication. There was only an advance made which was to be adjusted against the dues of the workers. The applicant having been suspended before this advance was paid there was no ground for making payment to him.

DECISION

The short point on which decision of this case hinges is whether suspension as ordered can be characterized as punishment. The law reports abound in decisions by Appellate Tribunals and also by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that suspension without pay even for an indefinite period pending enquiry or pending permission of the appropriate Tribunal to dismiss a workman is not punishment (vide 1954, 2, L.L.J. page 328, 1955, 2, L.L.J. page 693 and 1957, 1, L.L.J. page 17). There is nothing to take this case out of the operation of the decisions referred to above. Since section 33 has not been infringed the application is not maintainable and this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to grant any relief.

The application is accordingly rejected.

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Jute Textile Industry Tribunal.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(a)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

On 5th November 1955, Nani, T. No. 3, Roving, Kiron Bala, T. No. 4, Roving, Peari, T. No. 6, Roving, Radha, T. No. 31, Roving, Ramjyoti, T. No. 16, Roving, Jasoda, T. No. 20, Roving, Bhanu, T. No. 30, Roving and Sahidan, T. No. 2, Roving, workmen of New Central Jute Mills, applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, complaining that they were permanent employees of the Company and their services were terminated inasmuch as, they were prevented from working during the period from the 15th to the 31st October 1955. It is also stated that the posts on which they were working were filled up by new and junior hands. They claim that the Tribunal direct the opposite party Company to reinstate the petitioners with full pay for the period of unemployment.

The Company states that the application by the eight applicants is misconceived and not maintainable in law, as the Company did not terminate the services of the petitioners during the pendency of the Third Jute Textile Tribunal, as alleged. The Company states that consequent upon modernisation of the Mill and installation of new labour saving devices, the services of the complainants who were employed in the Preparing Section, became surplus to requirements. But instead of laying them off and applying to the Tribunal for permission to retrench them, the Company absorbed them in the Sack Sewing Department and all the petitioners accepted the alternative employment and are working in the Sack Sewing Department. The allegation of termination of their services is false. Instead of retrenching the surplus hands, re-allocation of work without any material change in their conditions of service does not constitute violation of section 33 of the Act.

On the date of hearing the petitioners did not appear and it appears that the petitioners did not appear on any date of hearing from 10th August 1956 to 6th July 1957. They were thus absent on 11 dates of hearing. On the date of hearing, the Company was present and Shri R. L. Moitra, Deputy Labour Adviser of the I.J.M.A., and Sm. P. Mitra, Labour Officer, were present for the Company. It appears that the petitioners were not discharged from service. They were employed in alternative employments when their jobs became surplus on modernisation of machines. This conduct of the Company is justified by section 25E of the Industrial Disputes Act. In any case, as the petitioners are absent, the petition under section 33A is dismissed.

M. C. BANERJI,
Chairman, Jute Textile Industry Tribunal.

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Jute Textile Industry Tribunal.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(a)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

On 14th September 1955 Rajeedon Bibi, a workman of Messrs. Empire Jute Mills, applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, complaining against her dismissal on various grounds. The petitioner prays that she may be reinstated with suitable compensation.

The Company, in its written statement, states that on 12th May 1955 the workman tendered her resignation and, therefore, the question of granting her two months' leave does not arise. It is submitted that she is neither entitled to reinstatement nor any compensation since the date of her resignation.

The case was fixed for hearing on 12th July 1957, on which date the petitioner did not appear. Sm. P. Mitra, Labour Officer of the I.J.M.A., appeared for the Company and filed Ext. A, which is a letter from Rajeedon Bibi, dated 6th June 1956, in which she states that she does not want to proceed with the section 33A case any further and the application may be treated as withdrawn. In any event, I conclude that she has lost her interest in the instant case as it will be borne out from the fact that since 13th August 1956 till 12th July 1957, she did not put up any appearance before the Tribunal on any of the 13 dates fixed. Whatever that may be, the case is dismissed for default of the petitioner and it is awarded accordingly.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(a)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

On 29th September 1955 Ramnaresh Dubey, Token No. 1633, an employee in the Watch and Ward Department of Messrs. Howrah Mills Co., Ltd., applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, stating that he was employed in the present Company for a long time as a temporary hand, that on 31st May 1954 he was served with a charge-sheet, to which he had submitted a reply, that he is not guilty of the charges brought against him and that he was kept under suspension from 1st June 1954. It is submitted that the action of the Management in keeping the petitioner suspended for an indefinite period is a punishment. It is prayed that he may be taken back in work with full compensation for the period of forced idleness.

The Company opposed the claims stating that the application is misconceived and not maintainable in law, as the Company has not in any way violated section 33 of the Act.

This case was fixed for hearing on 12th September 1957, on which date the petitioner Ramnaresh Dubey did not appear. Sm. P. Mitra, Labour Officer of the I.J.M.A., was present for the Company and filed documents, Exts. A and B, which are certified copies of the Company's application under section 33 praying for permission to dismiss the workman and the Tribunal's orders thereon, striking off the application on the ground that it had lost jurisdiction to adjudicate on the matter. It may be noted here that the petitioner did not appear on any date fixed between 13th August 1956 to 12th July 1957. The case is dismissed for default of the applicant. The present application, it is further observed, is also not maintainable in law (vide 1955 L.A.C., 221), and it is awarded accordingly.

REGULATIONS PROVIDING FOR THE INSTITUTION AND ADMINISTRATION OF THE CONTRIBUTORY PROVIDENT FUND FOR THE EMPLOYEES OF THE BOARD OF SECONDARY EDUCATION, WEST BENGAL.

Scope of the Scheme.

1. The following classes of whole-time employees of the Board shall subscribe to the Contributory Provident Fund maintained by the Board for the benefit of its employees hereinafter referred to as the said Fund:—

(i) Permanent officers of the Board;

(ii) Permanent members of the ministerial staff;

(iii) A person holding lien on a pensionable post under Government appointed permanently in the service of the Board, when he ceases to hold such a lien;

(iv) A Government pensioner appointed to the service of the Board on a year to year basis, provided that his pension remains suspended during the period of employment under the Board.

2. The scheme may also be extended by the Board to Peons, Durwans and similar other Lower Subordinate staff holding permanent appointments under the Board.

3. If an employee, on probation, is subsequently confirmed, he may, if he so desires, join the Fund on such confirmation, with retrospective effect from the date of his substantive appointment, on payment of the prescribed amount as his contribution and the Board shall make the prescribed share of its contribution.

4. The payment by an employee of the Board of premium on a Life Insurance Policy held by him, at a rate not less than the rate of subscription to the Fund payable by him, may, at his option, be substituted for his subscription to the Fund, and thereupon he shall be entitled to the contribution of the Board to the Fund, provided the Life Insurance Policy is on the employee's own life and is in the assignable form and is hypothecated to the Board for safe custody.

Amount of subscription

5. Save as otherwise provided in regulation 6, the amount of subscription shall be a sum equal to 6¼ per cent. of the substantive pay of the employee, calculated to the nearest naya paisa which shall be deducted from the salary of each subscriber every month and paid to the Fund, except that, in the case of a subscriber whose pay is less than Rs. 50 per month a smaller amount, but not less than Re. 1 may be paid monthly at the discretion of the subscriber and the Board shall contribute an equal amount in respect of each subscriber.

6. (1) Subscription during leave of any kind shall be optional. Where the employee exercises the option of subscribing during the leave whether with or without allowances, the subscription shall be calculated on the substantive pay drawn by him before he proceeds on leave. But the contribution of the Board shall be calculated on the leave salary, if any drawn during the period.

(2) Similarly, in suspension cases, subscription for the period of suspension shall be calculated on the basis of the substantive pay drawn by the subscriber before he was placed under suspension; but the contribution of the Board shall be calculated on the amount, if any allowed, for the period of suspension.

7. (1) A separate account called the Contributory Provident Fund of the Board of Secondary Education, West Bengal, shall be opened in the Postal Savings Bank or at the Calcutta Branch of the State Bank of India. The total deduction from the salaries as well as the corresponding contribution of the Board shall be credited to this account at the beginning of each month, i.e., between the first day and the fourth day of each month, whenever possible. The payment of the deduction shall be debited in the accounts to the same head as the salary, and the contributions shall be charged to the service head "Superannuation allowances and pensions"—sub-head "Provident Fund Contributions". Any cash balance of the Fund in excess of the amount not likely to be required for use in the immediate future, shall be invested in National Savings Certificates or in other approved securities, on the recommendation of the Finance Committee as approved by the Executive Council. All such certificates and securities shall be held in the name of the Board. No change in the investments shall be made except on the advice of the Finance Committee and with the approval of the Executive Council.

(2) The actual cost of purchase of securities or the amount of investments shall be added to the balance in the Fund to obtain the total balance of the Fund ledger. When any such securities are sold, the net gain or loss shall be added to or deducted from the net excess interest calculated for that year before apportioning such interest among the depositors as set forth in this regulation.

(3) Calculation of the interest due on each account shall be made at such rate as may be allowed at the time by the Post-Office Savings Bank or State Bank of India per annum for each calendar month on the lowest balance at credit of an account between the closing of the fourth day and the end of the month. The yearly interest thus calculated on each account shall be entered in column 16 of the Abstract of Balances referred to in Regulation 22.

(4) As soon as the interest for the previous year is added by the Post-Office or State Bank of India to the principal of the Fund and the interest on investment through other agencies is drawn by the Board and credited in the Post-Office Savings Bank account or the State Bank of India, the total yearly interest calculated at such rate as may be allowed by the Post-Office or the State Bank of India and entered in the depositors' accounts as shown in column 16 of the said Abstract of Balances, shall be deducted from the total interest actually received for the year, and this excess interest, together with the gain or loss by the sale of Government securities, if any, during the year, shall be shared by those depositors whose credits in the Provident Fund exceed Rs. 100 in proportion to their balances on the 31st day of March, provided that, for the purpose of calculating and crediting to each depositor's account his share of the excess interest, the total balance at the depositor's credit shall be rounded off to the nearest hundred. The interest thus calculated shall be added to the principal in column 9 of the depositor's ledger account referred to in Regulation 22.

(5) In the case of the Post-Office National Savings Certificates, the total amount received from the Post-Office shall be apportioned to each depositor, when the certificates mature or are cashed in the proportion fixed at the time of purchase.

(6) If any payment has to be made during the year on a depositor's account, the interest calculated monthly at such rate as may be allowed by the Post-Office Savings Bank or State Bank of India on that account shall be added to the principal in column 9 of the depositors' ledger account referred to in Regulation 22, and for his proportionate share in the Post-Office National Savings Certificates, the amount due as calculated from the figures given at the back of the certificates shall be added.

8. The total sum at the credit of the subscriber, together with the accrued interest shall be payable on death or permanent disability or retirement on superannuation or loss of appointment due to abolition of the post or resignation, if such resignation is accepted and the subscriber has completed at least five years of service:

Provided that the Executive Council may deduct therefrom any sum or sums, due to the Board from the subscriber, but the total amount of such deduction shall not exceed the total contribution of the Board, with interest thereon:

Provided further, that interest shall be calculated up to the end of the month previous to that in which payment is made or up to the end of the sixth month after the month in which such amount became payable, whichever of these periods be less.

9. If a subscriber resigns before the completion of five years' service or in the event of dismissal of a subscriber on account of misconduct or gross neglect of duty, he shall not receive the contribution of the Board and the interest thereon. But his own contribution to the Provident Fund with the interest thereon shall be returned to him.

10. Any contribution and interest thereon withheld from an employee under Regulation 8 or Regulation 9 shall be credited to the "Secondary Education Fund".

11. (1) Every subscriber shall receive from the Accounts Officer, not later than the 31st day of August in each year, a statement of his account showing the opening balance at the beginning of the previous financial year, the deposits and withdrawals, during that year and the balance after addition of interest at the close of the financial year, ending 31st March.

(2) Errors, if any, in the accounts shall be brought to the notice of the Finance Officer within one month from the date of receipt of the statement after which no claim based on any such error shall be recognised except under circumstances considered by the Board to be of special character.

12. On grounds referred to in Regulation 13 temporary advances may be allowed to the subscribers with the sanction of the President of the Board in the case of Officers and of the Finance Officer in other cases, from the sums at their credit in the Fund, subject to the following conditions:—

(a) that the total amount of such advances at any time shall ordinarily be limited to three months' pay of the subscriber, or one-third of the subscriber's own deposits after deduction of withdrawal, if any, whichever is less;

(b) that relaxation of the limit laid down in clause (a) may in special circumstances be made with the approval of the President of the Board. But in no case shall the amount of advance at any time exceed one half of the subscriber's own deposit.

13. The grant of temporary advances referred to in Regulation 12 may be considered when the pecuniary circumstances of the subscriber are such that the indulgence is necessary on any or all of the following grounds, that is to say,:—

(d) to meet other expenses of a similar nature:

Provided that no advance shall be allowed for house building or repairing or for meeting any educational expenses.

14. When an advance has already been sanctioned to a subscriber, a subsequent advance shall not be granted to him until at least twelve months have elapsed since the complete repayment of the last advance taken, including interest:

Provided that in special cases and on very strong grounds the President of the Board may sanction an advance in relaxation of this regulation.

15. (1) An advance shall be recovered from the subscriber in such number of equal monthly instalments as the sanctioning authority may direct; but such number shall not be less than twelve unless the subscriber so elects, or in any case more than twenty-four. A subscriber may, at his option, repay more than one instalment in a month. Each instalment shall be a number of whole rupees, the amount of the advance being raised or reduced, if necessary, to admit of the fixation of such instalments.

(2) Recoveries shall be made monthly by compulsory deduction from salary, commencing from the first payment of a full month's salary after the advance is granted. Recoveries shall not be made, except with the subscriber's consent, while he is on leave (other than casual leave), or in receipt of subsistence grant. Recoveries of advance made shall be in addition to the usual subscription.

16. When the advance is repayable in twelve or less instalments, an additional instalment representing interest and equivalent to 4 per cent. of the amount of the advance shall be paid in the month following that in which the last instalment is paid. Similarly, two additional instalments representing interest each equivalent to 4 per cent. of the total amount of the advance shall be paid when the advance is repayable in more than twelve instalments. The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1155-I.R./IR/4L-7/57, dated 15th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Shri P. K. Roy, Shri S. K. Mukherjee, Shri K. L. Dutta, Shri N. N. Roy and Shri D. K. Roy, all of 92 Maty Garage, Bongaon, 24-Parganas, and one of their workmen, Shri Narendra Nath Ghosh, represented by the Bus Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule

Is the dismissal of Shri Narendra Nath Ghosh justified? To what relief is he entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union is in short as follows:

The workman Shri Narendra Nath Ghosh on 1st December 1953 entered into the service of the employers Messrs. Shri P. K. Roy, Shri S. K. Mukherjee, Shri K. L. Dutta, Shri N. N. Roy and Shri D. K. Roy, joint proprietors of Bus No. WBR 1033, plying on Route No. 92 in the Bongaon area. The conditions of work in the Company were very harsh and sometimes non-licensed conductors on petty salary of Rs. 30 a month used to be employed. This workman took up the cause of the aggrieved workmen and pressed before the Company their demands for wage increase. This enraged the Company which therefore summarily terminated the service of the workman on July 1955. No charge-sheet was given, nor any enquiry held. The Union therefore contends that this termination of the service of this workman is thoroughly unjustified and is a case of victimisation and an unfair labour practice. The Union therefore claims that the workman should be reinstated with compensation for the period of his forced unemployment.

The Company in their written statement generally refutes the allegations in the written statement of the Union and contends, inter alia, that for acts of misconduct this workman and the entire staff were suspended from their services with effect from 21st June 1956 as a security measure on the basis of a proper charge-sheet and after due enquiry. The bus plies between Bongaon and Boyra and starters are maintained at Bagda and not at Boyra and the hour for arrival of buses at Bagda from Boyra is fixed. On 21st June 1956 the driver and the entire staff were engaged in idle gossips and did not start in time. In the result the passengers in the bus were murmuring and the bus arrived at Bagda long after the scheduled hour. The staff, however, set up a plea of "breakdown" journey and a fine of Rs. 10 was imposed on the bus by the starter of Bagda. The plea of breakdown journey was absolutely false. The bus was in perfect running order and this false plea was resorted to with a view to evading the imposition of heavy fine. In consequence the up and down trips of the bus were lost to the Company involving it in a loss of Rs. 60 plus a fine of Rs. 10 and the passengers were also greatly inconvenienced. Charges were framed against this workman and the staff and a proper enquiry was held and they were found guilty of grave misconduct and so this workman was dismissed. In short, the Company justifies the termination of the services of the workman for grave misconduct after proper charge-sheet. The Company therefore contends that the workman is entitled to no relief.

DECISION

The main point for determination in this case is whether the dismissal of Shri Narendra Nath Ghosh who was a driver under the Company is justified or not. As already stated the case of the Company is that on 21st June 1956 the dismissed driver and the entire staff including 3 others, namely, Prafulla Paul, Biswanath and Sukumar were engaged in idle gossips at Boyra and suddenly it dawned on them that the bus should have left Boyra earlier and it had already been 20 minutes too late. Apprehending trouble, the driver and the staff set up a false plea of "breakdown" as an excuse for the delay. The truth came to light and the Company drew up a charge-sheet against this workman and the aforesaid 3 others as per Ext. B. The workman submitted an explanation Ext. , so an enquiry was held and they were found guilty and were dismissed all at a time. For the workman, it is stated that the charges levelled against him are false and baseless, in fact, he was dismissed for his Trade Union activities. In this case the Company has examined O. P. W 1 Shri Sudhir Kumar Mukherjee, a proprietor, O.P.W. 2 Shri Hari Mohon Mukherjee, a passenger of the same bus on the relevant date and O.P.W. 3 a dismissed conductor for the journey concerned. On the other hand, the Union examined the dismissed workman P. W. 1 Shri Narendra Nath Ghosh and P. W. 2 another proprietor of the Company.

Let us now turn to the evidence adduced in this case. Before referring to the oral evidence it will be useful to briefly refer to the charge-sheet Ext. B, dated 21st June 1956, wherein these 4 workmen were called upon to explain the delay in starting the bus from Boyra and for submitting a false explanation of breakdown and why they should not be dismissed. Seven days' time was given to them for submitting their reply. On 26th June 1956 the Bonagram Bus Workers' Union addressed a letter, Ext. C, to the Company admitting that these workmen have committed the offence but prayed for their reinstatement, considering that they are all refugees from Eastern Pakistan faced with critical conditions in these hard days. The Company as per Ext. D served a notice on these workmen intimating that an enquiry would be held on 2nd July 1956 at 4 p.m. in the office of the Bongaon Bus Syndicate. This enquiry was attended by these workmen and certain other passengers including Hari Mohon O.P.W. 2 and they were found guilty and for this they were dismissed with effect from 21st June 1956 as per orders Ext. G, dated 3rd July 1956. It is worth mention in this connexion that some passengers made a statement in writing Ext. E setting forth the offence committed by the workmen. This statement lends further support to the contention of the Company that the staff of the bus requested the passengers not to disclose this to the proprietors and for this undue request these passengers were exempted from paying any fares for the journey between Boyra and Bagda. The oral evidence adduced in this case by S. K. Mukherjee, O.P.W. 1 (a proprietor), O.P.W. 2 Hari Mohon Mukherjee (a passenger) and O.P.W. 3 (one of the conductors) coupled with the documentary evidence on record leaves absolutely no room for doubt that this workman with 3 others dismissed for the same offence really committed an offenc by not starting the bus in time from Boyra on 21st June 1956 as they indulged in idle gossips without caring for the financial loss of the Company, convenience or inconvenience of the passengers, etc. The Company has also offered an explanation as to why these workmen resorted to falsehood in setting up a plea of breakdown and the explanation is that one minute's delay entails a fine of Rs. 2, so the usual fine for 20 minutes would have come up to Rs. 40, whereas the fine for breakdown is only Rs. 10 and so the underlying motive was to avoid a payment of a larger fine. In the first place these workmen committed an offence the seriousness of which was aggravated by their adding a lie to it. The offence has been proved to the hilt. Then again, the Union contended that this workman was sacked for his Trade Union activities, but strangely enough the workman has not made a single statement about his Trade Union activities. Therefore the plea that he was dismissed for his Trade Union activities is a myth, pure and simple.

In this connexion I feel called upon to add a word about the testimony of the P. W. 2, one of the proprietors of the bus whose sympathy was evidently enlisted by the worker. This proprietor was previously a conductor under the Company and the suggestion is that his services were terminated for defalcation which, however, he has denied but he has been candid enough to admit that he was a party to a resolution Ext. I of the meeting of the proprietors held on 19th June 1956, wherein the decision reached was that the service of these workmen should be terminated. Therefore being once a party to the aforesaid resolution it ill-behoved this proprietor, P.W. 2 now to come forward and blow hot and cold at the same breath. I am unable to place the reliance on the evidence of this proprietor which it otherwise deserved. It may also be pointed out that the oral evidence of the witness for the Company goes unchallenged. Thus, having regard to the entire evidence on record, I must find that this workman was duly charge-sheeted and an enquiry was held with due notice to the workmen and they were rightly found guilty and their services were justly terminated.

As regards the punishment, it has been urged on behalf of the Company that the punishment, having regard to the offence committed, has been too severe. This driver, it is evident, had not a clean record of service. He was dismissed on a previous occasion and on his prayer as per Ext. II, dated 30th April 1955, he was reinstated. So having regard to his past record the punishment cannot be argued to be a severe one. Furthermore, as laid in several reported cases and the recent one would be found in the case of Radha Raman Bajpai and others and Labour Appellate Tribunal of India and others reported in 1957 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 16, "the question of punishment must be held to be within the discretion of the employer and exercise of that discretion by the employer could not be interfered with by the Industrial Tribunal on the ground that the punishment is excessive in its view, and when the punishment could not be regarded as arbitrary or unauthorised, it could not be interfered with by the Industrial Tribunal". Bearing in mind this principle of law I refuse to interfere with the punishment inflicted upon this workman since this Court, on a consideration of the three main questions, namely, (1) whether the workman was found guilty of misconduct by the employer, (2) whether the correct procedure was followed in arriving at the finding, and (3) whether the misconduct should be visited with dismissal, finds that the charge of misconduct has been duly proved on a proper enquiry attended by the workmen.

Before parting, I would point out that the Company wrongly dismissed this workman with effect from 21st June 1956 by an order, dated 3rd July 1956. This is clearly incorrect. The order of suspension cannot be made retrospectively. Correctly he should have been dismissed with effect from 3rd July 1956 (i.e., the date of the order of dismissal). The workman may be entitled to some back wages for correcting the date of dismissal as 3rd July 1956. The Company will be good enough to pay the arrears of wages due to the workman on this account within a month of the publication of this award. Besides this, he is entitled to no other relief.

This is my award.

Appearances:

For the workman: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri Nalini Das Gupta, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, arising out of the original reference, which was made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under its order No. 5018-I.R./D/11L-53/55, dated 23rd November 1956.

AWARD

The petitioner's case is that during the pendency of the original reference, his services were terminated by the Company by a letter, dated 27th November 1956, without taking permission from the Tribunal. So, the petitioner claimed reinstatement with back wages for the period of forced unemployment.

The Company filed written statement and contested the application. The Company wanted to say that the application under section 33A was not maintainable, inasmuch as there was no contravention of section 33 of the Act. It further contended that as the applicant's continued ill health precluded him from doing his normal duties in the main for which he was appointed, his services were terminated.

On the date fixed for hearing, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise incorporating the terms of settlement therein.

I have perused the said petition of compromise. The terms appear to be fair and reasonable. So, in my estimation they should be given effect to. The petition is accordingly disposed of in terms of the said petition of compromise which will form part of the award as Annexure.

SHRI M. N. GAN, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Indu Sarkar.

For the Company: Shri Jogesh Bose, Advocate.

This industrial dispute between Messrs. Prabashi Press (hereinafter called the Press), 120-2 Upper Circular Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Press Employees' Association, 249-B Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, regarding the following issue, was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 145-I.R./D/13L-43/56, dated the 10th January 1957.

Both parties filed written statements, adduced evidence, oral and documentary, and advanced arguments.

Issue

Whether the workers whose names are given below are entitled to any relief for the transfer of their service from the Prabashi management to a contractor?—

(i) Shri Matiar Rahaman, (ii) Shri Mahadev Kurmi, (iii) Shri Satya Bhattacharjee, (iv) Shri Anil Dam.

AWARD

Issue No. 1: The four employees mentioned in the schedule were in permanent service of the Press. It appears from the evidence of Shri K. N. Chatterjee, one of the two proprietors of the Press and Chairman of the Board of Directors, that between August 1946 and 1954 the work of the binding department was in a hopeless condition due to frequent absence of employees of the department, on whom was entrusted the work of regular despatch and supply of monthly journals to all agents and subscribers. Naturally, Shri Chatterjee thought of either abolishing the binding department and getting the binding work done, as in cases of other monthly journals, by outside agency, or reorganising it with the help of more active employees or a contractor. After consultation with the Manager, who in turn also consulted the employees of the binding department, Shri Chatterjee decided to run the department through a contractor and entered into an agreement, as per Ext. B, with a former employee, Abdul Rashid, as a contractor and transferred the services of the aforesaid employees of the said department, presumably, with their consent, under the said contractor Abdul Rashid with effect from February 1955. Shri Chatterjee himself paid half of the wages and drearness allowance to the employees directly from his office and the remaining half of the wages was paid through the contractor. The four employees examined themselves in this case. They admitted this transfer, but said that it was done without their knowledge and consent. At the same time they admitted that there was no protest for several months, i.e., till June 1955 and that they received the same wages and dearness allowance as before. They also enjoyed other benefits, e.g., leave and holidays, etc., along with other employees of the Press. It was only in June of that year that certain discriminatory treatments were meted out to them, when they were not paid the increased dearness allowance of Rs. 28 in place of Rs. 22 per month, and their names were removed from the office Attendance Register. They said that they approached the Management but failed to obtain redress of their grievences. Thereafter, they complained to their Association about this matter (Ext. D) and also to the Labour Commissioner as per Ext. E. The written statement filed on behalf of these employees is in some places incorrect and, on the whole, confusing. The only grievance of the employees, as far as I have gathered, is that they were denied the increased rate of dearness allowance since June 1955. Shri Chatterje says that this fact was not brought to his knowledge by the employees. Here he contradicted the evidence of the employees. He further said that he would certainly look into the matter now.

The admitted position is that due to many reasons, the binding department which was responsible for regular despatch and supply of journals to agents and subscribers, was not functioning properly with the consequential loss to the Press, and damage to its good will. So to obviate all possible delay in despatch as also to put a restraint upon the loss, a reorganisation of the department was necessary. This was never disputed in any stage of the case. The Management is within its right to reorganise the work of the department so as to put it on the right track. There is nothing initially wrong in the arrangement, which exists even now. The conduct of the employees shows that they had full knowledge of this arrangement and they consented to it, otherwise there could not be any transfer of service without objection for several months. Such transfers could only be effected with the consent of the employees concerned, and we can reasonably presume such consent in this case. The existing conditions of service remained unaltered since the beginning of 1955, and the employees were getting the same wages and dearness allowance as before. Shri K. N. Chatterjee, true to the tradition of his illustrious father, late Ramananda Chatterjee, the founder of the Press, did not like the idea of throwing any of the employees of the Press out of employment, and he did not do that. It is his evidence that these employees are now employed under the contractor in the Prabasi Press and, therefore, there cannot be any justification for a long-drawn proceeding based on alleged half truths and inaccurate statements.

The only grievance of the employees, as stated above, is that they are not being paid the same rate of dearness allowance as given to the rest of the employees of the Press. They are getting at the old rate whereas other employees are getting at the increased rate of Rs. 28 per month. That dearness allowance was increased at Rs. 28 is not disputed in this case. It is the common case of the parties that the services of these four men were not terminated by the Press. Their services were transferred or, to put it more correctly, were placed under a contractor engaged to run the department efficiently. Accordingly, the employees continued to be in the service of the Press and, as such, are entitled to all the benefits in the same way as enjoyed by all other employees. So it is meet and proper that these four employees should get the increased rate of dearness allowance while being employed under the contractor. Shri J. C. Bose, learned representative of the Press, accepted the position that the increased rate of dearness allowance should be paid to these employees. I, therefore, find that these employees are entitled to get increased dearness allowance of Rs. 28 per month along with other employees of the Press. The increased dearness allowance should be paid with effect from the date of this reference, i.e., the 10th January 1957. The employees are not entitled to any other relief in this case.

This is my award.

Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Kali Chakravorty, President.

By order No. 4323Dis./D/8L-32/55, dated Calcutta, the 27th September 1956, the Government of West Bengal has referred for adjudication the following points connected with a dispute between Messrs. Shree Radha Krishna Cotton Mills, Ltd. and their employees named in the order of reference.

Schedule

(1) Is the discharge of Shri P. B. Mukherjee, Shri Nitai Charan Adak, Shri D. Roy and Shri Nahar Singh justified?

(2) To what relief are they entitled?

AWARD

The four employees named in the schedule of the order of reference used to work in the Head Office of Shree Radha Krishna Cotton Mills, Ltd. From 1st November 1955 their services were terminated professedly on the ground of lock-out. The employees moved the Labour Department and finally secured the help of the Union to fight their cause. Their case is that termination of their services was unwarranted and they should be reinstated with full compensation. At the time of hearing, case of Nahar Singh was dropped by the Union as he had made up his differences with the Company and obtained full satisfaction of his dues.

The Company raised an objection that this was not an industrial dispute but an individual dispute which was not cognizable by this Tribunal. On the merits the Company's case is that owing to financial difficulties the Company had to close down the business and the services of these people were not required. They can claim no relief as the business is dead.

Admittedly the discharged employees had approached the Government directly and laid their grievances before the Labour Department. The Assistant Labour Commissioner suggested that they should come through a registered Trade Union. Thereafter they enrolled themselves as members of the Radha Krishna Cotton Mill Mazdoor Union and solicited the help of the Union. The Union rallied to their support and represented them before the Government. In the order of reference the workers are described as represented by the President, Radha Krishna Cotton Mill Mazdoor Union. The learned Advocate for the Company Shrijut Sen waxed indignant over the conduct of the Assistant Labour Commissioner in tendering advice that the matter should be represented through a Union. Shrijut Sen castigated the Assistant Labour Commisisoner in acid terms and expressed the view that it was not the Government's business to suggest how an individual dispute should be converted into an industrial dispute. I am afraid the criticism is misdirected. The highest Tribunal in India—the Supreme Court—has made the pronouncement that an individual dispute may be turned into an industrial dispute if it is taken up by a Trade Union or a substantial section of the co-workers. What was an individual dispute at the inception may mature into an industrial dispute. There was nothing wrong in the Assistant Labour Commissioner telling the aggrieved persons that their case could not be taken up for consideration unless it appeared in the form of an industrial dispute and to have that character impressed upon it, the dispute must have the championship of a Trade Union. The Assistant Labour Commissioner did nothing unseemly or improper in apprising the employees of the correct legal position.

According to Shrijut Sen, the President of the Union was simply representing the workers on the authority granted by them in accordance with section 36(1)(c). This was not equivalent to espousal of their cause by the Union. The case reported in 1954, 2, L.L.J. page 477 was referred to. The employees were, according to Shrijut Sen, being helped by the President. The evidence of P.W. 1 is to the effect that the Assistant Labour Commissioner having suggested that they should be represented through a Union the Union had taken up their cause on request. It is not a case of mere representation in the Tribunal or helping the employees to fight for their rights. On the facts and evidence of P.W. 1, I hold that the Union had in fact taken up the cause of the employees and hence the individual dispute was transformed into an industrial dispute. The Tribunal is quite competent to deal with this matter.

The Company had two mills. Mill No. 1 was admittedly closed in 1946. There were labour troubles in Mill No. 2 which resulted in a lock-out with effect from 23rd August 1955. This lock-out was considered by this Tribunal on another reference and was held to be justified. The award made on that reference has been published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 4th July 1957. Notice Ext. 2 was served on Shri P. B. Mukherjee on 30th September 1955, terminating his services with effect from 1st November 1955. Similar notice was served on the others. In this notice it was stated that as the mills were closed since 23rd August 1955 due to an illegal strike started by the workmen and as there was very megre chance of restarting the mill in the near future the management had to dispense with his services. It is in evidence that the mill did not reopen since the date of lock-out. The Management found that it could not carry on the business and took the decision to dispose of the machineries and lands on which the mills stood. Negotiations for sale were started in October and agreement was concluded on the 16th of November 1955. The contention advanced on behalf of the workers is that there was lock-out and not closure on the date the notice of discharge was served, and the workers were entitled to compensation on termination of their services on the ground of lock-out. Strictly speaking what was lock-out at the start developed into a closure in the long run. At the date of the notice the Management had made up its mind to close the business and dispose of the machineries, plants and the land. Termination of service was therefore in anticipation of closure. There are decisions by the Supreme Court that Industrial Disputes Act can be applied only in the case of an existing industry. Discharge on account of closure is not retrenchment and no retrenchment relief can be claimed. As in this case the business was ultimately closed and at the date of the notice closure was in contemplation the position appears to me to be the same. Cases reported in 1956, 2, L.L.J., page 4, page 238 and 1957, 1, L.L.J., page 235 may be referred to. I think the principles enunciated in these cases would apply though the closure was not an accomplished fact at the date of the notice: The mill was not working and at the date of the notice the authorities were satisfied that they could not be reopened. These are sufficient for the inference that closure had been decided upon and the termination of services of the employees was the proximate result of the decision. In this state of things the discharge cannot be turned retrenchment since this action had been taken in relation to closure of the business. The employees are not entitled to any relief.

The employees may recover from the Company the wages admittedly due for the month of October 1955 and Provident Fund money.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Harrison Saw Mills, E-3 Clive Buildings, Calcutta-1, and their workman, Shri Bechulal Chandra, represented by Motor Transport Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12. (Case No. VIII-277 of 1956.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri S. A. Q. Parry, Labour Adviser.

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

The points referred for adjudication by Government order No. 4330Dis./D/11L-267/56, dated Calcutta, the 27th September 1956, are as follows:—

(1) Is the discharge of Shri Bechulal Chandra justified?

(2) To what relief is he entitled?

AWARD

Shri Bechulal Chandra was a motor driver in the employ of Messrs. Harrison Saw Mills. His case is that a notice of discharge was served on him on 30th December 1955 terminating his services with effect from 1st of January 1956, without any reasons being assigned. He failed to persuade the Management to revoke this arbitrary order of discharge. Ultimately the matter was referred by Government for adjudication by this Tribunal.

The Company's case is that Bechulal Chandra was concerned in the theft of some part of a circular saw on 27th December 1955. Being detected he absented himself from duty from the day following without leave or notice. Though for a misconduct of this description the Company was entitled to order dismissal, he was dealt with leniently, his services being terminated in accordance with rule 12(a) of the Standing Orders by service of notice.

In the forefront of the arguments advanced on behalf of the Company was the point that this dispute is an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute. There is no Union of the workers serving in this Company. The case of Bechulal Chandra was being represented by Motor Transport Workers' Union. According to the Company's representative, representation by an alien Union cannot have the effect of converting the individual dispute into an industrial dispute. Reference was made in support of the argument to a decision of the Supreme Court reported in 1957, 2, L.L.J. page 1. It appears from the report at page 2 that the case of the aggrieved worker was not taken up by any Union of workers of the Company nor by any of the Unions of workmen employed in similar or allied trades but by a Union with which the workman had no connexion whatsoever. It is already been stated that there is no Union of workmen employed by this Company. The Union which has espoused the cause of this employee is composed of motor transport workers. The Company does not carry on business in motor transport. It is a Company working saw mills. The Motor Transport Workers' Union is not a Union of workmen employed in a similar or allied trade. Espousal of the cause by a Union of workers employed in an entirely different undertaking does not accordingly turn the dispute into an industrial dispute as it cannot be said to be a dispute between the Company and its workmen. The preliminary objection raised on behalf of the Company succeeds on the authority of the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court.

Though it is unnecessary for me in the view I have taken with regard to the preliminary objection to enter into the merits, I may observe in passing that the Company's contention that it is entitled under rule 12(1) of the Standing Orders to terminate the services of an employee without assigning any reasons is not at all sound. Rule 12(1) of the Standing Orders has been quoted verbatim in paragraph 8 of the written statement. It only lays down the procedure to be followed for terminating the employment of a permanent workman. It is not provided that the Company has the inherent right to throw out of employment a worker according to its whims without there being any ground for termination of service. The procedure laid down is to be followed when there is sufficient grounds for dispensing with the services of a workman. Had this been an industrial dispute the Tribunal would have come to the conclusion that there was no ground for termination of service of this employee, as the only argument pressed that the Company had the right to discharge the employee on service of one month's notice could not be upheld. The Company did not bring any evidence to prove that this worker had committed theft of its property. As, however, the dispute happens to be an individual dispute no relief can be granted by the Tribunal.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shri Jitendra Nath Patra, a workman of the Polish Department of Messrs. Bose Brothers, 76/15 Benaras Road, North Bantra, Howrah, against the said Company. (Case No. 172/56 under section 33A.)

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the workman: Shri Kali Chakravorty, Vice-President of the Union.

For the Company: Shri S. K. Bhanja Choudhury, Labour Adviser of the Company.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, arising out of the original reference, which was made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, to this Tribunal under its order No. 3144Dis./D/10L-98/56, dated 18th July 1956.

AWARD

The petitioner's case is that during the pendency of the original reference, on 7th August 1956 he had gone out of the factory for tea with a gate-pass but he was charge-sheeted for using a forged gate-pass. He duly submitted his explanation. But from 8th August 1956 he was not allowed to join his work in the factory and since then he has been without employment.

The Company filed written statement and contested the application. The Company wanted to say that the application under section 33A was not maintainable, inasmuch as there was no contravention of section 33 of the Act. The petitioner has examined himself and a witness while on behalf of the Company, one of the Directors and a darwan deposed. Documentary evidence was also produced by both sides. I am not prepared to believe the version of the petitioner or his witness. Both of them did not commend themselves to me to be truthful witnesses. Accordingly, I am unable to hold that the petitioner after the incident of 7th August 1956 was not allowed to join. I am prepared to believe the evidence as adduced by the Company. From the evidence of one of the Directors and darwan, I am satisfied that the petitioner for the alleged offence in respect of which he was charge-sheeted did not himself attend factory for any day since 8th August 1956.

From the materials placed before the Tribunal, the Tribunal is of the view that there was no contravention of section 33 of the Act. The petitioner has not yet been dismissed. He was charge-sheeted and an enquiry was held by the Management. As a result of this enquiry the Management has decided to dismiss him after taking permission from the Tribunal. That permission has not yet been taken or granted by the Tribunal. As the things stand at present, it cannot be said that section 33 of the Act has been contravened. It is decided hence that the present application is not maintainable. It is accordingly rejected.

AWARD

It is the Union's case that the Howrah Motor Accessories Agency, Ltd. (hereinafter to be called the Company), carries on business in automobile parts and accessories as a premier concern in this respect. The said Company has got Branches at Howrah and Bhowanipore besides the Head Office at 3/1 Mangoe Lane, Calcutta. The Company is financially sound and prosperous and earns good profits year to year. But there is no terms and conditions of service in this Company. The employees have to depend always on the whims and discretion of the Company. The security of service is absolutely nil. The rate of salary is much below the starvation level, and the dearness allowance is absoultely inadequate. The employees tried their best to improve their service conditions, but all their efforts in this respect failed. So, they decided for collective action through the Trade Union known as "West Bengal Motor Dealers Employees' Union" for agitating their grievances. This Union placed a charter of demands in 1954 before the Company. But the Company was not happy on the formation of the Union, and as a retaliation carried on persistent attack on the employees in general and the leaders of the Union in particular. The minimum earnings of a clerk and a subordinate staff are Rs. 40 and Rs. 25, respectively per month. The rate of dearness allowance is Rs. 10 in the minimum and Rs. 50 in the maximum. The rate of annual increment for clerks and subordinate staff is also very unsatisfactory. The Company has capacity to pay higher pay and wages and also dearness allowance. There is also no leave rules in this Company. Holidays under the Negotiable Instruments Act are not granted to the employees, and for extra hours of work, no overtime is paid to them. The employees are to work for longer hours in this Company. In the years 1952, 1953, 1954 and 1955, the Company had earned substantial profits, but the employees have not been paid adequate bonus for those years, although the Managing Director of the Company gave an assurance to pay due bonus on profits for those years within November 1955. Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee, Kamala Hazam, Shri Monmohan Banerjee and Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee were arbitrarily dismissed by the Company because of their Union activities, and Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee was retrenched for no justifiable ground. The tiffin allowance that is being paid to the employees of this Company is very meagre and inadequate. Hence, the Union has claimed that the salary and wage of every employee should be increased from 1st January 1955, on the principle of point-to-point adjustment, and that dearness allowance as per scheme of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce should be given. The Union has further demanded that the employees named above should be reinstated with back pay and other allowances for the period of forced unemployment. The Union has further demanded that tiffin allowance at the rate of annas 12 per day should be given to all employees, and that overtime should be paid at double the rate of salary. Regarding bonus for the years in question, the claim of the Union is that the Company should pay bonus equivalent to one month's pay with dearness allowance as Puja bonus and one-sixth of the total earning of the employees as profit bonus. The Union also contended that the privilege leave should be raised to one month besides usual casual leave and sick leave.

The Company in reply denied most of the allegations as made by the Union in its written statement. It submits that it is not a manufacturing concern, but is mainly an importer of motor spare parts and has sale agency for Ford genuine parts, Ferrodo brake lining and clutch facings. There are about 400 motor parts dealers in Calcutta. The present position of such business, particularly of importers, is very disquieting. This unhappy trend speaks of dark future. One of the causes is that almost all State Governments are nationalising transport, and these authorities generally secure spare parts direct from local manufacturers, car agents and by imports as well. As a result of this, the Company has lost a substantial part of its business, and with more nationalisation in future, a critical situation will arise. Then again, due to the import policy of the Government of India, which is now encouraging country-made and locally manufactured goods, the import quota of pistons, piston rings, plugs, etc., has been substantially reduced, as these are being locally manufactured. In consequence thereof, the business of this Company which is mainly of import has been much affected. With the growth of national industry, the business of this Company is likely to face an unprecedented crisis, as 90 per cent. of the business of this Company rests on imports. In agency lines, a very small margin of profit is allowed. Besides, there is keen competition amongst the dealers. The cumulative effect of all these have made the business in motor parts dull, and the future is very gloomy. Regarding pay and scales of pay, it is the case of the Company that the pay and wages paid by this concern to its employees are quite fair and reasonable. This Company is gradually giving increment to the employees from time to time. Any further increase in the wage level will prove detrimental and ruinous to this concern, as the trade position is dull and shaky, and as profit has a tendency towards gradual fall it will be quite inequitable if any grades and scales of pay are introduced, in which case the Company will not be able to bear such additional burden. The demand of the Union for different grades and scales of pay for Matriculates and Graduates are unreasonable. The Company's work is simple in nature and of a routine and stereotyped character. That being so, it does not require the assistance or help of a Graduate. Non-Graduates and even non-Matriculates are performing the job with equal efficiency and merit. So, it will be inequitable if a differential treatment between the two employees doing the same job with equal efficiency is shown simply bcause of academic qualifications. Regarding dearness allowance, the Company says that it pays dearness allowance at the rate which is higher than that of the sister concerns, and that it will not be able to bear any further increase in this respect. The claim of the Union for dearness allowance according to the scheme of Bengal Chamber of Commerce is a fanastic one, and cannot be allowed. Regarding leave and holidays, the Company says that it grants 17 days' leave in a year with pay. Besides this, it grants holidays which are notified by Calcutta Motor Dealers' Association, which will not be less than 17 days in a year. As regards medical leave, there is no hard and fast rule, but such leave is granted in appropriate cases for a month or so. Medical certificate is not insisted on, when the Management is satisfied about the fact of illness. So, the Company contends that the existing leave and holidays should be maintained. Regarding overtime, the Company says that the allegation of the Union in this respect is false. The Company pays 1½ the basic wages on week days in case of overtime, and also at the same rate, if an employee is to work on holidays. As regards working hours, it is the version of the Company that the usual working hours in a week are 40½ hours including half-an-hour recess each day excepting Saturday. So, the existing working hours should be maintained. Regarding bonus, the Company contends that there is no such bonus as "Puja bonus" or "Customary bonus" as alleged. The Company has all along been paying bonus on profits only, which is, however, paid at the time of Puja. The Management never paid any bonus in a year of loss, nor the Company ever paid any customary bonus. The Company never paid profit bonus quarterly equivalent to one month's pay with dearness allowance as alleged. Regarding the Union's claim for additional bonus for the years 1952, 1953 and 1954, the Company contends that such claim of past bonuses is not maintainable, as the accounts are all adjusted and closed. The allegation of the Union that the Managing Director gave an assurance to pay additional bonus for those years by November 1955, is totally false and is denied. Regarding the claim for bonus for the year 1955, the Company submitted that it has paid on this account two months' basic salary, which is to be deemed to be adequate and sufficient, and that the employees are not entitled to get anything more on this account. As regards tiffin allowance, the Company says that it is not bound to give any tiffin allowance, but as a gesture of good will and to maintain good relations with the employees, it pays tiffin allowance at the rate of annas 4 for clerks and at the rate of annas 2 for the subordinate staff per head per day. The Company cannot bear the burden of any additional tiffin allowance as claimed. Regarding reinstatement of Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee, Kamala Hazam, Shri Monmohan Banerjee and Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee, the Company contends that their dismissal was just and proper, as they were found guilty of gross misconduct. They were duly charge-sheeted, and the copies of charge-sheets were served on them. They submitted explanations, and proper enquiries were held by th Management. After this, the Management came to the decision that they were guilty of gross misconduct and should be dismissed from service. As regards retrenchment of Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee, it is the Company's case that the said retrenchment was, perfectly bona fide, as it had to be carried out for reasons of trade.

Issue Nos. 1 and 2: These two issues are taken up together. This Company is mainly an importer of motor spare parts and has sale agency for Ford genuine parts, Ferrodo brake lining and clutch facings. There are good many such motor dealers in Calcutta. Naturally, this Company is to face keen competition in the market. It appears from the evidence of the General Manager (O.P.W. 1), that the present import position is very alarming, as the Government has stopped all the imports. It cannot be denied that the present position of motor spare parts business, particularly of importers is very disquieting. The Government of India has recently stopped import of all commodities temporarily for a few months. Furthermore, the Government is now encouraging country-made and locally manufactured goods, as a result of which the import quota of pistons, piston rings and plugs, etc., has been substantially reduced, because these are being manufactured in India. It is evident that the business of this Company is mainly of import. So, there cannot be any manner of doubt that the business of this Company, however prosperous and lucrative it might have been in the past, has been adversely affected because of the present import policy. Behind this background, the Tribunal is to judge these two issues, which relate to pay and scales of pay and dearness allowance.

The Union in its written statement has demanded revision of pay for all categories of workmen as well as fixation of grades and scales of pay in a manner as stated therein. I have looked into the same. In my view, the demand as made in this respect by the Union appears to be fantastic, because it has been pitched too high. The Tribunal is unable to accept the Union's demand for basic pay for all categories of workmen, as that would create very unfavourable repercussions in sister concerns in the locality. All that is said on behalf of the Union in support of their demand is that the wage and pay that are being given to the workmen fall short of the living wage, which should be the object or goal before every one. But in this connection, I may profitably quote what has been observed by their Lordships of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in a case. Their Lordships have said that the living wage in the present condition of the country's position can never be achieved, and that the workmen have got to be satisfied for the present for a long time to come with the fair wage, which is strictly above the minimum wage. It was also urged on behalf of the Union that the wages and pay should be fixed in conformity with the requirements of balanced diet. But I may say that the high level of balanced diet cannot be attained in present times. The whole question of fixation of basic wage has got to be considered in the background of what has been said and proved on both sides, and in the light of the principles laid down by the Labour Appellate Tribunal of India. In the case of Caltex (India), Ltd., reported in 1952, L.A.C., page 402, their Lordships of the Labour Appellate Tribunal have observed: "The important factors in this connection are the capacity of the industry to pay and the prevailing rates of wages. These are to be apprised on the footing of 'industry-cum-region' basis". This Company has produced materials and evidence [vide Exts. H, I and I(1)] to show the rates of pay and wages which are being paid to the workmen of similar concerns in the locality, namely, Messrs. A. K. Mukherjee & Co., and Messrs Oriental Motor Accessories Agency, Ltd. It appears from the comparative statement of wages prepared by this Company (Ext. H), that the basic pay which is being paid by this concern to all categories of its workmen does not compare unfavourably as a whole with that of those two sister concerns as named above. It is evident, of course, that the minimum basic pay of this Company compares unfavourably in some cases. But the maximum basic pay which is being paid to such categories of workmen by this Company is higher than what these two sister concerns pay to similar categories of workmen. Only in the case of clerks, it appears that the minimum basic pay as paid by this Company is lower than what is being paid by one of those two sister concerns, namely, Messrs. Oriental Motor Accessories Agency Ltd., and is also somewhat less than what was fixed for a non-Matriculate by the award of the First Major Engineering Tribunal. Considering the above facts and taking into account the present trade position of this Company which has become shaky in view of the rigid restriction on import of motor parts and the policy recently adopted by the Government in this respect, I am not disposed to revise the existing pay of the employees of this concern, save and except the pay of a solitary clerk—Shri Narendra Nath Mukherjee, who is getting Rs. 45 as basic pay at present. As stated already, the minimum basic pay of a clerk in this Company is less than what was fixed by the award of the First Major Engineering Tribunal. That Tribunal by its award, dated 4th June 1948, fixed the minimum basic pay or rather starting pay of a non-Matriculate clerk at Rs. 55 per month and that of a Matriculate clerk at Rs. 60 per month. It has transpired from the evidence of the General Manager of the Company (O.P.W. 1) that 75 per cent. of the clerks working in this Company are non-Matriculates, and that they do not require Graduates to perform the office work. Thus, it is evident that a non-Matriculate is quite competent to do work in the office of this Company, the work being presumably simple in nature and of a routine and stereotyped character. In this view of the matter and also taking into consideration the fact that majority of the clerks of this Company are non-Matriculates, the minimum basic pay of a clerk in this Company is fixed at Rs. 55, the pay that was fixed by the award of the First Major Engineering Tribunal. The Union has contended that the Graduates employed in the clerical establishment should be given a special allowance. It is urged on behalf of the Union that the Graduate clerks should get such special allowance or advance increment on the ground that they possess higher academic qualifications, and can be of great use to the Company. I must say that I was not impressed by this argument. It is prima facie the right of the Management to lay down the minimum qualification for a particular job and fix the scale of pay therefor. There is nothing to prevent a person with higher qualifications from applying for that post, and if he is appointed, he cannot turn round and claim any special allowance on the ground that he possess higher academic qualifications. If any distinction be made between Graduate clerks and non-Graduate clerks for doing the same job, it may give rise to heart-burning and create industrial unrest. So, no higher starting salary should be given to Graduates, as it would lead to a great deal of discontentment among the employees. As one clerk, namely, Shri Narendra Nath Mukherjee is getting basic pay less than the minimum basic pay fixed by the First Major Engineering Tribunal, he should be pulled up to it. To be more precise, his pay should be raised from Rs. 45 to Rs. 55. The cases of other clerks do not require to be considered, as they are all getting basic pay above Rs. 55.

The Union has demanded introduction of scales and grades of pay for all categories of workmen of this concern. But the Company for reasons already stated has pleaded its inability in this respect. The statement (Ext. F) shows that in the past this Company had allowed increments to different categories of workmen. So, it cannot be said that this Company is altogether indifferent and unsympathetic towards its workmen. Time-scales and fixing of grades increase the wage bill year after year, and as such they have financial implications. Such scales and fixing of grades should not be forced upon the Company, unless it has present capacity to pay, and its financial capacity can be counted upon in future. Thus, both financial ability and stability are essential ingredients. The Company's business is at stake at present. It is mainly an importer of motor parts. The present position of such business is disquieting for the rigid restriction on import of motor parts. It seems that dark days are ahead for the business of this Company. If the restriction that is being imposed on import of motor spare parts in this country continue for a considerable time, time may come when this Company will be forced to close its business. So, the present time is not at all opportune for saddling the Company with additional burden. Accordingly, the prayer for introduction of the scales and grades of pay for the workmen of this Company cannot be sustained at present.

The Union demanded ad hoc increment over the existing basic pay. But such demand is not justifiable, in view of the predicament in which the Company has been put at present. Furthermore, it appears that there are no grades fixing the scales of increment for the employees in this concern. Ad hoc increments can only be granted, if the two conditions are fulfilled, namely, (i) there are certain grades and (ii) time-scales of pay. In the present case, both the conditions are absent. So, the prayer for ad hoc increment is turned down.

Regarding dearness allowance, the Union's demand is that the workmen of this Company should be given dearness allowance according to the scheme of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. But I am unable to direct that the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme of dearness allowance, which is very handsome and generous, should be given for the staff and the workmen of a Company like the present one. I am of the view that the conditions of service on the basis of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme cannot reasonably be applied to companies which have to function in competitive market and have to sell imported products to consumers in this country. The workmen of this Company can at best say that they are entitled to get dearness allowance according to the scales as refixed by the Second Major Engineering Tribunal by its award, published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 21st September 1950. The scales of that dearness allowance for all categories of workmen under the engineering concerns are as follows:—

Basic pay range.	Dearness allowance Rs.
Up to Rs. 50	30
From Rs. 51 to Rs. 100	42
From Rs. 101 to Rs. 150	48
From Rs. 151 to Rs. 200	54
From Rs. 201 upwards	60

The statement filed by the Company (Ext. F) goes to show that in most cases, the workmen of this Company are getting deanress allowance much less than what the Second Major Engineering Tribunal fixed. So, in the interest of the workers, I was half inclined to extend the benefit of the dearness allowance of the said Tribunal to the present case. But considering the present predicament of the Company as discussed already, I cannot possibly do so. If that is done, it will only hasten the ruin of the Company. The statement (Ext. F) reveals that the office boys and several coolies of this Company are getting total emoluments including dearness allowance less than Rs. 61. The Major Engineering Tribunal fixed Rs. 61 as the total emoluments for an unskilled worker, that is Rs. 30 as basic pay and Rs. 31 as dearness allowance, and that was considered as the minimum emoluments for the weakest party. I, therefore, direct that only those workmen of this Company who are getting less than Rs. 61 per month at present, be pulled up to it. For such pulling up, the Company may increase either their basic pay or dearness allowance, which would be advantageous to the workers concerned. Such adjustment should be made in consultation with the workers or their duly authorised representatives. The Company must see that such workers do not get less than Rs. 61 as their total emoluments. Those workmen who are getting above Rs. 61 will not stand to benefit by it. By this, I do the barest justice to the workers commensurate with the present condition of the Company. The workmen should wait for a more opportune moment to press their claim for dearness allowance.

The directions as made in these two issues will have no retrospective effect, but they will have prospective operation from the date the award becomes enforceable. These two issues are decided accordingly.

Issue Nos. 3 and 4: These two issues are taken up together, as they relate to leave and holidays. The Union has demanded one month's privilege leave with full wages and allowance in a year for each employee. This is resisted by the Company. It appears from the evidence that this Company grants 17 days' leave in a year with pay to its employees. Besides this leave, the Management also grants holidays which are notified by the Calcutta Motor Dealers' Association, and these holidays are not less than 17 days' in a year. So, in my view, the existing leave and holidays are sufficient and adequate, and should not be disturbed. It has also transpired from the evidence of General Manager of the Company (O.P.W. 1) that this Company grants medical leave in appropriate cases. As regards casaul leave, the Company shall grant such leave not exceeding 10 days in a year with full wages to its employees, provided the Management is satisfied with the cause for which such casual leave is prayed for. These two issues are decided thus.

Issue No. 5: It has transpired from the evidence of O.P.W. 1, General Manager, that this Company pays 1¼ the basic wages on week days in case of overtime, and at the rate of 1½ the basic wages, if an employee is to work on holidays. The existing practice appears to be sufficient. Such overtime allowance shall be given by the Company to its workers. This issue is thus disposed of.

Issue No. 6: This issue relates to working hours. In this Company, the working hours are from 9-30 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. from Monday to Friday with half-an-hour recess, and on Saturday, the working hours are from 9-30 a.m. to 3-30 p.m., without any recess. The Union's demand is that the working hours excluding recess should not exceed 6 hours in any case on week days and 3 hours on Saturday. In my view, the Union's demand is unreasonable, and cannot be accepted. So, it is turned down. The existing working hours of this Company are quite normal and reasonable, and the same shall continue. This issue is accordingly disposed of.

Issue No. 7: This issue relates to bonus for the years 1952, 1953, 1954 and 1955. It is contended on behalf of the Union that the employees are entitled to get customary bonus, which is payable at the time of the Puja, in addition to profit bonus. But the contention of the Company is that there is no such thing as customary bonus in this concern. The Company has been paying all along bonus on profits only, which was, however, paid at the time of Puja which is a national festival. The Union has not succeeded in showing by any satisfactory and cogent evidence that customary bonus was being paid to the employees as alleged. No agreement or contract is also forthcoming. There is no evidence also to lead to an inference of any implied agreement in this respect. Even, there is no evidence to show for what period the employees of this concern got the alleged customary bonus. O.P.W. 1, Shri A. C. Roy, who is General Manager of this Company has stated in his evidence clearly and unequivocally that there is no customary bonus prevalent in this Company, nor does this Company pay any quarterly bonus. This statement of the General Manager stands unchallenged and uncontradicted, as no cross-examination was made on this point on behalf of the Union. In the circumstances, the Union's claim for customary bonus cannot stand, and accordingly it is rejected.

Now let me consider whether the employees of this Company are entitled to get any bonus for the years in question, in addition to what they have already got from the Company, because it has come out from the evidence that profit bonus for the years 1952 to 1955 had already been paid to the employees. The General Manager of this Company (O.P W. 1) has deposed that profit bonus for the years 1952 to 1955 was paid to the employees, who accepted such bonus without any protest or demur. The Company has also filed a statement showing the payments of such bonus for those years. This has been proved by the General Manager and it is Ext. K. It appears therefrom that for the years 1952, 1953 and 1954 bonus equivalent to one month's salary and dearness allowance was paid to the employees, but for the years 1955 and 1956 bonus equivalent to 2 months' basic salary only was paid to them. It further appears from Ext. K, that some ex gratia payments unrelated to profit were also made to the employees in the years 1951, 1952 and 1953. The Union's contention, as I understood at the time of trial, was that the employees were entitled to get much more bonus than what was paid to them for the years in question, as the Company earned substantial profits in those years. Learned lawyer appearing on behalf of the Company has argued before me that the claim of the Union for any further bonus for the years 1952, 1953 and 1954 cannot be entertained. His line of argument was that such claim was not only a belated one, but also made at a time when the accounts of this Company for those years were finally closed and adjusted. The financial year of this Company is from January to December. This claim for additional bonus was made for the first time by the Union at the end of the year 1954, in its charter of demands, and also later on when conciliation proceedings were pending in the Labour Directorate. As stated already, it has transpired from the evidence of the General Manager, who is O.P.W. 1, that the employees of this Company accepted bonus for the years 1952, 1953 and 1954 without any protest and demur. That evidence also stands unchallenged and uncontradicted. In the case of Associated Electrical Industries (India), Ltd. Employees' Welfare Association vs. Associated Electrical Industries, Ltd., and Others reported in 1954, L.L.J. (1), page 709, it has been held by their Lordships of the Labour Appellate Tribunal that where the Company paid one month's basic earning as bonus to their workmen in September 1950, for the year 1949, and it was accepted by the workmen without protest, the demand made by the workmen in March 1951, for additional bonus for the year 1949, must be deemed to be belated, and as such it should be rejected. Their Lordships further observed that as the bonus for the year in question was accepted without any protest, it was not open to the workmen to reagitate the same after such a lapse of time. In my view, the claim for additional bonus for the years 1952, 1953 and 1954, should be rejected being belated. It has also been held by the High Court of Madras in a case reported in 1957, L.L.J. (1), at page 282, that the principle is now well established by a series of decisions by the Labour Appellate Tribunals that if the claim for bonus is made long after the year for which bonus is claimed has ended, and accounts have been closed, the Tribunals would be justified in rejecting such a belated claim. The Hon'ble Supreme Court of India, in the case of Muir Mills Company vs. Suti Mills Mazdoor Union (1955, L.L.J., page 5) has laid down—"On the accounts of each year being made up and the profits of the industrial concern being ascertained, the workers during the particular year have their demand for bonus fully satisfied out of surplus profits, and the balance of the profits is allocated and carried over in the accounts. No further claim for payment of bonus out of these reserves or undistributed profits can, therefore, survive". In view of the principles enunciated above, I am definitely of the opinion that the Union's claim for additional bonus for the years 1952, 1953 and 1954 is not tenable. At least, it is crystal clear that the claim for such additional bonus, particularly for the years 1952 and 1953, is barred, because the demand for such additional bonus was made at a time when the accounts for those years had been closed and adjusted, and the workers during those particular years had their demand for bonus fully satisfied out of surplus profits. The balance of profits in respect of those years was allocated and carried over in the accounts. That being so, the claim for additional bonus for those years could not survive. Such a belated claim for bonus should not be investigated. This principle has also received the approval of the Supreme Court. In the case of Muir Mills as mentioned above, their Lordships pointed out that no further claim for payment of bonus out of reserves and undistributed profits, after the accounts of each year were made up, did survive. I may say incidentally here that from the balance-sheets which have been filed by the Company confidentially it appears that auditing and finalising of balance-sheets for the years 1952 and 1953 were completed by the chartered accountant on 2nd March 1953 and 18th June 1954, respectively, that is long before the claim for bonus for the years 1952 and 1953 was made. I have observed no doubt that the calim for additional bonus for the year 1954 is also a belated one. But it apears from the balance-sheet for the year 1954 that the auditing and finalising of the balance-sheet for that year was made by the chartered accountant on 14th June 1955, that is after the demand for additional bonus for that year was made by the Union on behalf of the employees. The employees come to know of the financial position of the Company only when they get a copy of the audited accounts. So, the bonus claim can very well be made on behalf of the employees even after the closing of the accounts, if the claim for bonus has not been fully satisfied out of the undistributed profits of the year. The employees, admittedly, got bonus for the year 1954, equivalent to one month's basic wage with dearness allowance. From Ext. M(1) which is a statement of account prepared by the Company from the balance-sheet for the year 1954, it appears that the Company had Rs. 1,05,358-11-12 as profit. The present theory regarding profit bonus according to the Full Bench Formula is that bonus can only be paid, should there be a residue or surplus after deducting prior charges and also after making provisions for the return on paid-up capital as well as on working capital, and if there be no substantial profits or available surplus after such deductions, the claim for bonus on the basis of profit cannot be sustained. From Ext. M(1) which is a statement of account prepared by the Company from the balance-sheet on the basis of the Full Bench Formula, it appears that the income-tax demand for the year in question was Rs. 50,965-13, return on paid-up capital at the rate of 6 per cent. was Rs. 24,000 and dividend calculated at the rate of 6 per cent. was also Rs. 24,000, that is Rs. 98,965-13 in all. Nothing has been claimed on reserves employed as working capital. In my view, the Company is entitled to get legitimate deductions of the items mentioned above from the gross profit. So, after deducting the amounts in respect of those items, it appears that the surplus available for the year 1954 was Rs. 6,392-14-2. It is evident from Ext. J, that the wage bill of all employees in this concern for the month of December 1954, was Rs. 11,286. That being so, it is manifestly clear that the available surplus was insufficient and the employees of this concern were not entitled to get bonus even for 15 days out of this surplus available for that year. So, in any view of the matter, the Union's claim for additional bonus for the year 1954 is not tenable. Therefore, it is decided that the employees of this concern are not entitled to get any additional bonus for the year 1954. Now remains for consideration, the Union's claim for profit bonus for the year 1955. Admittedly, the Company had already paid two months' basic salary as bonus to the employees for the year 1955. It is contended on behalf of the Union that over and above the said payment, the employees are entitled to get bonus for that year as profit bonus. It appears from Ext. M, which is a statement of account prepared by the Company from the balance-sheet for the year 1955, as per Full Bench Formula, that after making allowance for prior charges and also after making provisions for income-tax, fair return on the paid-up capital and dividend, and transferring certain amount to general reserve, there remained available surplus to the extent of Rs. 2,960-12-10 only, although the gross profit for that year was Rs. 1,40,943-10-10. It has transpired from Ext. J, that the total wage bill for the employees of this concern in December 1955 came up to Rs. 11,030. This being the position, the Union's claim for any further bonus for the year 1955 cannot be sustained, as the available surplus was insignificant. It is accordingly held that the claim of the Union for additional bonus for the year 1955 must also fail.

I may say in this connection that I have perused the baalnce-sheets for the years 1954 and 1955, which were produced confidentially before the Tribunal. It appears from the balance-sheets that the items of deductions as made by the Company in their statements as per Full Bench Formula are quite legitimate, inasmuch as the balance-sheets support the same. The balance-sheets should be deemed to be correct, unless the contrary is shown by evidence. In the present case, the Union did not and could not adduce any evidence to show that the balance-sheets were not correct. Even, no endeavour has been made in this respect. I am fully alive to the fact that this Company is not a manufacturing concern. But that does not stand in the way of applying Full Bench Formula in the matter of calculating profit bonus in the present case. I am of the view that the Company is certainly entitled to get the benefit of that formula, so far as the deductions as shown in the statements of account prepared by them are concerned, inasmuch as they are legitimate deductions. In result, it is decided by the Tribunal that the employees are not entitled to get any further bonus for the years 1952, 1953, 1954 and 1955. This issue is answered accordingly.

Issue No. 8: This issue relates to reinstatement of 4 workers—Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee, Kamala Hazam, Shri Monmohan Banerjee and Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee. At the very outset, I may say that Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee did not come to depose before the Tribunal or to defend himself. He was the Assistant Secretary of the Union. The contention of the Union is that he was dismissed on 3rd February 1956, and that his dismissal was unjustified and mala fide. It has also been contended on behalf of the Union that he was sacked simply because of his Union activities, as he was the prime mover of the Union being the Assistant Secretary. As stated already, Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee has not deposed in this case. O.P.W. 1, the General Manager, has stated in his evidence why and under what circumstances Shri Mukherjee was charge-sheeted. From the evidence of the General Manager, which stands unchallenged and uncontradicted, it appears that the conduct of Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee was found to be subversive of discipline on several occasions. But, in spite of this he was allowed to remain in the service of the Company. The last incident leading to his dismissal that took place on 25th November 1955 has been narrated by O.P.W. 1, General Manager. He has stated that Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee led a demonstration on that date in front of the office at about 5-30 p.m., using filthy and abusive language in an objectionable speech and insinuating threat to the Management and thereby humiliating the Company in the eyes of customers, who were inside the Sales Counter at that time. Immediately after this, on 28th November 1955 Shri Mukherjee with a view to put illegal pressure on the Management asked the Management to withdraw the order of dismissal passed on Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee, driver. He illegally incited other workers by threat to go on a pen-down strike on that date, and as a result thereof, there was such a pen-down strike in the office of the Company. It further appears from the evidence of the General Manager that Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee on that date also in a commanding tone threatened him to withdraw the order of dismissal passed on Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee, and to ring up the Managing Director in this respect. In view of these two incidents and also for previous incidents, he was charge-sheeted by the Company on 5th December 1955 and a copy of the charge-sheet was duly served on him. He gave reply to the charge-sheet, and the enquiry was held on 17th December 1955 and 24th January 1956 by the Management. The papers of that enquiry have been produced before the Tribunal, and they are Exts. C(1) and C(2). It appears that Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee himself was present at that enquiry. He also examined witnesses. I have perused the said papers of that enquiry and also considered the evidence of the General Manager. I am satisfied that the charges levelled against Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee were duly proved. What he did, was indeed reprehensible. He adopted an attitude unbecoming an employee of the Company. No Company in the interest of discipline and good administration can afford to tolerate such acts of misconduct on the part of a worker. Such insubordination and grave misconduct undermine discipline, and the gravity of such action and conduct cannot be underrated. In my view, the punishment was commensurate with the offence. Though Shri Mukherjee happened to occupy what he considered to be the august position of the Assistant Secretary of the Union, he did not cease to be an employee of the Company. He should have remembered that he was first and foremost an employee of the Company and owed allegiance to it. So, the dismissal of Shri Debi Prosad Mukherjee was justified, and he is not entitled to reinstatement or any relief whatsoever.

Regarding Kamala Hazam, he was employed as a coolie in this Company. He was charged for gross misconduct in deliberately refusing to carry out the reasonable orders of the Management. A copy of the charge-sheet was duly served on him, and he submitted his explanation. As he denied the allegations, an enquiry was held. But he did not attend that enquiry, although due notice of that enquiry was given to him. The Management after enquiry was satisfied that the charge against him was proved to the hilt, and came to a finding that his was a case of deliberate refusal to carry out the orders of the Management. In this view of the matter, the Management dismissed him. The papers of that enquiry have been placed before the Tribunal and they are Exts. V and V(1). Kamala Hazam has deposed before the Tribunal and he is P.W. 2. What he has admitted in his cross-examination is sufficient enough to hold that he refused to carry out the reasonable orders of the Management.

The evidence of O.P.W. 1, General Manager, is also that Kamala Hazam, who was a coolie working in the Company's Head Office, was directed to work in place of Jayasree at Shibpore, but he refused to go there and sent an insolent reply. The reply has been exhibited and it is Ext. 15. In spite of this, he was not charge-sheeted. On 10th January 1956, the Manager of Howrah Branch asked for a coolie, and Kamala Hazam was deputed there, but this time too he refused to go there. Again he was directed to work in the Howrah Garage, but the Manager of that Garage reported that Kamala Hasam was unwilling to work there. That report of the Manager is Ext. U. After this, he was charge-sheeted and asked to explain his conduct. On receipt of his explanation, an enquiry was held, and he was found guilty. Accordingly, he was dismissed. From the evidence and materials, the Tribunal is satisfied beyond any doubt that Kamala Hazam refused to carry out the reasonable orders of the Management issued to him on several occasions. No Company can afford to tolerate such insubordination and misconduct on the part of a workman. Where a workman behaves in this fashion, he deserves dismissal. It cannot be held that the Management dismissed Kamala Hazam with ulterior motives. The decision of the Management was correct, and it must be upheld. So, Kamala Hazam cannot get reinstatement or any other relief.

Now, I will take up the case of Shri Monmohan Banerjee, who was a driver. He was charge-sheeted for gross misconduct in deliberately refusing to join his duty on 27th November 1955, though he was so directed by the Management. He also refused to come on 29th November 1955, and 4th December 1955. The charge-sheet was duly served on him, and he submitted his explanation. Thereafter, an enquiry was held in his presence on 17th December 1955. It appears that he was present at the enquiry and watched the proceedings of that enquiry, but he did not take any part therein. Witnesses were examined in that enquiry, and the Enquiring Officer on a consideration of the evidence, came to the conclusion that Shri Momohan Banerjee was guilty of the charges levelled against him. Naturally, the Management did not like to retain him in service, and dismissed him. Shri Banerjee has also deposed before the Tribunal, and he is P.W. 3. He has, of course, denied the charges framed against him. But in the face of the overwhelming evidence produced by the Management, his denial is meaningless, and cannot be believed. O.P.W. 1 is the General Manager. It apears from his evidence that Shri Banerjee was charge-sheeted for his failure to come on duty on 27th November 1955, but the Management did not take any steps against him that time. His evidence further shows that on 3rd December 1955, Shri Banerjee was asked to come on duty at 8 a.m. on 4th December 1955, and a letter conveying such order was sent to him. But Shri Banerjee refused to accept that letter, and remained absent on 4th December 1955. From the evidence on record and the materials placed before the Tribunal, I am satisfied that the charges made against Shri Monmohan Banerjee have been duly proved and substantiated. That being so, the action of the Management cannot be said to be mala fide, nor can it be said that the Management was actuated by extraneous considerations. The decision of the Management, therefore, should be upheld. It appears that Shri Banerjee was becoming neglectful in the discharge of his duties, and that he did not improve, though the employer had been sympathetic towards him and had given him chances to improve. In the circumstances, it would not be proper to say that the Management dismissed him with any ulterior motive. So, Shri Monmohan Banerjee is not entitled to reinstatement or any relief whatsoever.

Now remains the case of Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee. He too was a driver. The main charge against him was that he had stolen the radiator grill of the Austin car of the office, which was taken by him to the Howrah Garage of this Company for oiling and greasing. Shri Mukherjee denied the charge and his version was that he did not know anything about it. He has deposed before the Tribunal as P.W. 1. His evidence is that he did not know anything about the loss of the radiator grill, and that when he took the car at the Company's Garage at Howrah, the said radiator grill was intact. He has gone to the length of saying even that the Manager of the Howrah Garage examined the car and found everything in order. The said Manager was examined by the Company and he is O.P.W. 2, Shri Komode Ranjan Ganguly. He has stated that as it was an office car, he did not check it when it was brought to the garage by Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee for the purpose of oiling and cleaning and for adjustment of brake. He has further stated that as soon as the car was brought to the garage, it was lifted on the ramp, and it was done by Santosh Mukherjee himself. It transpires from his evidence that at about 4 p.m., he got a report that the radiator grill of the car was missing, and at this he sent a message to the General Manager at the Head Office over phone. The General Manager, who is O.P.W. 1, has deposed that on 15th November 1955, at about 4-30 p.m. or 5 p.m., the Manager of Howrah Garage informed him over phone that the grill of the lower portion of the right side of the car was found missing, and that at this he called Shir Santosh Mukherjee and asked him about it. But Santosh stated in reply that he did not know about this. The General Manager in that very evening went to the Howrah Garage with Santosh, and in his presence made a preliminary enquiry, and was satisfied that Shri Santosh Mukherjee did the mischief. Accordingly, Shri Mukherjee was charge-sheeted and asked to submit his explanation. The Manager held an enquiry in presence of Shri Mukherjee on 18th November 1955 in the garage and witnesses were examined in that enquiry. On enquiry, it was found that Shri Mukherjee was guilty of the charges, and accordingly he was dismissed. The papers of the said enquiry are Exts. S and S(1). I have perused the evidence and also looked into the papers of enquiry. I am convinced that the Management took a possible view on the evidence before it. I am mindful of the fact that in course of evidence before the Tribunal, the Garage Manager of Howrah in his cross-examination has admitted that he was informed about the loss of the radiator grill, after the car was taken out from the garage for trial after oiling and cleaning. Accordingly, an argument was voiced on behalf of the Union that the said radiator grill might have been lost on the way, while it was taken out from the garage for trial, and that in the circumstances, Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee could not be held responsible for the loss of the radiator grill. But I may say that Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee himself did not take such a plea in his explanation submitted on 18th November 1955. It has transpired from the evidence that the radiator grill remains fixed in its position in such a way that it cannot become loose in course of trial drive, unless force is applied to it. Even, if I were to hold a different view on the facts placed before the Tribunal, the finding arrived at by the Management at the enquiry must prevail, inasmuch as it is neither perverse nor unreasonable. In such matters, the Tribunal does not act like a Court of Appeal, but rather as a Supervisory Body. It cannot substitute its own judgment for the judgment of the Management. The result, therefore, is that the decision of the Management in relation to the charges against Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee will prevail. It cannot be said that there was want of bona fides on the part of the Management, or that it is a case of victimisation or unfair labour practice. The order of dismissal of Shri Santosh Kumar Mukherjee should, therefore, be upheld. He is not entitled to reinstatement or any relief whatsoever.

The result is that the orders of dimissal in respect of these 4 workers are upheld, and that they are not entitled to reinstatement. This issue is answered accordingly.

Issue No. 9: This issue relates to retrenchment of Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee. According to the Union, he was appointed by the Company as a clerk in the Mofussil Department, and had served the Company for about 9 years with credit. He was the Treasurer of the Union, and as such he was in the black book of the Company. So, all on a sudden, he was retrenched by a notice, dated 5th December 1955, on the alleged ground of "trade depression". It is contended by the Union that his retrenchment was unjustified and mala fide. His retrenchment was rather a device to get rid of him, because he was considered undesirable for his Union activities. The Company in its written statement justified the retrenchment of Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee. The version of the Company is that Shri Mukherjee was a clerk in the Packing Section of the Mofussil Department. But as there was gradual fall in the work of this section, and as the financial prospect of the Company became gloomy, Shri Mukherjee had to be retrenched by a notice, dated 5th December 1955. The Company further says that Shri Mukherjee was the juniormost in the particular section of the Mofussil Department. Now let me consider the evidence. Exhibit 16 is the letter of retrenchment that was served on Shri Mukherjee, and it is dated 5th December 1955. The said letter runs thus:—

> "Due to present trade position and gloomy financial outlook, the Company is faced with a situation which calls for reduction of staff in the interests of economy. The Management has decided to effect retrenchment gradually. Therefore, your services are being terminated with immediate effect."

O.P.W. 1, the General Manager, has stated in his evidence that Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee worked in the Packing Section of the Mofussil Department, and the work in the Packing Section at the relevnt time decreased. He has further stated that at that time, there were 3 clerks in that secion including Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee, who happened to be the juniormost in that section. It has further transpired from his evidence that since the retrenchment of Shri Mukherjee, no other clerks were taken in the Packing Section, though the work in that section remained the same. Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee has deposed in this case, and he is P.W. 4. His evidence is that he did not work in the Packing Section, but he used to work in the Mofussil Department of the Head Office as a clerk. He has stated on oath that there was no decrease in the volume of work in this department. He has further stated that the ground as stated by the Company for his retrenchment in the letter marked Ext. 16 is not correct. It has also transpired from his evidence that since his retrenchment clerks were taken, and that there are still in service of the Company clerks who are junior to him. The Company could not establish by any satisfactory evidence that there was any Packing Section in the Mofussil Department of this Company. Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee was a clerk attached to the Head Office of this Company, and he was working at the relevant time in the Mofussil Department as clerk. He has proved a list (Ext. 17), which goes to show that after his retrenchment the clerks as mentioned in that list were appointed by the Company, and one of them was taken in the Mofussil Department in his place. The Company could not prove by any cogent and satisfactory evidence that what was stated in that list (Ext. 17), was not correct. That the Company had retained in their service several clerks junior to Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee is evident from Ext. F, which is a statement filed by the Company itself. So, it cannot be believed that Shri Mukherjee had to be retrenched, as he was the juniormost clerk at that time. Thus, it is clear that the principle of "last come, first go" was not followed, while Shri Mukherjee was retrenched. Shri Mukherjee was appointed as a clerk, and at the relevant time was working in the Mofussil Department. So, his case should be taken in the same pool with other clerks. He should have been considered as a member of the clerical staff, and did not constitute a different category by himself, because he was working at the relevant time in the Mofussil Department. Therefore, he cannot be hit by the principle of "last come, first go", if he is taken in the same pool with other clerks, there being several junior clerks to him in the service of the Company at the time of his retrenchment. He should not, therefore, have been retrenched. Then again, on a consideration of the evidence and the materials placed before it, the Tribunal comes to the conclusion that the Management has not made out a case for retrenchment of Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee. Nor can it be said that the Management acted bona fide in this respect. The Tribunal has every reason to believe that the Company in effecting retrenchment of Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee was actuated by improper motives, and acted on extraneous considerations. The reason as given in the letter of retrenchment, which is dated 5th December 1955 (Ext. 16), cannot be accepted. At that time, neither the trade position of this Company, nor the financial outlook of its business was bad or gloomy in any way, as the balance-sheet for the year ending 1955, shows that the Company earned considerable profits in that year. In the letter of retrenchment (Ext. 16), it is mentioned that the Management decided to effect retrenchment gradually. But it is very interesting to note that save and except Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee, the services of no other employee had been terminated by the Company till now by way of retrenchment. Therefore, it is decided that the retrenchment of Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee is unjustified. Accordingly, it is ordered that he be reinstated. He will report himself for duty to this Company within 15 days from the date of publication of this award in the Calcutta Gazette. He will get full pay and dearness allowance for the period from the date of his retrenchment till reinstatement. The payment as directed above, should also be made within a month when this award becomes operative. Be it further noted that the period of this forced unemployment of Shri Ramesh Chandra Mukherjee should not be regarded as a break in his service for the purpose of benefits, to which he may be entitled as an employee of the Company. This issue is decided accordingly.

Issue No. 10: The Union's demand for annas 12 per head per day as tiffin allowance appears to be rather fantastic. What the Company pays on this account to its employees appears to be reasonable and proper. Furthermore, this is not a matter where the Tribunal can interfere, and as such the claim on this score is turned down. The existing system shall continue. This issue is thus disposed of.

This is my award in the present case.

DECISION

The Jewel of India Perfume Workers' Union (hereafter called the Union) examined its Secretary Shri Abdul Malek (P.W. 1) and the three workmen concerned P.W. 2 Shri Luxman Chandra Khamaru, P.W. 3 Shri Ramdeo Jaiswal, P.W. 4 Shri Amritalal Mondal, besides proving charter of demands (Ext. 1). The employer, on the other hand, examined the Manager D.W. 1 Shri Ranjit Kumar Saha, the Supervisor D.W. 2 Shri Adwait Chandra Dutt and another employee D.W. 3 Shri Sristhi Deb, besides proving documents (Exts. A to G). The records of the conciliation proceedings were called for and seen at the desire of the parties. Besides the licence and attendance register relating to the factory in the premises at 330, Diamond Harbour Road, the cash book and other relevant documents have also been seen.

Issue No. 1.

Messrs. Jewel of India Perfume Company is a proprietary concern manufacturing mainly hair oils. Proprietor lives at 330 Diamond Harbour Road, Cocola House, Behala, Calcutta-34. In the said premises the Head Office of the concern is also situated wherein the workman P.W. 3 Ramdeo Jaiswal was employed as a cleaner of vans. The concern had only one factory at Simultala, Behala. P.W. 2 Shri Luxman Chandra Khamaru and Shri Amritalal Mondal were employed there, of whom P.W. 2 was dismissed on 25th April 1955 and P.W. 4 was alleged to have been refused employment from 31st October 1955. Besides it employed 31 workmen as shown in the list attached to the order of reference in addition to two durwans at the relevant time (7th December 1955). The said factory was closed with effect from 7th December 1955 by a notice, dated 6th December 1955 and as a result 31 workmen named in the list were discharged from 7th December 1955. Before such closure the Company had started another factory with new hands on 8th August 1955 in the premises at 330 Diamond Harbour Road.

For betterment of their conditions the workmen employed at the factory at Simultala formed the Union (Jewel of India Perfume Workers' Union) on 30th April 1955. The Union was duly registered on 15th July 1955. It submitted a charter of demands on 9th August 1955 (Ext. 1).

Following dismissal on 25th April 1955, P.W. 2 Shri Luxman Chandra Khamaru moved the Labour Directorate on 27th April 1955, whereupon conciliation started. Then after submission of charter of demands separate conciliation proceedings were started and the employer was asked to submit comments in respect of the said demands. The employer submitted replies to the conciliation officer on 1st September 1955 (Ext. E). Then following alleged termination of employment of P.W. 4 Shri Amritalal Mondal the Union moved the conciliation officer for his reinstatement. In course of the conciliation joint conferences were called, which were attended by the parties. The last conference was held on 5th December 1955 when there was joint discussion between the parties. Then 7th December 1955 was fixed for final discussion. In the meanwhile on 6th December 1955 notice closing the factory from 7th December 1955 and discharging the 31 workmen including P.W. 4 Shri Amritalal Mondal (serial No. 29) was issued. The notice ran as follows:

> "The Management regrets to inform the workers of the Jewel of India Perfume Coy.'s Factory No. II, situated at Simultala, Behala, that for some months past various acts, subversive of discipline, are being continued by the workers to the detriment of the interests of the Company. Workers have been disobeying the orders of the Management and are acting in a manner of insubordination. Workers are systematically adopting slow-down tactics in production and continuing the same, though they were being repeatedly asked to give up the same and to give normal production. Indisciplined acts and chaotic condition are prevailing in the factory and smooth running of the factory has become impossible. As advices and instructions had no effect, the Management has no other alternative but to close the factory and to discharge all the employees for their collective misconducts, except the two durwans who will be retained for security purposes.

In the above circumstances, these workers are not entitled to get any discharge benefit in law and equity. However, the Management will pay these discharged workers, mentioned in the Schedule below, benefit as contemplated under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Act. The following workers are, therefore, informed that in view of the closure of the Factory on or from the 7th December 1955, their services are terminated from the date of the closure, i.e., from the 7th December 1955. They are asked to collect their dues as per section 25F of the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Act on reporting to the Pay Office during working hours on any week days within two weeks from date."

Before this the proprietor wrote to the Deputy Commissioner of Police (Ext. C) and to the Labour Officer (Ext. F) on 22nd October 1955 complaining breach of peace and threats of violence against the proprietor and other members of the family by 8 workers and others headed by communist worker Amal Roy. In the letter to the Labour Officer (Ext. F) it was also alleged that the workers in the factory at the instigation of the Union, led by said Amal Roy, had been going slow down for last one month or so and that from 21st October 1955 they had gone on illegal stay-in-strike and refused to work in spite of repeated requests. On 28th November 1955 the proprietor wrote to the Inspector of Factories intimating that the workers employed at the factory absented in concert from their place of work, without giving notice or reason, for the second half on Saturday the 26th November 1955.

Then P.W. 3 Ramdeo Jaiswal was alleged to have been dismissed from 8th December 1955. The Labour Directorate was also moved in the matter. As no settlement was possible, the disputes were referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Against this background it was contended on behalf of the proprietor that faced as he was he had no alternative than to close down the factory as he did from 7th December 1955. It was, on the contrary, urged on behalf of the workers that the closure was mala fide. On the evidence and circumstances it appears to me more probable that the closure was directed from a motive to punish the workmen because of formation of Union than as a measure of self-defence as made to appear in the notice. The allegations in the notice were challenged by the Union as without foundation. Despite this no record of the Company has been produced to show that the workers, as a matter of fact, resorted to slow down in production as alleged. Oral evidence in this respect cannot be accepted as reliable. Likewise there is no evidence worth the name to support the other allegations in the notice. D.W. 1 Shri Ranjit Kumar Saha according to his own showing joined as Manager only after Puja of 1955. Having thus joined only shortly before the closure on 7th December 1955, he could not have been such in the know. His evidence is thus of little value. D.W. 2 and D.W. 3 did not speak anything regarding the notice. The proprietor no doubt made certain allegations in his letters (Exts. C and F) respectively to the Deputy Commissioner of Police and Labour Officer but it is not unlikely that these were made from ulterior motive as conciliation proceedings both regarding charter of demands and dismissal of the workman Luxman Chandra Khamaru of issue No. 3 were then pending. The fact that during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings the proprietor at first started another factory in premises at 330 Diamond Harbour Road with new hands and then without notice and without intimation removed all stocks of raw materials and other things from Simultala Factory on 17th and 18th September 1955 as complained by the workmen in their letter, dated 27th September 1955, to the Ministry of Labour, would suggest that he was after closing the old factory at Simultala, of which the workmen had formed a Union by giving them bad names. The subsequent letters, dated 22nd October 1955 and 25th November 1955, of the proprietor making allegations against the workers seems to be acts in that process. The records of conciliation proceedings reveal that after having adopted a show of conciliatory attitude in the meeting on 5th December 1955, and having got the proceedings adjourned to 7th December 1955, the proprietor without giving any inkling suddenly closed the factory by notice, dated 6th December 1955, from 7th December 1955. This was to speak the least not fair and amounted to unfair labour practice. The proprietor, it appears, could not tolerate Union activities on the part of the workers and so closed the factory more from a motive of victimisation than in self-defence. I am, therefore, of opinion that the closure was not bona fide.

As, however, the employer has the fundamental right to close the business, the Tribunal cannot direct the employer to reopen the factory. It is, therefore, obvious that the workmen, in the circumstances, cannot be granted any relief other than compensation. The employer is accordingly directed to pay compensation equivalent to one month's pay in lieu of notice and 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of six months, to each of the workmen mentioned in the list of the order of reference save and except Amritalal Mondal (serial 29) whose case is hereafter discussed under issue No. 2, within a month from the date of publication of the award.

Regarding length of service the parties did not plead or furnish particulars in their written statements. On 9th May 1957 the Union filed an unverified list as to length of service of only 26 workmen. Out of them No. 26 Ramdeo Jaiswal was not working in the factory but in the Head Office. The list apart from being incomplete and unverified has not also been supported by any of the workmen concerned on oath. On the contrary, it prima facie appears that length of service stated therein is at least in respect of Shri Luxman Chandra Khamaru contrary to what was stated by him in his deposition. The list cannot, therefore, be acted upon. Likewise the list supplied by the employer on 20th May 1957 cannot be accepted as a guide as it does not show length of service prior to 13th April 1953, although according to the employer, he purchased the business in 1941. As the records and registers since 1941 have not been produced, the workmen can rightly complain that the chart filed by the employer should not be accepted. So in the absence of pleadings proper materials and evidence the Tribunal has no option than to leave the matter open.

Issue No. 2.

Regarding Shri Luxman Chandra Khamaru: He was employed in the factory at Simultala. According to the workman he was dismissed on 25th April 1955 without assigning any reason although he had served for 6 years. It was alleged that he was dismissed as he took prominent part in organising the Union. According to the employer the workman was asked to accompany a van which was to be sent immediately for delivery of the Company's products in the market but he refused to go on various pretexts. It was further alleged that on that date the workman was also asked to repay the loan which he had taken earlier from the proprietor on condition of paying the same gradually and in instalments out of wages drawn by him. It was said that due to all this he stopped attending from the next day and thus he himself put an end to his employment.

Having regard to the evidence and circumstances I prefer to accept the version of the workman. The workman soon after dismissal on 25th April 1955, it appears from the records of the conciliation proceedings, wrote to the Labour Officer on 27th April 1955 making complaint in terms as done before this Tribunal. Thereupon conciliation followed. The conciliation officer wrote to the employer for making comments sending copy of the application of the workman and for attending a conference on 13th May 1955. The employer did not submit comments or attend the conference. Then confernece was called for on 27th May 1955 and again on 13th June 1955. On 4th June 1955 the employer without making comments wrote to the conciliation officer enquiring what would be the subject-matter of discussion at the conference on 13th June 1955. Thereafter conference was again called for on 24th June 1955 and again on 29th June 1955. On 27th June 1955 the General Sales Manager wrote that it would not be possible to attend on 29th June 1955. After taking time in this way the employer came with the present case as in Annexure 'B', dated 25th August 1955. The case as set up in Annexure 'B' is thus afterthought and unreliable. The records of conciliation proceedings show that soon after complaint by workman on 27th April 1955, the copy of said complaint was directly sent by the conciliation officer to the employer for his comments by 13th May 1955. So the allegation in Annexure 'B' at the outset that the employer got copy of the letter of the workman only recently from the Union appears to have been purposely introduced as a camouflage to suppress the said fact of earlier receipt of the copy from conciliation officer and to mislead. In any case there is no record to show that the workman had taken any loan from the proprietor. It was said that it was an oral loan but I am unable to accept it. D.W. 2 who spoke in this respect is a relation of the proprietor and an employee. It is, therefore, no wonder that he would say as he did. The story of refusal to accompany the van is not convincing. Had he done so the employer had no justification to terminate his employment without giving him charge-sheet and without affording opportunity to defend himself. The evidence shows that since the Union was formed on 27th April 1955 the workman Shri Luxman Chandra Khamaru (P.W. 2) has been the Assistant Secretary and before such formation he had taken prominent part in the formation of the Union. It is, therefore, very likely as he deposed that he was dismissed for his Union activities on 25th April 1955 without assigning any reason. In any case he was admittedly not given any charge-sheet or opportunity to defend himself. Thus, natural justice was denied to him. The allegation that the workman himself ceased to attend would not also afford justification to the employer to treat his employment as terminated without proceeding against him duly. I, therefore, find no justification for his dismissal. As, however, the factory in which he had been employed was since closed, it is obvious that no reinstatement in the circumstances can be directed. He is eligible in the circumstances to get compensation in lieu of reinstatement. His evidence reveals that he had served in the concern for six years. Having regard to this and other factors the employer is directed to pay him compensation equivalent to six months' wages within one month from the date of publication of the award.

Regarding Shri Amritalal Mondal: He is P.W. 4. He was admittedly on leave for 15 days up to 30th October 1955. According to P.W. 4 he went to resume duty with a fit certificate on 31st October 1955 but the Factory-in-charge refused to allow him to resume duty. He again went on 1st November 1955 to resume duty but was not allowed to resume. It was said that as he was an active member of the Union the Management refused him permission to resume duty as aforesaid. According to the employer after expiry of 15 days' leave, the workman did not turn up and he ultimately resumed work on 29th November 1955 and as thereafter the factory was closed, his service was terminated from 7th December 1955 along with other workers with the closure of the factory offering him along with other workers the discharge benefit. From the evidence and circumstances it appears that the workman was initially refused permission to resume duty after expiry of the leave, and on his making complaint about it better sense prevailed and he was allowed by the management to resume duty on 29th November 1955. The allegation of the workman that he was refused permission to resume duty on the expiry of leave on 31st October 1955 and again on 1st November 1955, gets corroboration from an earlier letter, dated 21st November 1955, by the Secretary of the Union to the conciliation officer as on record of the conciliation proceedings. As, however, the workman was ultimately allowed to resume duty on 29th November 1955 and as the factory was thereafter closed, there can be no order for reinstatement. He should, however, get wages for the period of forced unemployment from 31st October 1955 to 28th November 1955 as also retrenchment relief under section 25F following closure of the factory. The employer is directed to make the payment within a month from the date of publication of the award.

Regarding Shri Ramdeo Jaiswal: He was a cleaner of motor vans in the Head Office of the employer in Cocola House on a salary of Rs. 45 per month. According to the workman (P.W. 3), he was dismissed on 8th December 1955 without any charge-sheet and without any written order of dismissal as he had some time before declined to receive payment on signing a blank paper. The employer denied having dismissed him and pleaded that he had voluntarily left service after working up to 22nd November 1955. On giving careful consideration to the evidence and circumstances I prefer to accept the version of the workman as being more probable and natural. The employer could assign no reason why the workman would give up service voluntarily. D.W. 3 Shri Sristhi Deb who was alone examined by the employer in this respect sought to fill it up by deposing that Ramdeo Jaiswal one day told them that he would not serve any more and from the next day he did not turn up for work. The explanation is anything but satisfactory. On the other hand, evidence of the workman P.W. 3 that he was dismissed as he declined to receive payment on signing blank sheet in lieu of regular register for receiving payment, remained unchallenged by competent witness. D.W. 3 is not the proprietor but a son of the proprietor. Besides he admitted that he was never present at the time of payment of salary and that payments of salaries were used to be made on permanent register. Thus the evidence of the workman P.W. 3 virtually remained unrebutted. It further appears from the records of the conciliation proceedings that on 9th December 1955 the Secretary of the Union moved the conciliation officer about him making similar allegations regarding termination of employment. I, therefore, accept the workman's version and find that his dismissal was unjustified. The employer is accordingly directed to reinstate him with back wages up to the date of reinstatement. on the workman's reporting for duty within 15 days from the date of publication of the award. The back wages are to be paid within one month from the date of publication of the award.

Issues Nos. 3, 4 and 5.

The Union according to the showing of its President P.W. 1, is a Union only of workmen employed in the factory at Simultala. This being so, and as the said factory, after submission of charter of demands in this respect, was closed from 7th December 1955 and as no direction for reopening the factory can be made, it is obvious that the issues have become infructuous and no adjudication is called for.

It is awarded accordingly.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1211-I.R./IR/4L-11/57, dated 16th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Gopal Chandra Sadhukhan Satyanarain Bus Service, 13A Nirode Behari Mullick Road, Calcutta-6, and their workman Shri Joydev Paul, represented by the Bus Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule

Whether the dismissal of Shri Joydev Paul is justified? To what relief including reinstatement is he entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union may be thus stated in a nutshell—

The workman Shri Joydev Paul entered the services of the Company as a driver in April 1955 at a monthly salary of Rs. 150. Joydev Paul took an active part in Trade Union activities of the workmen of the Union and took up the terms and conditions with the Company with a view to ameliorate them. The Company did not take the Trade Union activities of the workman in good grace and advised the workman to dissociate himself from the Trade Union but to no effect. The Company drew up a charge-sheet on certain allegations which he denied and refuted as baseless and false. Thereupon the Company dismissed him summarily without any further enquiry. The Union therefore contends that the discharge of the workman is unjustified, illegal, mala fide and a case of victimisation and an unfair labour practice. The Union therefore seeks the reinstatement of the workman together with his full back wages and compensation for the period of forced unemployment.

The Company also put in a written statement denying the material allegations in the written statement of the Union and contends, inter alia, that the workman was engaged purely on temporary basis; that this driver drove the bus so rashly and negligently on 2nd October 1956 that the universal joint of the bus was broken for which the bus needed to be repaired resulting in financial loss to the Company; that on 5th October 1956 he was so reckless in driving that the valve of the bus was burnt; that even after his suspension from work he forcibly took out the bus from the garage and drove it on 8th October 1956 in the evening and 9th October 1956 in the morning without the permission of the Company; that the driver is guilty of insubordination and misconduct and against him the Company received several complaints; that the driver was duly charge-sheeted and was dismissed after proper enquiry. The Company therefore urges that the workman is entitled to no relief.

DECISION

The point for determination in this case is whether the dismissal of this driver Shri Joydev Paul is justified or not. The Company drew up a charge-sheet against this workman as per Ext. A on 10th October 1956. The charges framed may be briefly stated as follows: (1) that on 2nd October 1956 he drove the bus No. WBS 582 so rashly and negligently that its universal joint was broken for which the bus needed repairs and loss was caused to the Company, (2) by reason of his rough handling of the bus on 5th October 1956 at about 1-30 p.m., the valve was burnt similarly causing financial loss to the Company. On the basis of the two charges, the workman was called upon to show cause within 7 days why he should not be discharged for his gross negligence of duty. He was also suspended from duty with effect from 10th October 1956. The driver showed cause as per Annexure B, dated 16th October 1956, Ext. 1. Herein the driver has affirmed that there was no such happening on 2nd October 1956 and that the universal joint was all right up to 8th October 1956 until he was suspended from duty and that the bus ran without any break up to 5th October 1956 when it remained invalid for a few hours only for repairs to the universal joint. As regards the second charge, his reply is that the bus remained idle up to 4 p.m. at the stand as the mistry was repairing it and so the allegation of causing damage to the valve at about 1-30 p.m. is not true. The driver, therefore, in a word, stated that both his charges are unfounded. Thus there was the charge and the reply thereto. After this there is nothing on record to show that the Company held any sort of enquiry but the driver was abruptly told that he was dismissed. In the meantime we find that there was a conciliation proceeding by a Labour Officer of Government of West Bengal but the dispute was not satisfactorily solved. In this case it is quite clear that no enquiry was held before terminating the service of this driver, nor was he given any opportunity whatsoever to explain his viewpoint to the Company. The Company appears to have adopted a high-handed policy casting to the wind the principles of natural justice and the action of the Company cannot therefore be supported. The Company's action was simply capricious, arbitrary and unjustified. Let alone the truth or otherwise of the charges framed which I shall discuss presently.

As already stated the charge of the Company against this workman is that the universal joint of the bus was broken on 2nd October 1956 due to rash driving by this workman and that on 5th October 1956 due to his rash driving the valve got charred. Though Shri Sadhukhan, O. P. W. 1, has stated that the universal joint was temporarily repaired on 2nd October 1956 by a mistry the absence of the mistry from the witness box is simply inexplicable. In this case the mistry who repaired the universal joint and valve would have been the most important witness, but he is conspicuous by his absence. Another important thing is that Sadhukhan states that Company was put to heavy expenditure to the tune of Rs. 500 for repairs and for suspension of the running of the bus but no account of the cost for repairs is produced to convince the Court that the bus really needed repairs. In this connexion it may be very useful to mention that the Union has shown with reference to their way-bill (Ext. F) that the bus did not at all run from 12-11 to 3-30 p.m. on 5th October 1956 and this obviously negatives the allegation of the Company that the value of the bus got charred at about 1-30 p.m. while being driven nearabout Howrah Station.

Beyond dispute the universal joint is a long iron road placed beneath the body of the bus and this bus was admittedly purchased in 1949 and we would expect that the bus naturally underwent normal wear and tear during these years. This bus used to be driven not only by this workman but also by another, so the Company has failed in fixing the guilt of breaking the universal joint on this driver alone, if the universal joint did at all break. A suspicion that the other drivers might also have contributed to the breach of the universal joint is thus not altogether excluded. On a consideration of the facts and circumstances of this case and due regard being had to the evidence of Shri Sadhukhan, the Court cannot find that the charges have been established. Rather the Court finds that there is no truth in the charges themselves. In such cases as laid down in the recent case of Bazpai and others vs. Labour Appellate Tribunal, reported in 1957, Vol. II, page 15, the Court is to consider three questions (1) whether the workman was found guilty by the Company, (2) whether the correct procedure was followed by the Company, and (3) whether the misconduct could be visited with the dismissal. In this case it is quite clear that no procedure was at all followed by the Company because no enquiry was held, nor was any opportunity given to the workman to explain his conduct. That being so, the Company not having followed the correct procedure, the workman should not have been visited with this punishment. I may add that the Company put in an uncertified copy (Ext. B) of a G. D. entry with the avowed object of supporting the dismissal of the workman which was apparently unjustified.

On the other hand, it is quite clear that this workman was victimised as he took up the cause of the other aggrieved workmen under the Company and took part in the Trade Union activities which the Company did not obviously like. This is a clear case of victimisation and an unfair labour practice. Therefore the discharge of this workman is found to be unjustified, mala fide and an unfair labour practice.

This workman is therefore entitled to relief. Of course, the normal relief in such cases is reinstatement but in view of the complaints about his rash driving and insolent and objectionable behavior with other colleagues as evidenced by the complaints Exts. C, D, E, I find that it will not be conducive to the interests of peace and harmony in the Company to give him the desired relief of reinstatement. This workman admittedly put in service for about 2 years and so in law and equity he is entitled to a month's pay in lieu of notice and another month's pay as compensation. This entitles him to recover Rs. 300 from the Company. The Company must pay the sum of Rs. 300 to the workman within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

(2) The arrear salaries of these eight employees.

The employees confined their claim to recovery of arrears of pay.

The Company raised various legal objections, viz., this was not an industrial dispute, that the proper forum was the Tribunal set up under the Payment of Wages Act. Regarding the claim the Company submitted that it was exaggerated and none of the workers presented themselves to receive payment.

During the pendency of the proceeding The New Theatres Limited informed the Tribunal that a receiver had been appointed by the Hon'ble High Court who had taken possession of the assets. An application was made by the Cine Technicians' Association to issue notice to the receiver. Notice was issued and the receiver appeared and filed written statement objecting to his rejoinder as a party.

At the time of hearing it was pointed out that two of the workers Charu Chandra Ghosh and Provakar Halder had withdrawn their case and Naresh Bose was dead.

Having heard the learned Advocate for the receiver and read the order made by the Hon'ble High Court I am satisfied that the receiver cannot be treated as a party. He was appointed receiver in a mortgage suit filed against The New Theatres Limited. The learned Advocate read out the order of appointment and a plain copy thereof has been filed before the Tribunal. It appears that the receiver was given authority for the specific purpose of making collections of outstanding debts, etc., and certain other ancillary purpose. He was not directed to manage the business. He was not charged with the duty of meeting liabilities. On the terms of the order no duty was cast upon him to discharge liabilities. No award can be made against him by this Tribunal in respect of the salaries claimed. Further the receiver cannot be made a party with the leave of the Hon'ble High Court. For these reasons the Tribunal finds that the receiver has been unnecessarily summoned.

On behalf of The New Theatres Limited an objection was taken that this is not an industrial dispute. Section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act defines industrial dispute which means any dispute or difference between employer and employer or between employer and workmen, or between workmen and workmen which is connected with the employment or non-employment or the terms of employment or with the condition of labour of any person. Non-payment of salary cannot be fitted in with any of the clauses in the definition. No industrial dispute can therefore arise on the ground of wages being in arrears. The argument pressed on behalf of The New Theatres Limited on this point accordingly succeeds.

Allied to the above is the point that the Industrial Tribunal is not the proper forum for an action to recover arrears of wages. The Payment of Wages Act (Act IV of 1936) provides the forum. Section 22, clause (d), lays down that no Court shall entertain any suit for the recovery of wages or of any deduction from wages in so far as the sum so claimed could have been recovered by an application under section 15. The workers could have their relief by an application made before the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act. No other Tribunal can exercise jurisdiction in this regard. The workers in this case, as already pointed out, claim nothing other than arrears of wages. Their remedy therefore was available in the Tribunal set under by the Payment of Wages Act.

The learned lawyer for the New Theatres Limited challenged the reference itself on the ground that the New Theatres Limited was not in existence on the date of the reference. I am not impressed with this argument. The New Theatres Limited has not gone into liquidation. A receiver was appointed by the Hon'ble High Court on the 7th of August 1956 only for some specific purposes in connexion with a mortgage suit. The New Theatres Limited still exists as an independent entity. There is nothing wrong therefore in the order of reference in which The New Theatres Limited has been named as a party.

Another point was pressed that the studio having been closed entirely the employees are not entitled to any relief on the principle that the Industrial Disputes Act can be applied only when any industry is still in existence. This point also is void of substance as the arrears fell due before the closure. I need not however dilate upon this point as on two other points of vital importance, the Tribunal finds in favour of The New Theatres Limited. The employees cannot recover arrears of wages by a proceeding before this Tribunal. They are not therefore entitled to get the relief claimed.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. S. D. Sethia & Co. (Private), Ltd., F-2 Clive Buildings, 8 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, and one of their workmen, Shri Jamnadas Khimji Purecha, represented by Barabazar Bazar Karmachari Sangh, 90 Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta-7. (VIII-314 of 1956).

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the employee: Shri S. N. Pandey, Secretary, Barabazar Bazar Karmachari Sangh.

For the Company: Shri Hemanta Kumar Mukherjee.

This reference made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under order No. 4526Dis./D/11L-315/56, dated the 22nd October 1956, relates to the discharge of the employee Shri J. K. Purecha by Messrs. S. D. Sethia & Co. (Private), Ltd.

The issue framed in the order of reference is as follows:—

What relief is Shri J. K. Purecha entitled to for his loss of service?

AWARD

It is stated by the Union which has espoused the cause of Shri J. K. Purecha that he entered service under this Company and had put in two years' service. But all on a sudden, he was discharged on 29th July 1955. The employee wanted relief by way of reinstatement and wages for the period he had to sit idle. Bonus equivalent to what had been paid to other employees was also claimed.

The Company submitted written statement, and stated that this employee was employed for maintaining the accounts in the Head Office, but he was found to be inefficient and incompetent for which he got several warnings. He himself admitted in writing that he had committed many mistakes for which he begged to be excused, and gave an undertaking also not to commit such mistakes in future. But despite this, he went on committing mistakes as before in his work. So, at last on 29th July 1955 his services were dispensed with. He was, however, given one month's salary in lieu of notice, and he voluntarily signed a formal receipt in full and final settlement of his dues. For his persistent negligence of duty and inefficiency, he is not entitled to reinstatement. Nor he should be granted any compensation or bonus.

Findings

The employee concerned has deposed before the Tribunal. Several documents have also been proved by him, and they are Exts. 1 to 5. The Company adduced no evidence—either oral or documentary. It remained content by cross-examining only the employee. Admittedly, this employee was in the service of this Company for two years, but his services were dispensed with on 29th July 1955. Before his discharge, he got no notice, nor was he charge-sheeted. He was not given any opportunity even to explain. He was, however, paid his salary for the entire month of July 1955 plus one month's salary in lieu of notice, on the date on which his services were terminated. The employee has admitted no doubt in his cross-examination that he committed mistake once while in the service of this Company, and that for this he gave an undertaking to be careful in future. But this did not necessarily mean that he was to be kicked out from his service at any time at the sweet will and pleasure of the Management. Nor did such undertaking clothes the Management with power to dispense with his services in an arbitrary fashion—even without following the principles of natural justice. Modern concepts of social justice would be outraged if the employer is given such a long rope. Such concepts do require that an employee should be protected from capricious or vindictive action on the part of the employer, whatever be the nature of his lapse, or whatever be the cause of such lapse. Having regard to the conditions of labour relation as is now prevalent in this country, it would not be conducive to industrial peace, if an employer is given such an unfettered right to dismiss an employee in this fashion. An employee should be protected against the vindictive or capricious action on the part of the Management, which may affect the security of his service. Learned representative on behalf of the Company who cross-examined the employee and also argued the case before the Tribunal, wanted to say that the employee concerned was thoroughly inefficient and incompetent, and that the previous warnings had no effect on him. But it is interesting to note that the Company adduced no evidence whatsoever in support of this. So, the alleged charge of inefficiency and incompetency as made against this employee stands absolutely not proved. The employee concerned was employed for maintaining the accounts in the Head Office of the Company. After all, he is a human being. So, he was likely to commit mistake on some occasion, and such mistake cannot possibly be altogether avoided, specially in accounting work. In my view, his admission that in course of employment he committed mistake once for which he begged to be excused and gave an undertaking to be careful in future, cannot possibly be used as a weapon by the Company against the employee concerned for all time to come. The work of the employee was important, and the interests of the Company demanded and required that it should be done as carefully as possible. But human nature being what it is, we are likely to commit mistakes now and then, and this might be one such instance of mistake in course of work. For the foregoing reasons, the findings of the Tribunal must necessarily be that the order of discharge of Shri J. K. Purecha was not justified and proper.

Ordinarily, the proper relief should have been reinstatement. But Shri J. K. Purecha in his evidence has stated that he does not want reinstatement, as he had been employed elsewhere.

This employee had put in two years' continuous service in the Company. It appears that he used to get Rs. 160 as his emoluments including dearness allowance, when his services were dispensed with. So, one month's compensation at that rate should be sufficient recompense. The question of his getting one month's pay in lieu of notice does not arise any longer, as he has already got the same. He has also received salary for the entire month of July 1955. He has claimed bonus also. It appears from Ext. 2 that one month's bonus was sanctioned to him for the year 1954-55. He has not received the amount of that bonus as yet. So, he is entitled to get the same from the Company. He has further claimed wages for the earned leave due to him, but not availed of. But nothing has been proved by him in this respect. So, the Tribunal is unable to give him anything on this account. To be more precise, this employee is entitled to get from the Company one month's pay as compensation and also one month's bonus as sanctioned to him by the Company for the year 1954-55. Payment as directed above should be made within a week from the date of publication of this award in the Calcutta Gazette.

This is my award in the present case.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 4456Dis./D/11L-329/56, dated 5th October 1956, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. The Central Agency Ltd., 8 Mission Row, P. O. Box No. 529, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Central Agency (Calcutta) Employees' Union, 23/A Netaji Subhas Road (Top floor), Calcutta-1, regarding the matter specified in the following schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Schedule

What should be the quantum of bonus for the year 1955?

Notices were issued to both the parties, who filed written statements setting forth their respective cases.

The Union, in its written statement, states as follows:—

The Company is a prosperous one. Prior to 1952, in spite of good financial position of the Company, it refused to pay any bonus. After negotiations, the Company agreed to pay one and a half months' basic wages as bonus for the year 1952-53. Thereafter the Company paid bonus at the rate of one and a half months' salary to the employees in September 1954. In the year 1955, the Company by notification, dated 11th October 1955, offered the employees to pay the usual bonus of one and a half months' basic salary. The Union while welcoming the offer, requested the management to increase the rate of bonus from 1½ months' to 3 months' basic wages, since the Company had made very good profit. The Company, however, refused to entertain the demands of the employees. Thereafter the matter was referred to the Labour Commissioner for conciliation. The conciliation effort of the Labour Commissioner failed because of the attitude of the Company. The Union prays of 3 months' basic salary as bonus or any other quantum as the Tribunal may consider fit.

The Company, in its written statement, states as follows:—

Whatever may be its global position, the Company's finances in India are not at all prosperous and during the years 1952, 1953 and 1954, the Company incurred substantial losses in India. It is not a fact that prior to 1952, it refused to pay any bonus, the real fact being there had been no demand for any bonus and no question of refusal ever arose. As no demand for any bonus was made, it is irrelevant to consider whether the Company made any profit in the previous years. It is a fact that in 1953, there was an agreement in conciliation proceedings which included amongst other items, an item relating the bonus for the year 1952-1953, and the Company paid bonus at the rate of 1½ months' basic wages. It is also a fact that the Company paid sums equivalent to 1½ months' basic salary to the employees in September 1954, as an ex gratia payment. It is also a fact that in the year 1955, the Company offered to make payment equivalent to 1½ months' basic salary as an ex gratia payment to the employees, although they were not entitled to the same. The members of the staff were ill-advised not to accept it, but to protest and the Company had no other alternative but to inform their employees that as they did not accept the offer, this was withdrawn by the Company on the 8th November 1955. As the employees did not accept the offer of ex gratia payment, the Company was no longer bound to make any payments in that year. The members of the staff refused to accept what was offered by the Management as an ex gratia payment and this was withdrawn by the Company. It is true that the workers were demanding a higher amount as bonus, but the statement of the Union that the Company made profit in the year 1954, is not correct. On 4th September 1953, for the first time the Company agreed to pay an amount as ex gratia for the year 1952-53, although it was year of loss. This was made as a measure of good-will to its employees. The next year was also a year of loss, but the Company in order to maintain the good relations between the Management and the employees, offered 1½ months' basic salary to the employees as an ex gratia payment. The Company further states that its units in India form an integral part and all directions and control are done by the Head Office at Bombay which co-ordinates the activities of all the branches. The branches do not maintain separate accounts but a consolidated profit and loss account is maintained for all the branches in India and it will appear from this that the year 1954 was a year of loss. The Company made some profits in the year 1955, for which it paid bonus in 1956 at the rate of 2½ months' basic salary. The Company states that the employees are not entitled to any bonus or to any payment and the claim of the employees should be rejected.

On the date of hearing on 20th July 1957, the parties appeared and filed a joint petition of compromise in amicable settlement of the dispute. This petition of compromise appears as Appedix A to this award. On a perusal of the compromise petition in Appendix A, it appears that the terms thereof are reasonable and should be accepted.

I, therefore, accept the compromise petition in Appendix A and award accordingly. The compromise petition in Appendix A shall form a part of this award.
